

On My Way.....

By Santyona Jena

Closing my eye,
Having a glance at myself,
And found myself walking,
On the adventurous path of life.

On the road of ups and downs,
Exploring the challenges and cheers,
And moving forward with all my strength,
Facing the difficulties and my fears.
Trying to go forward but falls again and again,
Just like a child with tiny feet,
Then gets up gathering my courage,
And again starts walking on the street.

Walks on the clear path easily,
But slows down when comes a turn,
And these turns are our teachers,
From whom there are many things to learn.

This adorable journey of life,
Is full of joys and miseries,
Which will end as wished by our fate,
With many beautiful and splendid memories!

I am a "TREE"

Dr. Arundhati Devi

I am playful and happy as it is summer time,
But I feel thirsty this entire time,
I don't bother if I don't get any water,
As its everyone's love that fills my stomach all time.

I feel so nice and happy when the wind blows,
As I am able to dance during that course.

I get bored if nobody is around,
But I become happier when my children gather around.

I don't feel like eating anything alone,
As its the fruits which I am happier to share with my hearts known.

I give love and protection to all,
I am a "TREE", who is guided by the natures divine call.

Amruta Priyambada Bhuyan

Brown and bold
Yet rich and deep Stood these eyes
Unloved and free
The most beautiful eyes of all
With a colour so full and pure
But what many know
When shown in light,
These eyes, are sight
With a various shades
Are the browns to crackle
Attracting & Stunning with the power
They hold, is a secret to be hold
Do not ever underestimate brown eyes
For they can bring you down to your knees
With their strength beneath.

Begum Hazrat Mahal: The Revolutionary Queen of Awadh

Begum Hazrat Mahal was one of the few women who challenged the British during the revolt of 1857. Her maiden name was Muhammadi Khanum. She was born at Faizabad, Awadh. Later in life, she performed a mut'ah marriage with Nawab Wajid Ali Shah. Awadh was annexed by the British East India Company in 1856 and Nawab Wajid Ali Shah, the last Nawab of Awadh was sent into exile to Calcutta. Hazrat Mahal decided to stay back in Lucknow along with her son Birjis Qadir.

After the absorption of Awadh, a rebellion broke out at Meerut and the banner of revolt was raised in Lucknow which spread rapidly to other towns of Awadh. Lucknow was the only place where the English did not leave the Residency building and faced the rebels until they were able to regain their lost power.

Hazrat Mahal was one of the primary figures in bringing about this uprising. "She has excited all Oudh," says Russell. Her closest allies were Nana Saheb and Maulvi Ahmadullah Shah. Outram and Havelock arrived from Kanpur to relieve the British Garrison in the Residency of Lucknow. After a few encounters with the rebels, Outram was able to occupy Alum Bagh (a garden in the suburb of Lucknow) on September 23, 1857.

The victory of the English in Kanpur was another setback to her plans. In the month of November Sir Colin Campbell, Commander in Chief of the British Forces along with a small reinforcement arrived at Lucknow. Begum faced the enemy in a fierce fight but her position grew weaker. In spite of the resistance put up by the Begum, the English Commander was able to escort the besieged garrison out of the residency to Alum Bagh during which a few British officers were killed and wounded.

Begum Hazrat Mahal often called meetings to encourage soldiers, asking them to be brave and fight for the cause. She wrote letters of instruction for the movement and is reported to have appeared on the battlefield on February 25, 1858, mounted on an elephant. Alum Bagh was attacked by a force sometimes led by Maulvi Ahmadullah Shah and at other times by the Begum in person but the British succeeded in defeating the rebel force.

Despite the terms offered by the British authorities that "the Begum Hazrat Mahal will receive all the considerations which are due to her as a woman and a member of a Royal house, Begum Hazrat Mahal did not surrender to them.

After the outbreak was quelled, the Queen of England issued a proclamation to appease the people of British India. As a response to this, Begum Hazrat Mahal issued a counter-proclamation and warned the people not to have faith in these promises "for it is the unvarying custom of the English never to forgive a fault be it great or small." The Begum tried to come back to India in 1877 but orders were issued, whereby any request made by either Birjis Qadir or his mother to enter British India would not be entertained.

The Government of India put up a condition that if they did enter the territory of the British Government they would not receive any assistance or allowance from the Government and would be under the surveillance of the magistrate of the district in which they might take up a residence.

A Good Book that deserves Applause

Prof. MANAS RANJAN MAHAPATRA

verse in any one of the Indian languages. I may quote here what 'Mary Oliver', a great American Poet looked at the vast domain of poems. "Poetry is a river; many voices travel in it; poem after poem moves along in the exciting crests and falls of the river waves. None is timeless; each arrives in an historical context; almost everything, in the end, passes. But the desire to make a poem, and the world's willingness to receive it--indeed the world's need of it--these never pass." It was a wonderful experience to read poems of Dr Ajit Kumar Mahapatra. He is an existentialist poet who believes in humanity. I am highly impressed by his poems. As felt by Shelley, poets are the unrecognised ambassadors of humanity and Mahapatra's poems are in conformity of this truth.

Language is our Lifeline. Odisha is going to complete 88 years as a state on the basis of language on 1 April 2024. It was eventually the first state in India formed on the basis of language. Odia has now been recognised as a Classical Language. Dr Mahapatra writes in English, but he belongs to the great Odia tradition of poetry. The anthology 'Seeing the World' by Dr Ajit Kumar Mahapatra is a mix of Odia culture and World View. Poems in this anthology speak of a broader horizon of knowledge. Mahapatra has reflected his mind on a series of topics, from Pandemic to Lord Jagannath, from love to struggle for freedom.

In nutshell, it's a complete book that will make the readers joyful. A poetic creation surfaced in a supremely balanced way on the scoreline fragrance of humanity and divinity. The touch and the quantum of space you have inserted through the enchanted tune of message what make this creation a supremely special one having the slice of impact on a wider scale.

Despite colossal universal loss of manpower during ravaging Covid-19 available online many readers got excited and appreciated. His poems cover a large variety of subjects, such as, climate change, current social issues, spiritualism & Indian festivals. His poems definitely invigorate reader's mind with a touch of creative science mingled with healing love.

Ali Abbas Zafar says why he retained 'Bade Miyan Chote Miyan' title for his next Ali Abbas Zafar recently talked about why he chose to retain the iconic title 'Bade Miyan Chote Miyan' for his upcoming film, much to the curiosity of fans and critics alike. The director, who is known for delivering blockbuster hits, has recently stirred up excitement among Bollywood enthusiasts for his upcoming action thriller, starring Akshay Kumar, Tiger Shroff and Prithviraj Sukumaran.

In a recent interview, Zafar shed light on the reason behind his decision to retain this classic title for his action-packed spectacle. The title 'Bade Miyan Chote Miyan,' was originally associated with the 1998 comedy film starring Amitabh Bachchan and Govinda. Speaking about the same, Ali told IndiaToday.in, "Well there is a connection which will be revealed in the film. So when you come and watch the film you will know why it is called 'Bade Miyan Chote Miyan.' I would say that this film had a certain vision and the way the producers of this film, Jackky Bhagnani, Vashu Bhagnani, and Himanshu, all supported this film, it wouldn't have been possible if you didn't have producers like that backing in this version."

Further speaking about the film he said, "Jackky called me one day I was shooting in Abu Dhabi, and he said that I have something to offer you.

He and I have been jamming to do something together. And one day he used this line, 'I will make you an offer that you will not be able to refuse' from the 'Godfather'. So I said ok, tell me what is that? He said, do you like making action films? I said yes. I like making action films. So just imagine if, in an action same time, it's so bizarre that I was working on a two-hero film with a crazy mad villain. I always call him an anti-hero more than a villain. Then, somewhere or another, that conversation stayed with me."

He adds, "Then he called me again a week later and by that time I really thought it through that how we can do this thing with Akshay and Tiger. And then he said that it's my father's dream to call this film 'Bade Miyan Chote Miyan'. So I said, you've got such a great offer served on a platter to me. I would respect that. Later we made changes to the script. So when you watch the film you will understand why it is called BMCM, but it is very special how it comes in the film."

Raashii Khanna reacts to 'Yodha's' underwhelming performance at box office

Raashii Khanna reacted to the underwhelming performance of 'Yodha' at the box office. The film, which also features Sidharth Malhotra, was a highly anticipated film and generated considerable buzz prior to its release. However, not every film achieves the desired commercial success, despite the talent and efforts invested in its making. 'Yodha' failed to make a significant impact at the box office and struggled to attract audiences to theatres, resulting in disappointing ticket sales and overall lacklustre performance in terms of box office revenue. Now in an exclusive interview with India Today.in, Raashii Khanna opened up about her thoughts on the underwhelming performance of 'Yodha' at the box office. The actor acknowledged the disappointment surrounding the film's reception but remained optimistic about the creative journey and the experience gained through the project.

She said, "Maybe there's somebody who loves it, then somebody who hates it. There'll always be all kinds of people, but obviously, we want, when the film is released, a lot of people should like it. I think the challenge has been to bring them to theatres still, because now everyone knows that the film will be released on OTT. So that is a challenge that even people face. I also sometimes do it, but that's also because I am always occupied. But I know people, in general, are very occupied today, so bringing them to theatres is a problem. I don't think 'Yodha' is a bad film at all, so that's fine. I think every film has its destiny, and you just learn from it and then move on to your next. That's all we can do."

Even though the film

couldn't work

commercially, Raashii was praised for her performance. Speaking about it, she said, "You love the fact that it has received love because that's what you work so hard for. But apart from that, my job is always to deliver my best and to see that the audience is enjoying my part as well. Because if a film works, but you don't work, then that's sad in a way. So I'm really happy with the reactions I'm getting. I'm really happy that people are really loving me, coming back into Hindi films, and seeing me on the big screen. I was also very, very happy to see myself on the big screen in Hindi. This is amazing. It was a very nice moment and a very nice feeling that I had."

Yodha released in theatres on March 15.

Rajshri Deshpande Unveils Teaser Of Her Dark Social Thriller 'Privacy'

The first teaser of writer/director Sudeep Kanwal's 'Privacy' was just released. Rajshri Deshpande can be seen playing a voyeur in this dark social thriller, set in the slums of Mumbai. The teaser of the film looks compelling and promises an intriguing watch. It gives a chilling insight into how surveillance cameras capture more than just public spaces.

'Privacy' is a hard-hitting thriller that revolves around a distressed surveillance center operator based in Mumbai, who begins investigating unusual events that take place on her watch. The film is set to have its World Premiere at the 27th edition of the Bucheon International Film Festival (BiFan), Asia's largest genre cinema event. Filmmaker Sudeep Kanwal shared his treatment of the screenplay. He said, "Rather than making a techno noir, I wanted to keep the look and feel of 'Privacy' realistic. I wanted to focus on the character rather than the technology. From the control room design, makeup, to costumes, we decided to keep everything very grounded. We shot at real locations as much as possible. The actors spent time with real people who shared similar lifestyles & professions as their characters."

Rajshri Deshpande added, "Playing Roopali felt like an emotional roller coaster. Sudeep and I discussed that we wanted to keep the performance nuanced. The film is very visual, with little dialog. There are many subtle elements in the film which the viewer can only catch if they are watching closely. Just like Roopali."

Grammys Reduce Nominees From 10 to 8 In Top 4 Award Categories

Grammys has announced to reduce the number of nominees in four of its award categories - Album, Song, Record of the Year, and Best New Artist - from 10 to 8, Variety reported on Friday. An announcement in this regard was made after the Recording Academy updated its rules and guidelines following its semiannual board of trustees meeting.

The number of nominees for those categories was increased from eight to ten in November 2021, just before the nominees for 2022 were announced -- a surprising and perplexing turn of events, given that such changes usually occur after the annual board meetings, Variety reported. While three new award categories were announced earlier this week, the reduction in the number of nominees in four award categories was announced on Friday. An Artificial Intelligence (AI)-related rule was also introduced, effectively stating that only human creators are eligible for awards; however, as with all things AI, the vast possibilities that the technology makes possible in this still-developing area necessitate an extensive series of caveats, Variety further reported. While Recording Academy CEO Harvey Mason Jr. stated at the time that the change was "an incredible opportunity for us to honour more artists and shine a light on more great music, and potentially offer a greater chance for more genres of music to be honoured", some speculated that it was done to ensure Taylor Swift received a best new album nomination for her album 'Evermore' and thus increase the chance that she would appear on the show and boost its rating, as reported by Variety.

The Rooster's Dilemma: Navigating Life's Unreasonable Expectations

"In the middle of difficulty lies opportunity." - Albert Einstein

Once in a tranquil village, there lived a person who owned a rooster. This rooster was not just any rooster; it was the village's timekeeper, its call at dawn a signal to prayer for the beginning of each new day. However, a peculiar whim struck the owner one day—a decision that would set off a chain of events with unexpected lessons. The owner approached the rooster with a grave command: "From tomorrow, you must not give the call to prayer, or else I will have no choice but to slaughter you." The rooster, with a heavy heart, agreed, wishing to appease its master, "As you wish, master!"

Dawn came, and the village woke to an unusual silence. The rooster, true to its word, did not utter the call to prayer. However, bound by habit, it couldn't help but flap its wings vigorously. Observing this, the owner was not pleased and set forth a new rule, "From tomorrow, you must not even flap your wings, or the consequence will be dire." The next morning, the rooster remained motionless, not daring to flap its wings. Yet, instinctively, it stretched its neck high into the air, an act that once again caught the owner's eye. "From tomorrow, you must not move your neck," the owner decreed, hoping to curb any semblance of the rooster's natural instincts. On the following day, at the break of dawn, the rooster sat completely silent, not moving a muscle, a mere shadow of itself. The owner, however, found this new behavior unsettling and far from satisfactory. In a final, unreasonable demand, the owner declared, "From tomorrow, you must lay an egg in the morning, or else you will be slaughtered." Facing this impossible task, the rooster was overwhelmed with sorrow. Its tears flowed freely, not from the fear of death but from the realization of its predicament. When the owner inquired about the reason for its tears, the rooster's reply was profound and laden with meaning: "No, I am not crying because I'm afraid of dying. I am crying because dying for the call to prayer would have been better than for an egg." This simple yet profound story echoes a powerful lesson on the nature of existence and the search for meaning. It reminds us that in our efforts to conform to the unreasonable demands placed upon us, whether by society or by those in authority over us, we may lose sight of our true purpose. Like the rooster, we each have our unique call to fulfill in this world—a purpose that defines us when faced with the greatest of challenges. Through the lens of this allegory, we delve lies in our authenticity. The moment we lose sight of our essence to appease others, we drift further from our own path.

Life Lesson 2: Recognize the Absurdity of Unreasonable Expectations

The evolving demands placed upon the rooster echo the sometimes-absurd expectations society foists upon us. Whether it's the pursuit of an unblemished life or a role that ill-fits our nature, such pressures can lead us into a quagmire of stress and disillusionment. Recognizing the absurdity of these demands is the first step toward liberating ourselves from them.

Life Lesson 3: Cultivate Resilience Amidst Absurdity

"The human capacity for burden is like bamboo – far more flexible than you'd ever believe at first glance." - Jodi Picoult

The rooster's attempts to meet each new demand, no matter how ludicrous, reflect our own tenacity in the and gives our lives meaning. It's a poignant reminder that it is far better to face challenges, even death, with dignity and in alignment with our true nature, rather than compromise our essence for unattainable or unnatural expectations. In the end, the essence of our being and the integrity of our actions define us far more profoundly than any forced conformity ever could. Like the rooster, let us find the courage to sing our unique song, even into the core lessons life imparts in the journey toward self-discovery and authenticity amidst the clamor of external expectations.

Life Lesson 1: Embrace Your Authenticity

"To thine own self be true." - William Shakespeare

The rooster's story begins with its natural call, a reminder of the paramount importance of embracing our true selves.

In a world that often pushes us toward conformity, our greatest strength face of life's challenges. This resilience, while admirable, also serves as a cautionary tale of the importance of discerning when to push back, set boundaries, and say no to the impossible.

Life Lesson 4: Confronting Our Reality with Courage In its final moments, the rooster's reflection on the futility of its efforts to meet an impossible demand illuminates the importance of confronting our realities, no matter how stark. This confrontation is not a sign of defeat but a courageous acceptance of our limitations and the beginning of true wisdom.

Life Lesson 5: Striving for Meaningful Endeavors

"What we have done for ourselves alone dies with us; what we have done for others and the world remains and is immortal." - Albert Pike

The rooster's yearning to have died for something as meaningful as its call to prayer, rather than an impossible task, underscores the essence their efforts yield correct answers. Striking a balance between these two aspects is paramount for achieving a high score and securing admission to esteemed engineering colleges.

Strategies to enhance speed and accuracy

Mastering the basics

Prior to grappling with advanced concepts, it is vital to establish a robust understanding of the fundamental topics within the JEE syllabus. By revisiting essential concepts, formulas, and theories, candidates can fortify their foundation, enabling them to solve questions more efficiently and minimize the likelihood of errors.

Explore effective strategies for enhancing both speed and accuracy in the JEE Main exam, ultimately improving candidates' chances of success.

Recognising the significance of speed and accuracy

Before diving into strategies, it's crucial to grasp the importance of speed and accuracy in the JEE Main exam. Speed ensures that candidates can attempt all questions within the allocated time, while accuracy ensures that portion of time to solving practice papers, previous year's question papers, and mock tests. Engaging in regular practice familiarises candidates with the exam pattern, boosts confidence, and facilitates quicker and more accurate solutions.

Replicating exam conditions time-saving techniques, shortcuts, and problem-solving strategies for various question types. Implementing these methods can significantly reduce the time spent on complex problems, allowing for more time allocation to other questions.

Prioritising easy questions accuracy. Believing in one's preparation and maintaining composure during the exam are crucial. Overthinking or becoming flustered by difficult questions can lead to errors. Remaining optimistic and, when encountering tough questions, moving on and revisiting them elimination. By eliminating clearly incorrect options, the likelihood of selecting the right answer among the remaining choices increases.

Emphasising neatness

Write legibly and maintain organised workings, particularly in subjects like Mathematics and Physics that involve calculations. A tidy presentation reduces the risk of misinterpreting one's handwriting, thereby ensuring accuracy in answers.

Analysing mistakes

After each practice session or mock test, conduct a thorough analysis of errors. Understanding missed concepts and the reasons behind errors aids in avoiding repetition of the same mistakes and reinforces comprehension of subject matter.

Success in the JEE Main exam necessitates a holistic approach that encompasses a profound grasp of concepts, effective time management, and diligent practice.

During practice sessions, recreate the exam environment by sitting in a quiet room devoid of distractions, adhering strictly to allotted section times, and following exam regulations. This practice cultivates mental endurance, enabling candidates to stay focused and maintain a high level of accuracy even under pressure.

Utilizing shortcuts and techniques

Acquaint yourself with Quickly scan through the questions at the outset of the JEE Main exam and identify those that appear relatively simpler. Resolve these questions first, as they can be tackled swiftly, thereby allowing more time for addressing challenging ones.

Maintaining a positive mindset

A positive mindset plays a pivotal role in enhancing speed and later is advisable.

Practicing timed tests

Regularly undertaking timed practice tests aids in acclimatizing to solving questions within stipulated timeframes. Analyzing performance after each test helps identify areas for improvement in both speed and accuracy.

Employing the elimination technique

When uncertain about the correct answer, utilize the process of Summer vacation is on and there is a heavy hike in the number of passengers travelling by railways. As the railways is the cheapest the number of passengers travelling by trains have rocketed up like anything. But travelling by train has become a nightmare nowadays due to overcrowded compartments causing suffocation and congestion.

To avoid over crowded compartments and for some comfortability most of the passengers reserve seats and berths even though it costs more than ordinary tickets. But once the reserved passenger boards the train he gets the shock of his life - seats already 'occupied' by passengers either holding ordinary tickets or some times "without tickets"! And then the passenger holding the reserved ticket , to get his seat or berth will have to request, plead and beg the 'usurpers' to leave the seat or berth conquered. Some times he gets it, after a hot brawl or with some muscle power! Most of the trains do have reserved bogies but it is better to call it "special bogies meant for all". Earlier TTEs and RPF personnel used to prevent and drive away commuters having 'unreserved tickets' barging into reserved bogies but now, it seems, after bitter incidents involving TTE-passengers fights and fracas, TTEs have become just scarecrows with "you -sit -wherever -you- want" attitude!

In a recent incident a travelling ticket examiner (TTE) died after he was pushed from a running train by a ticketless passenger near Thrissur , Kerala exposing how dangerous the situation is even for officials.

It is really sad that when it comes to rail travel some people, even the educated lot who boast as highly cultured and highly educated turn out to be "pucca illiterates" and unaware about the norms and ethics about rail travelling. Unless and until people are made aware about rail rules , regulations and ethics , unless fines are imposed and strict measures taken instantly , reserved passengers are sure to have cheerless, uncomfortable 'asubh yatras'.

Sukhbir Badal appeals to Punjabis to strengthen the regional party to save Punjab

Chandigarh (JAG MOHAN THAKEN), April 3 – Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) president Sukhbir Singh Badal on Wednesday appealed to Punjabis to support the SAD to save Punjab from the onslaught of outsiders asserting Delhi based parties did not want to win hearts but subjugate Punjab.

Stating that the SAD was the true heir to the philosophy of the Guru Sahib and believed in 'sarbat da bhala' and had always practiced what it preached, the SAD president, who visited Sanaur and Ghanur constituencies during his ongoing Punjab Bachao Yatra, appealed to Punjabis to strengthen the regional party to save Punjab. "On one side is your own party which has always taken the poor, kisan, mazdoor and traders along with it in the path to progress, while on the other are centrist forces who want to weaken Punjab and take over its resources".

A press release of the SAD states that Mr Sukhbir Singh Badal, who was met with slogans of "Saada Punjab, Asin Punjab de" besides being presented with a memento of an 'Udta Baj' by the youth contingent, said "both the Congress and the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) have looted you. Both these parties have used the resources of Punjab for their national goals. They have failed to carry out any development or even establish one big infrastructure project. They have persecuted the youth who are asking for jobs and presided over the collapse of law and order and flight of capital from Punjab to other States.

The time has come to rid the State of all centrist parties".

introspect on what change had occurred in Punjab during the last seven years except for collapse of its economy and denial of social welfare benefits to the poorest of the poor. He also questioned the hypocrisy of both the Congress and AAP, saying "while both these parties have formed an alliance at the national level, they are doing a drama of opposing each other in Punjab". He said Punjabis should see through this unholy alliance and teach a befitting lesson to both parties. Asserting that the SAD was committed to taking everyone along in the path of progress as propounded by former chief minister S Parkash Singh Badal, the SAD president said "peace and communal harmony will always remain the cornerstone of our philosophy". Speaking on the occasion, SAD leader Chandumajra said the forthcoming parliamentary elections were an issue of honour for Punjabis. "We are the proud heirs to the legacy of Shaheed Bhagat Singh and Shaheed Udham Singh and it is our duty to do our utmost to restore the pride of Punjab".

KIMS Doctors Cure 61-Year-Old of Prostate Cancer through Advanced Laparoscopic Surgery

Bhubaneswar (KCN): In a major achievement by doctors at the Kalinga Institute of Medical Sciences (KIMS), a 61-year-old male patient has been completely cured of prostate cancer following a sophisticated laparoscopic surgery. He is now able to control his urine and has preserved potency, demonstrating the surgeons' skills and kindling hopes among patients to seek treatment in Odisha instead of traveling to metro cities.

The team of doctors, led by Dr. Sumanta Mishra, Associate Professor and HOD of Urology at KIMS, performed the advanced laparoscopic radical prostatectomy procedure on the patient, who was discharged after four days.

The patient had approached the KIMS Urology Department with symptoms indicative of prostate issues. Elevated levels of Prostate-Specific Antigen (PSA) in his tests raised concerns, leading to a TRUS-guided prostate biopsy and a PSMA PET scan. These advanced diagnostic tools confirmed the presence of localized prostate cancer, offering a clear path toward treatment. This highly specialized laparoscopic radical prostatectomy procedure, which involved the complete removal of the prostate gland along with the cancer cells and reconnecting the urinary bladder to the urethra, allowed the patient to experience a swift recovery and minimal scarring thanks to the precision of laparoscopic surgery. Laparoscopic radical prostatectomy requires advanced laparoscopy skills, a high level of surgical expertise, and cutting-edge equipment. Previously, the scarcity of such specialized services in Odisha compelled patients to travel to metropolitan areas for treatment. However, with the success of this case, KIMS has joined a select few hospitals in Odisha offering advanced prostate cancer treatment. The success was made possible because of the state-of-the-art equipment available at the KIMS cancer center, such as the PSMA PET scan, TRUS-guided biopsy, and a skilled team of urologists led by Dr. Mishra.

The Founder of KIIT and KISS Dr Achyuta Samanta has congratulated the doctors for the pioneering treatment, underlining KIMS focus on advanced care and treatment.

Prostate cancer is the second most common cancer in men and ranks sixth in cancer deaths. About 1 in 8 men will be diagnosed with prostate cancer in their lifetime. Early diagnosis and proper treatment of prostate cancer can save a patient's life. If not diagnosed properly, it can metastasize to bones and other organs, significantly decreasing a patient's lifespan and also the quality of life.

Expect More Mangoes This Year, Despite Heat Waves: Senior Agri Official

New Delhi (KCN): India's overall mango production may increase by about 14 per cent to 24 million tonnes this year, ICAR-Central Institute for Subtropical Horticulture Director T Damodaran said today. The India Meteorological Department's forecast of a heat wave in April-May period may not have a significant impact on the mango yield, provided farmers take care of irrigation during May to reduce excessive fruit dropping, he said.

In its latest summer forecast, India Meteorological Department (IMD) has predicted harsher spells of heat waves that could last between 10-20 days instead of the usual two to four days.

Above normal heatwave days are likely to occur over most parts of the south peninsula, central India, east India and plains of northwest India.

"The mango flowering process is a crucial part of the fruit setting process. Thanks to conducive weather, mango flowering is almost over. The pollination is normal and fruit setting has begun. Normal heat waves may not impact yields but will indirectly help the crop," Mr Damodaran told news agency PTI.

The prospects of mango crop are good as of now.

Total production could increase to 24 million tonnes in the 2023-24 crop year (July-June), as against 21 million tonnes in 2022-23, he said.

Snow-white blossoms blanket Koraput coffee gardens

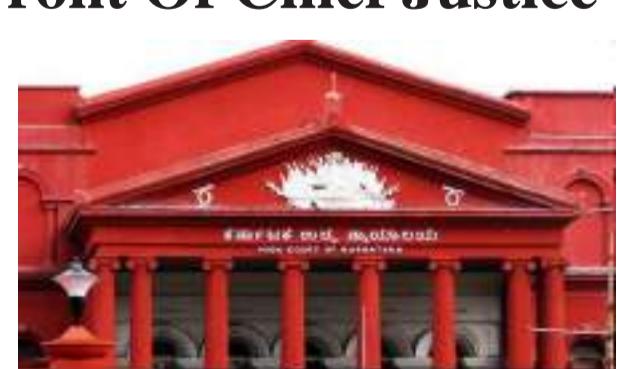

Koraput (KCN): Coffee plants have started flowering in various gardens in Koraput district and are blanketed with beautiful white sheets of blossoms, the usually green gardens draw beelines of nature lovers. Interestingly, this annual scenic phenomenon is short-lived as coffee blossoms wilt just three days after they bloom. As the climate of Koraput is conducive for coffee cultivation, several plantations can be found in Koraput, Dasmantapur, Padua, Laxmipur, Ankadeli, Lamta, Semiliguda, Pottangi, Boipariguda areas of the district.

Upendra Kumar Shah, Public Relations Officer of the Koraput Coffee Board, said that entire coffee gardens get covered in a thick coat of white flowers to welcome the tourists during these days. According to Shah, all the coffee plantations normally flower within a week of the first rain in the month of March.

The aroma of coffee flowers attracts bees and many birds to the

and rushed him to Bowring Hospital, where he is now being treated, a senior police officer said. "We don't know why he took such an extreme step. He entered Court Hall One and slit his throat with a knife. Our security staff saw it happen and immediately record findings and evidence from the spot. The contents of the file that Srinivas gave the security staff are unknown, and the court said it would not check the documents since it was not presented to the court by a designated advocate. The High Court also said that the authorities must not receive any document without the court's order. The police are still trying to find out why the man attempted to die by suicide and are waiting to record his statement once he is declared fit by doctors.

Bengaluru (KCN): A man allegedly attempted to die by suicide inside the Karnataka High Court today by slitting his throat with a knife in front of Chief Justice Nilay Vipinchandra Anjaria in Court Hall One, the police said.

According to the police, Srinivas, who is from Mysuru, handed over a file to the security staff at the entrance of Court Hall One, and before anyone could realise what was happening, he slit his throat in the presence of Chief Justice Anjaria. The security personnel responded immediately

Anti-liquor drives prove futile as sales up 530 lakh litre in 10 years

Jajpur(KCN): Total prohibition and anti-liquor campaigns have proved to be unsuccessful with liquor sales increasing in the state by an additional 530 lakh litres during the last 10 years.

Despite various anti-liquor campaigns and total prohibition programmes being undertaken in the state, reports said liquor sales have gone up exponentially by an additional 530 lakh litres in last 10 years. Growing liquor consumption has resulted in increasing menace of alcoholics and anti-socials.

This has also caused a spurt in road accidents and social unrest while giving rise to immoral acts as well as law and order situations. People have alleged that the state has achieved record liquor sales notwithstanding its development in comparison to other states.

According to reports available from the Excise department, 13,832 lakh litre of various types of liquor has been produced from 2014-15 to December 2023. Similarly, 1,950 lakh litre foreign liquor including beer has been purchased for sale in the state. The report states that

1,607 lakh litre of liquor was sold in the state in 2013-14 FY. This includes 596 lakh litre foreign liquor, 850 lakh litre beer and 161 lakh litre country liquor.

Similarly, liquor sale has increased to 2,137 lakh litre in 2022-23 FY. This includes 785 lakh litre foreign liquor, 1,210 lakh litre beer and 142 lakh litre country liquor. An official of the Excise department said according to the Excise Policy-2021 a number of foreign liquor shops and country liquor shops have been opened at various markets squares, roadsides, and populated areas in urban and rural areas of the state. However, many shops are illegally kept open till 11pm. The Excise department has shut down many on and off shops which are within 500 metre from the national highways but it has become difficult to control the mushrooming foreign liquor shops and country liquor shops in civic body areas like municipal corporations, municipalities, NACs as well as in blocks and rural areas. These shops are doing brisk business throwing the restrictions to the wind. The administration has failed to bring them under control.

Moreover, many licensed liquor shops have come up during this period near national highways, educational institutions, government offices, cultural institutions, and banks in alleged violation of Section-34 of the Excise Act. The foreign and other neighbouring states has aggravated the situation. The drug and liquor mafias are carrying out their business with impunity by allegedly greasing the palms of the Excise and police officials as well as politicos. Various anti-liquor and total prohibition campaigns are being carried out in the state but these have proved futile in downsizing the liquor sale. Funds worth over Rs4.69 crore have been spent in these campaigns during the last 10 years but liquor sales are increasing by the day.

Green activists urge candidates to avoid using plastic flags, banners

Berhampur(KCN): As candidates gear up for campaigning in the Odisha Assembly and Lok Sabha elections, green activists in Ganjam district appealed to all political parties to use eco-friendly materials during electioneering. Candidates and political parties are requested to use only eco-friendly campaign materials which can be recycled and to avoid non-biodegradable poll materials like plastic flags, banners and flexes, said Sudhir Rout, an environmentalist. "In the last several elections, we have seen candidates and political parties use several non-biodegradable materials during the campaign. This practice causes harm to the environment," he said. Rout, the director of Aryabhatta Foundation, an organisation that works to raise awareness on protection of environment, said much before the poll announcement, that they had written to the Election Commission to ensure the green protocol in polling stations and counting centres. "We are happy as ECI has directed the election officers to make some eco-friendly polling stations as model booths in districts and asked political parties to adopt eco-friendly measures during the campaign," he said. "We are now appealing to candidates to adopt such a step to protect the environment," he said. Sabuji Bahini, a city-based organisation which campaigned against nailing banners and flags on trees in the last election, also appealed to candidates to avoid such practice of nailing banners or flags on trees in the elections. Ramesh Chandra Chyau Patnaik, BJD Ganjam district president, said his party does not use the plastic flags during campaigning. "We use party flags made in cotton clothes," he said. Subash Sahu, BJP Ganjam district president also made similar claims.

'Tigresses need proper places to give birth'

Baripada(KCN): An increase in the population of Royal Bengal Tigers at Similipal National Park in Mayurbhanj district has created happiness in the minds of wildlife lovers. Forest officials have said that if the tigresses in the park get a conducive atmosphere for reproduction, then in the years to come, the population will continue to grow. Currently, the total number of tigers in the park stands at 27, according to the latest census.

Regional Chief Conservator of Forests (RCCF) Dr Prakash Chand Gogineni said Tuesday that tigresses are not ready to mate under any circumstance. The first and foremost condition for any tigress is to find a suitable place where its cubs will be safe and plenty of food will be available. More than the tiger, it is the tigress which is fiercely protective about its cubs. It rears the cubs, provides them with hunting lessons and finally when they mature, the tigress lets them go on their own. It also leaves the male once the cubs are born. Gogineni informed that the Similipal Wildlife Sanctuary had only four Royal Bengal Tigers in 2004. Among them, three were tigresses and the other one was a black melanistic male tiger. One of the tigresses gave birth to melanistic cubs next year after it mated with the male tiger. Out of the 27 Royal Bengal Tigers in Similipal, 14 are females. Five of the tigresses in the recent past have given birth, though the exact number of cubs born is yet to be ascertained. It just goes to show the importance of a conducive atmosphere for tigresses. Tigers usually have a life span ranging from 14 to 16 years. From the age of 11, they start getting old. A tigress will never mate with an 'old' tiger as the latter cannot hold on to its own territory. Once a tigress turns pregnant, it goes away from the male. The rules of the tiger kingdom are strange indeed. The tigress usually allows those cubs to suckle her who she deems fit will survive the first six to seven weeks.

The weak are neglected and sometimes they die. During the first six to seven months she takes care of the food for the cubs. Then slowly she introduces them to hunting so that by the time they are two years old, they are ready to be on their own. Once the cubs turn into adults, the tigress is ready to mate again and give birth. Prior to that, she will never mate as the cubs cannot fend for themselves. When contacted, former honorary wildlife warden of Similipal National Park, Bhanumitra Acharya said the Forest Department should immediately clampdown on poaching activities in the park. He feels that if it happens, the tiger population in STR will grow substantially in the years to come.

Mr. Sameer Nayak, the Unit Head of Aditya Aluminium says, "Project Sichai, launched in January this year, has been greatly welcomed by the farming community of the Sambalpur district. Essentially, it has resulted in a significant rise in the income of farmers. Here 55 farmers within the proximity of the plant were encouraged to adopt the Sprinkler Irrigation System. Each farmer was given 41 pipes (20 feet/pipe) and 9 sprinklers. It enabled the farmers draw water from the ponds and wells close by. Among its other major advantage is a rise in crop productivity and reduction in water wastage, besides of course the monetary advantages".

"The ease of use has made it the most sought

Gagan Bihari Patra, a farmer from Sambalpur district who was finding it tough to look after his family of five due to insufficient income from farming, expresses his gratitude to Aditya Aluminium for introducing him to sprinkler irrigation system through 'Project Sichai' leading to multiple crop farming, a n d i n c o m e enhancement. Patra owns six acres of agricultural land in which he was cultivating paddy and vegetables during the kharif season. Being rain-fed, it resulted in low productivity. He could not produce anything during the rabi season due to lack of irrigation facilities. Not satisfied with his income from agriculture, he was desperate to explore ways to increase productivity. Many farmers in the locality who faced similar issues, given poor irrigation facilities, lack of modern agricultural equipment and resorting to traditional agricultural practices. Then came the Aditya Aluminium CSR team extending a helping hand to farmers like Patra through Project Sichai and Samridhi.

Mayank's ability to control length was impressive - Du Plessis

New Delhi: RCB skipper Faf du Plessis has revealed that Mayank Yadav's ability to control length was impressive on Tuesday night in their defeat to Lucknow Super Giants.

Mayank managed to sizzle once again as he starred by picking three wickets at the Chinnaswamy Stadium.

"It is the new action you haven't faced before, and especially if there is a bit of pace behind it that's really promising," du Plessis said after the loss. "It takes batters time to get used to someone's action to see how the ball is coming out of the hand. So obviously pace is one thing but what impressed me tonight was his ability to control length and bowl with some really good discipline as well, so it's the pace combined with accuracy."

While ruing the dropped chances of Quinton de Kock and Nicholas Pooran that cost them big time, du Plessis also urged the batters to step up. "You need partnerships, you need two guys to bat together and get a partnership and we never got that," he admitted. "Disappointing that we didn't do it with the bat so we got to make sure the strong characters in the dressing room really put their hand up." While RCB did pull things back in the middle with the ball after getting to grips with the surface that was slightly tacky, they allowed LSG to get a good start in the powerplay which eventually helped them. And when the visitors did come out to bowl, the plan was to try and make good use of the surface. "The chat was very simple - there's a bit of help in the wicket, try and use the wicket, not to go for the yorkers really quickly," KL Rahul said on his side's strategy. "Here in Chinnaswamy, the pressure can come on you really quickly with one or two fours/sixes in an over, just changes everything. It's important to stay calm and keep trusting that the wicket will help us."

Rahul also heaped praise on LSG's pace sensation Mayank for coming back strong after not featuring in the previous two editions. "He's quietly patiently waited for two seasons in the dug-out, missed out last year because of injury unfortunately," he observed. "But he's been in Bombay with the back playing cricket again," said New Zealand selector Sam Wells. "The fact he's back playing at a high level after an Achilles rupture is testament to his hard work and application. He's a well-respected leader and has captaincy experience for Wellington along with New Zealand A and New Zealand XI teams, which we believe holds him in good stead to lead the group in Pakistan."

Robinson made it to the team on the back of a successful season with the bat, scoring 298 runs to finish as the second highest run-getter in the Super Smash despite featuring in only six of the 11 matches Wellington played due to an injury. His tally included a 64-ball 139 against Otago. O'Rourke, who has played two Tests and three ODIs, did well in the Super Smash as he picked up 12 wickets at an average of 19.41.

"Tim is still very early in his domestic career but his natural ability and explosive power was on full display this season. Combined with his outstanding fielding, we believe he has a skill-set that's well suited to the format. We've been delighted with Tim's early efforts in international cricket, in both the formats he's played so far. This tour will be an excellent chance for him to test his skills in foreign conditions," said Wells about the uncapped players.

New Zealand will depart for Pakistan on April 12. The first T20I will be played on April 18 in Rawalpindi, which will also host the next two games on April 20 and 21. The last two matches of the series will be played in Lahore on April 25 and 27.

IPL 2024: Nicholas Pooran is up there with Heinrich Klaasen, says Eoin Morgan

New Delhi: Former England captain Eoin Morgan heaped massive praise on Lucknow wicket-keeping batter Nicholas Pooran, saying he is up there with hard-hitting South African Heinrich Klaasen.

Pooran scored a magnificent 21-ball 40 against Bengaluru to help his side post 181 for 5 in the first innings. His knock helped them register a 28-run win over Faf du Plessis' side at the M Chinnaswamy Stadium. With this win, Lucknow moved up to the fourth spot in the IPL 2024 points table, having won two of their opening three matches.

Speaking to Star Sports, Morgan said Pooran is up there with Klaasen in terms of T20 prowess, while insisting that everything he touches turns to gold. The West Indian has started his IPL 2024 campaign on a high, having smashed 146 runs in three matches at a strike rate of 175.90, with a top-score of an unbeaten 64. His 21-ball 40 against Bengaluru saw him hit one boundary and five sixes at a strike rate of 190.48.

"Nicholas Pooran up there with Heinrich Klaasen with the consistency that he is showing in the lower order of the game. The power he generates is one thing but actually the talent that he has is just amazing. Yes he spends a lot of time in the gym, but you would not say that he is like Marcus Stoinis type of body, but the ball striking is incredible, it is brilliant to watch," said Morgan. "You can just sit back and cheer everything on. Pooran is a very confident man but when he is in a purple patch, everything he touches turns to gold," Morgan added.

Pooran's late onslaught helped Lucknow Super Giants post 181 for 5 on the scoreboard in the first innings. His impact in the second innings was massive as well, taking three catches while being involved in a brilliant run-out of Mayank Dagar. Pooran picked the catches of Glenn Maxwell, Mahipal Lomror and Mohammed Siraj as the home side were bowled out for 153 runs in 19.4 overs.

Following their win over RCB, Lucknow will turn their attention towards Gujarat Titans, with the two sides set to clash on Sunday, April 7.

T20 World Cup: Additional tickets for two India games to go on sale from Thursday

New Delhi: Additional tickets for six T20 World Cup matches in New York, including India's fixtures against Ireland and USA, will go on sale from Thursday. India, who will play all their group matches in the USA, will kick off their campaign against Ireland on June 5 before facing the hosts on June 12.

"Fans can now book their place at the World Cup, by accessing additional limited tickets for six matches at the Nassau County International Cricket Stadium in New York, which includes India versus Ireland on 5 June and the USA against India on 12 June," ICC said in a release on Tuesday.

"Limited tickets will also be available for all four matches at the Grand Prairie Cricket Stadium in Texas, including the big one between India and Pakistan on June 9, the tickets for which have been oversubscribed more than 200 times. The T20 World Cup will begin on June 1 with the clash between USA and Canada, while the final will be played in Barbados on June 29.

Bracewell named NZ captain for T20I series against Pakistan

New Delhi: Michael Bracewell will lead New Zealand for the first time as the selectors announced a 15-member squad for the upcoming five-match T20I series against Pakistan. Tim Robinson has received his maiden call-up and the squad also includes Will O'Rourke who is uncapped in the format. New Zealand, meanwhile, will be without several of their frontline players who are either unavailable due to their stints in the IPL or for other reasons. Trent Boult, Devon Conway, Lockie Ferguson, Matt Henry, Daryl Mitchell, Glenn Phillips, Rachin Ravindra, Mitch Santner and Kane Williamson are all part of different teams in the IPL. Will Young (winter contract with Nottinghamshire), Tom Latham (awaiting birth of second child) and Tim Southee (conditioning) and Colin Munro were also unavailable for selection.

New Zealand T20I squad: Michael Bracewell (c), Finn Allen, Mark Chapman, Josh Clarkson, Jacob Duffy, Dean Foxcroft, Ben Lister, Cole McConchie, Adam Milne, Jimmy Neesham, Will O'Rourke, Tim Robinson, Ben Sears, Tim Seifert (WK), Ish Sodhi. Bracewell will be making his first international appearance since March 2023 as a ruptured Achilles and then a broken finger kept him out of action. The 33-year old all-rounder was back playing active cricket during the Plunket Shield where he picked up a first-class career-best of 8 for 41 in his first match upon return. "Michael has faced a long period on the sideline and it's exciting to see him back playing cricket again," said New Zealand selector Sam Wells. "The fact he's back playing at a high level after an Achilles rupture is testament to his hard work and application. He's a well-respected leader and has captaincy experience for Wellington along with New Zealand A and New Zealand XI teams, which we believe holds him in good stead to lead the group in Pakistan."

'Like night and day': Mominul on the gap between Bangladesh's first-class cricket and Tests

Dhaka: Bangladesh batsman Mominul Haque said he won't cite lack of preparation as an excuse for the team's disappointing performance in the two-match Test series against Sri Lanka. The hosts, who already conceded the opening Test, ended the fourth day's play of the second Test in Chattogram needing 243 more runs for an improbable win with just three wickets in hand. Coming into the series, Bangladesh played a lot of white-ball cricket and it has been cited in the country's cricketing circles that the lack of representation played a part in their poor show. "I don't think there was any lack of preparation. Everyone played white-ball cricket. [But] It is not given that we would have prepared better playing a four-day game," he said. "How far off is our first-class cricket from the international level? It won't sound nice but there's a huge gap. It is like night and day. Everyone knows about it. I am not making an excuse. I play in the NCL (country's traditional first-class tournament) where I face virtually no challenge at all. I have to face different challenges [in a Test match]," he said. Mominul added that they young crop of cricketers are very passionate about Test cricket although their love for the long format is not reflected in their disappointing performances in the format. "Everyone is passionate about Tests. They are very much interested. It doesn't seem like it because of the result in front of us. "They [the youngsters] are dedicated and hungry. Joy and Dipu are Under-19 World Cup winners. It is not an easy thing to be a World Cup winner. When you see how they react after getting out for a low score or a 50, you can see their hunger. There's no shortage of dedication. The more they get to play Tests, the better they will become," Mominul said.

Meanwhile, Sri Lankan head coach Chris Silverwood said that his pace unit was reaping the rewards for patience and the good lines and length they've maintained. "I think they [pace bowlers] have been absolutely fantastic in this series. We have seen some good skill levels from the boys. They have shown a lot of heart, determination and passion. I think they are learning how to bowl in different conditions. We had a completely style of pitch in the last Test. So we had to change the way we go about things.

They adapted very well. They are growing. They have a lot left to learn. They are improving all the time," said Silverwood. "We are working on their patience and discipline. It is a skill that if you can acquire, you can be successful anywhere in the world. It makes you even more dangerous on green, seaming wickets. In these sort of wickets, you need to hold your line and length. Ask good questions for a long period of time. Strangle the run-rate. We saw that life became difficult when we got the run-rate under three. The pressure was on the batters. We forced errors. Bangladesh didn't allow us to do that today. The run-rate stayed around 3.9, which means they were pushing back. It is a good learning curve for us," he said. "Lahiru Kumara has created impact. He got wickets in important times. He bowled some fantastic deliveries. He has looked dangerous every time he has come into the attack. We want to continue to develop him. I think the more he plays, the better he is going to get," he added.
