

Road show impacts

Bhubaneswar(KCN): Did the BJP's National Executive Meeting in Odisha State Capital have any impact on the State Politics?

The political pundits are making calculations as soon as the saffron party winded up its two-day session of highest policy making body on April 16 evening.

While the BJP leaders claim it to a big success and had its impact, BJD President and Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik rejected it.

"The BJP Meet had no impact on the people of Odisha," Naveen Patnaik maintained.

A close study on the BJP's mega event, however, revealed that the Executive Meet had some impact mostly due to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's most successful Road Show and nothing else.

People in large number were happy because they saw a Prime Minister of India walking on the streets of Bhubaneswar and shaking hands with them freely.

They enjoyed his warm company and chanted "Modi" "Modi". People from farflung areas including Mayurbhanj and Malkangiri came down to Capital City to have a glimpse of their popular leader.

State government focus on clean AMRUT implementation

BHUBANESWAR(KCN): As the Union Urban Development Ministry is set to celebrate the second anniversary of Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation (AMRUT) on June 25, the State Government has emphasised to integrate Swachh Bharat Mission (SBM) and Faecal Sludge and Septage Management (FSSM).

According a review of FSSM in nine towns where the AMRUT is implemented, it was found that the current septage treatment plants may not be able to handle undigested faecal sludge as the plants are designed to receive septage only. Most of the septic tanks are unable to do primary digestion due to poor design of containment unit at households.

An official, who was present during the review, said the technical support unit (TSU) has been asked to consult with design engineers of Odisha Water Supply and Sewerage Board (OWSSB) and come up with fresh design.

Meanwhile, the Housing and Urban Development Department has taken steps for tracking of cess-pool vehicles with GPS device. BJD tries to reinvigorate grassroots connect in Odisha BHUBANESWAR(KCN): With the two-day national executive committee meeting of BJP successfully creating a hype over the growing profile of the party in Odisha, the ruling BJD is trying to reinvigorate its grassroots connect using the Biju Patnaik card.

The decision to observe the 20th death anniversary of the legendary leader in a grand manner on Monday by holding the Jiban Bindu programmes for blood donation at the State, district and block levels is a clear indication of the ruling dispensation making efforts to revitalise its cadre.

While death anniversary of Biju Patnaik is observed by the party every year, this time, ministers and MLAs will be present in the functions at the district and block levels while Chief Minister

Naveen Patnaik will attend a spate of events at the capital city here as well as at Puri. Taking the opportunity of the day, the ruling party has decided to counter the charges of BJP during the national executive meeting about the poverty figures in Odisha and the number of families not having drinking water facilities and electricity connection in their houses.

The figures released by BJP spokespersons that 46 percent of people of Odisha are below facility are not correct, BJD spokesperson Pratap Deb told the New Indian Express. "Odisha is way ahead of BJP rules states Chhattisgarh and Jharkhand in these parameters," Deb said describing the statistics released by the saffron party as misleading.

Besides, BJD has decided to revive its stand of central neglect in a forceful manner. Several statewide programmes are also being lined up to be held in the coming days following the two day national executive of the BJD.

The BJD has hit the streets over reduction of kerosene quota by organising protest rallies for three days at Bhubaneswar, Berhampur and Sambalpur. Sources said other issues including unilateral construction of Polavaram dam project by Andhra Pradesh and Mahanadi river water dispute with Chhattisgarh will be raised subsequently.

The CM has already given an indication to his partymen about future course of action by raising the demand for special category state status for Odisha and Mahanadi river water dispute with Chhattisgarh at the Inter-State Council (ISC) standing committee meeting at New Delhi on April 9.

BJP Shows OBC Card

Bhubaneswar(KCN): Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) today blasted opposition parties, including the Congress, for stalling a "historic" bill granting constitutional status to the OBC Commission and asserted that the NDA Government is firm on its resolve to ensure justice to the people of Backward Castes.

Seeking to consolidate its support among the Other Backward Caste (OBC), it passed a separate resolution at its National Executive Committee (NEC) meeting appreciating Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who comes from an OBC caste, for the legislation and condemning rivals for blocking it in the Rajya Sabha, said Union HRD Minister, Prakash Javadekar, while briefing Media on NEC Resolutions.

The OBCs, constituting over 52 percent of population, are vital to BJP's fortunes and a large chunk of them had remained indifferent to it before its concerted bid to woo them bore fruits under Mr. Modi in the 2014 Lok Sabha polls and then in the recent Uttar Pradesh Legislative Assembly elections.

"It is a must to grant the OBC Commission constitutional status. It will give them justice and help create an equal society. The Congress and other parties have proved that they may preach social justice but practise only vote bank politics. The Congress did not do justice to them when it was in power and continues to do so now," Mr. Javadekar told Media Men.

The present Commission is "powerless" and cannot do justice to the OBCs, he said, adding that the Union Government is firm on the bill's passage. It will give the commission where the BJP enjoys a big majority, passed the constitutional amendment bill during the recent Budget Session but the Rajya Sabha, where it is short of a simple majority, stalled it and sent to a parliamentary committee for review and recommendations.

Hitting out the opposition Congress, the resolution said opposing a decision aimed at improving the living conditions of backward people cannot be termed right and the people sidelined for long should now get their due in the society.

It is yet another pro-poor move by the Modi Government, the Minister said, adding that various bodies, including the Mandal commission, had made such a suggestion.

The resolution moved by Hukumdev Narayan Yadav and seconded by the party's senior OBC leaders, including Madhya Pradesh and Jharkhand Chief Ministers Shivraj Singh Chouhan and Raghubar Das.

Mumbai: Actress Taapsee Pannu wants to explore the commercial film space with 'Judwaa 2' and says she wants to look her glamorous best in the sequel.

Known for her hard-hitting performances in films like 'Baby' and 'Pink', Taapsee set off on her Bollywood journey with David Dhawan's 'Chashme Baddoor' in 2013.

Four years later, she is now set to collaborate with him again for 'Judwaa 2'.

Chennai's Integral Coach Factory eyes Metro train market in India

CHENNAI(KCN): here is eyeing the opment Ministry and

The country's leading railway coach manufacturers Integral Coach Factory (ICF) is in touch with the Union Urban Development Ministry and ICF General Manager S Mani said the coach manufacturer was currently making coaches for the Kolkata Metro and that they wanted to cater to others also after that. "We have an order for 24 trains for Kolkata Metro and want to deliver the first set by March 2019. We want to show that we have done it and want to strongly get into the Metro train market. We are in touch with the Urban Development Ministry and states," he said.

turer was currently making coaches for the Kolkata Metro and that they wanted to cater to others also after that. "We have an order for 24 trains for Kolkata Metro and want to deliver the first set by March 2019. We want to show that we have done it and want to strongly get into the Metro train market. We are in touch with the Urban Development Ministry and states," he said.

Many Indian states including Uttar Pradesh are mulling new Metro train routes even as people from Tier II cities like Coimbatore in Tamil Nadu have been seeking Metro service.

Addressing a press meet organised to highlight ICF's performance for the year 2016-17, Mani, however, did not quantify the size of the domestic Metro train market.

LC Trivedi, Chief Mechanical Engineer, ICF, said while the cost of a single metro coach globally was about Rs 10-11 crore, ICF was trying to cut it by 40 per cent. The focus was on making the coaches indigenously by using locally-procured material for manufacture, he said.

Mani said ICF was also focusing on high-speed trains, called Train 18 which could clock 160 kph, and is likely to be rolled out next March. Further, ICF had export orders for Sri Lanka for 13 trains and the first train was expected to be handed over by the end of this financial year, he said, adding, more orders were expected from the island nation as well as from Bangladesh.

Detailing ICF's performance for the year 2016-17, he said the annual 'outturn', i.e. number of coaches manufactured, had increased to 2,277 from 2,005 the previous year, registering a 14 per cent growth. The target was 2,400 coaches in the coming years, he said.

The city-based plant was switching over to making modern LHB German design coaches, replacing the conventional "ICF Coaches", especially after the recent Kanpur train accident, he said.

Trivedi said nearly Rs 1,000 crore of capital infusion has been made into ICF in the past three years on modernisation, which had helped increase output.

Wall Street down after weak jobs, Fed comments on banks balance sheet, Syria airstrikes

NEW YORK: Wall Street's three major indexes edged lower on Friday in a choppy session as investors grappled with a weaker-than-expected job report, the U.S. airstrike in Syria and a top Federal Reserve official's comments on trimming the U.S. central bank's balance sheet.

Investors were trying to work out how the developments would affect U.S. President Donald Trump's ability to proceed with his pro-business agenda.

The market rallied sharply after Trump's Nov. 8 election on his promises for tax cuts, spending and lighter regulation, but investors increasingly have been questioning whether the proposals would ever materialise.

"You had so many confusing things happening today. The employment number was certainly surprising. The U.S. airstrike was surprising. People were trying to figure out what that meant," said Rick Meckler, president of investment firm LibertyView Capital Management in Jersey City, New Jersey.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average was down 6.85 points, or 0.03 per cent, at 20,656.1, the S&P 500 lost 1.95 points, or 0.08 per cent, to 2,355.54 and the Nasdaq Composite dropped 1.14 points, or 0.02 per cent, to 5,877.81.

All three indexes ended slightly lower for the week. Six of the S&P's 11 major sectors ended down on the day.

U.S. employers added about 98,000 jobs in March, the fewest since last May and well below economists' expectation of 180,000, as bad weather hit construction hiring. However, wage growth edged up and unemployment fell.

New York Fed President William Dudley on Friday shed more light on the U.S. central bank's developing plan for when to stop replacing bonds that expire in its portfolio, how to execute it, and how far it would ultimately shrink its balance sheet.

U.S. Treasury yields rose after Dudley's remarks, which helped push equities lower, according to Paul Zensky, chief investment officer, Multi-Asset Strategies and Solutions, at Voya Investment Management in New York.

LibertyView's Meckler said Dudley's remarks were not earth-shattering but "small statements are having a magnified affect because investors are worried."

The United States, in a pre-dawn strike, fired missiles at an airfield from which it said a deadly poison gas attack was launched this week.

In the coming days it "will be interesting to watch to see if (Syria) does grab more attention from the White House and delay some of these other issues and programs they are trying to get passed through here," said Sean Lynch, co-head of global equity strategy at Wells Fargo Investment Institute in Omaha, Nebraska said.

Softbank-backed Ola ramps up electric vehicles push in India

NEW DELHI(KCN): Indian ride-hailing firm Ola, backed by Japan's Softbank Group, is preparing for a large-scale rollout of electric vehicles by next year even as it runs trials on the viability of the business model, Chief Executive Bhavish Aggarwal said.

Ola will pilot a few thousand electric vehicles in several Indian cities this year and, "after that we will be scaling it up in a major way," Aggarwal said in an interview on Friday.

The company will also invest in setting up charging stations in the pilot cities, he said, without saying how much Ola would invest in its electrification drive. Ola's push comes as sales of electric vehicles in India have remained slow, despite government incentives to curb pollution.

In the year ended March 2016, 22,000 electric vehicles were sold in India, whereas sales of conventionally fuelled vehicles crossed 20 million units in the same period.

India is targeting

6 million electric vehicles on the road by 2020, but high battery costs, a lack of charging stations and the limited range of the vehicles is still a deterrent.

Aggarwal, however, has the backing of one of Ola's biggest investors - Softbank.

In December, Softbank Group chairman Masayoshi Son said Ola may introduce one million electric vehicles in India over the next five years, according to local media reports.

"We're able to leverage their (Softbank's) network and scale of operations around the world," Aggarwal said, adding that Ola was also talking to automakers globally about strategic tie-ups.

In India's $12 billion taxi market where Ola vies with ride-hailing giant Uber, the push into electric vehicles is also a way for the Indian start-up to lower the cost of car ownership, once battery costs start to come down.

The company is expected to be profitable in 18-24 months, Aggarwal said.

LEAP OF FAITH

In the next few weeks the first wave of electric vehicles under Ola's pilot scheme, including two-wheelers, rickshaws and cars, will roll out in the southern state of Telangana and Nagpur city in central India.

The main challenge for Ola is the lack of charging stations and the limited range of vehicles given taxis travel about 150-200 km daily.

Aggarwal said for the pilot Ola was using modified versions of existing models, but its goal remained to operate a vehicle for an entire

RBI projects inflation to rise to 5 percent

MUMBAI(KCN): The Reserve Bank today projected retail inflation to increase to 5 per cent in the second half of the current fiscal citing risks of El Nino impacting the monsoon and one-off effects of the Goods and Services Tax.

"For 2017-18, inflation is projected to average 4.5 per cent in the first half of the year and 5 per cent in the second half," said the RBI's first bi-monthly monetary policy statement for 2017-18. Risks are evenly balanced around the inflation trajectory at the current juncture and there are upside risks to the baseline projection, it said.

A proactive supply management will play a critical role in staving off pressures on headline inflation, it added. RBI further said that a prominent risk could emanate from managing the implementation of the allowances recommended by the 7th Central Pay Commission (CPC).

Also, upside risk arises from the one-off effects of the GST, said the policy statement. The new indirect tax regime is likely to be implemented from July 1. On the downside, RBI said international crude prices have been easing recently and their pass-through to domestic prices of petroleum products should alleviate pressure on headline inflation.

come in no later than no.3. On a day when either Samson or Billings fail, it's important to have some-much better place than where they were last year. The Zaheer Khan-led unit was hit by two big injuries, in the batting department, before the season got underway but the youngsters have stepped up and delivered for the team. Quinton de Kock and JP Duminy were two huge blows but the likes of Sanju Samson, Sam Billings and Rishabh Pant have certainly delivered the goods.

A quick look at Delhi's squad won't give you many big batting names to lose sleep over but there are plenty of match-winners, who have been consistent scorers in the domestic set-up, in the ranks. (Results | Fixtures | Points Table) Samson, who had a forgettable domestic run, has looked a different player and announced himself on the stage with a hundred in as early as the ninth game of the Indian Premier League.

Even after so much talent, Delhi are not being able to get the kind of scores, and impact, they should with the bat. The batting order remains a concern for them. With so much promise around, it's important to give the right player right number of deliveries to face.

Aditya Tare was experimented with Billings at top for first two games but the former's exclusion after twin failures led to promotion for Samson, and the right-hander made most of the opportunity. While Billings and Samson at top makes a lot of sense, it's the batsmen to follow who need the right spots to bat. After another failure for Karun Nair, the struggling 21 off 27 against KKR, it's matter of time before he makes way for an all-rounder. Someone like Shreyas Iyer, who is back after recovering from chicken pox, needs to one who can make most of the fielding restrictions and bat long.

There is no reason why the Delhi think-tank should demote Pant in the order. A batsman like him can change the complexion of the game if he gets enough deliveries to do so. He showed that in the game against KKR with a 16-ball 38. In the same game, Angelo Mathews coming ahead of Chris Morris made very little sense. It wasn't a wise call to keep someone like Morris, who is hitting the ball as well as you would like this season, to keep waiting for the chance to bat.

Still early days in the competition, Delhi should look to sort their top-order act and keep rotating the lower-order according to situation. It makes very little sense to not give enough deliveries to batsmen like Pant and Morris.

LEICESTER: Leicester City must strike the right balance both emotionally and tactically if they are to conquer battle-hardened Atletico Madrid in their Champions League quarter-final, manager Craig Shakespeare said on Monday.

Leicester approach Tuesday's return leg trailing 1-0 after Antoine Griezmann's disputed penalty in Madrid last week gave Atletico a slender advantage.

The King Power Stadium is likely to be rocking as Leicester go in search of another fairytale, but Shakespeare said it will be important for his players to keep their cool.

"As players, you have to get the right balance, but I think I've got that within the squad," he told reporters during his

Balance key to outfoxing Atletico Madrid: Leicester City manager Shakespeare

pre-match press conference.

"I don't have a real problem with that. You have to have that fire in your belly, but you also have to have cool, smart heads at times.

"We've proved over the last 18 months that we're more than capable of that."

Shakespeare revealed that captain Wes Morgan will undergo a late fitness test on the morning of the game.

The centre-back has missed Leicester's last six matches due to a nerve problem in his back but has taken part in the squad's last three training sessions.

Shakespeare is already without his other first-choice centre-back, Robert Huth, due to suspension.

Yohan Ben-

alouane, who has been deputising for Morgan, came off due to cramp during Saturday's 2-2 draw at Crystal Palace, but Shakespeare said he had trained without any problems on Monday. Leicester overcame a one-goal deficit to defeat Sevilla in the previous round, although on that occasion they went into the home leg with an away goal under their belts.
