India, Iran Reach Final Agreement To Develop Chabahar Port: Report

Tehran (KCN): External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Monday held wide ranging discussions with Iranian counterpart Hossein Amirabdollahian here and their discussion focused on the long term framework for India's involvement with the strategically vital Chabahar port and the North - South connectivity project.

Mr Jaishankar, who is in the Iranian capital as part of the ongoing high-level exchanges between the two sides, also called on Iranian President Dr Ebrahim Raisi and conveyed the greetings of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. "Held wide ranging discussions today in Tehran with Iranian FM @Amirabdollahian.

Our bilateral discussion focused on the long term framework for India's involvement with Chabahar port and the INSTC connectivity project," Mr Jaishankar said in a post on X. He also spoke about threats to maritime shipping in the region and stressed that it's important that this issue be "speedily addressed", in an apparent reference to targeting of merchant vessels in the Red Sea by Iranian-backed Yemen's Houthi rebels amid the Israel-Hamas conflict. The US and the UK have launched air strikes targeting the Houthi positions in Yemen. India has been closely monitoring the unfolding situation in the Red Sea. The issue figured in a phone conversation between Jaishankar and US Secretary of State Antony Blinken on Thursday. The Indian Navy has already enhanced deployment of its frontline ships and surveillance aircraft for maritime security operations in view of the maritime environment in the critical sea lanes including the North and Central Arabian Sea.

Following the airstrikes targeting the Houthi positions, US President Joe Biden said he will not hesitate to direct further measures. "The response of the international community to these reckless attacks has been united and resolute," he said.

"Other issues on the agenda were the Gaza situation, Afghanistan, Ukraine and BRICS cooperation," Jaishankar said after his meeting with the Iranian foreign minister. Later, he called on Iranian President Raisi and apprised him of his "productive discussions" with the Iranian ministers. "Honoured to call on the President of the Islamic Republic of Iran Dr Ebrahim Raisi @raisi_com. Conveyed the greetings of PM @narendramodi. Expressed condolences over the Kerman attack. Apprised him of my productive discussions with the Iranian Ministers. Value his guidance for further development of ties," Mr Jaishankar posted on X. Iran's official IRNA news agency earlier reported that Foreign Minister Amirabdollahian and his Indian counterpart discussed developing bilateral relations. "They also reviewed regional and international developments," it added. Earlier on Monday, Mr Jaishankar began his engagements in Iran by meeting Minister of Roads and Urban Development Mehrdad Bazrpash during which the two sides held a detailed and "productive" discussion on establishing a long-term cooperation framework on the strategically vital Chabahar port. Mr Jaishankar also exchanged views on the International North-South Transport Corridor with Mr Bazrpash. ESG Certification is going to be critical catalyst to draw investment in corporate sector in India

Kolkata (PARTHA ROY): Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Certification is going to play critical catalytic role to draw investment in corporate sector as well as to do business across all sectors in India in upcoming times to face challenges arising due to climate change as well as sustainability issues. Investors are evaluating ESG - non-financial factors as part of their analysis to identify material risks and potential growth opportunities.

ESG framework is used to evaluate an organization's business practices and performance on various sustainability and ethical issues. Also, it provides a method to measure business risks and opportunities in those areas.

In capital markets, some investors use ESG criteria to evaluate companies and help determine their investment plans, a practice known as ESG investing.

Sustainability, Ethics and Corporate Governance are generally considered to be non-financial performance indicators. Role of an ESG program is to ensure accountability and the implementation of systems and processes to manage a company's impact, such as its carbon footprint and how it treats employees, suppliers, vendors and other stakeholders. ESG initiatives also contribute to broader business sustainability efforts that aim to position companies for long-term success based on responsible corporate management and business strategies.

A session on theme "Driving Responsible Business with ESG at the core" was organised at 17th Environment Partnership Summit hosted by Indian Chamber of Commerce (ICC) in Kolkata on 11th January 2024 to spread awareness as well as highlight importance of diligent implementation of ESG Frameworks in Indian corporate sector.

THE DISSENTING VOICES IN THE INDIAN PARLIAMENT

In a parliamentary democracy the legislature, the highest forum of discussion and the only legitimate law-making body, comprises the members of the Ruling Party and those of the Opposition Party. In all the countries having bi-cameral legislatures Bills introduced by the Government or private members are passed as per "procedures established by law" or according to "due process of law" after thorough discussions and debates in both the Houses. The role of opposition is very significant because it curbs the arbitrary tendencies of the Ruling Party to introduce obnoxious Bills to suit its needs. A toothless Opposition cannot take on the brute majority of the Ruling Party if it does not have solidarity, worst still, if it happens to be a coalition group. The suspension of 146 MPs from Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha during the ongoing Winter Session of the Indian Parliament in December 2023 on the grounds of unruly behavior and misconduct has raised many pertinent questions as to the legality of that extreme step. Political pundits and constitutional experts have expressed their grave concern over the en masse expulsion of the MPs who are after all Representatives of the People and have constitutional rights to raise any burning question of the nation on the floor of the highest forum of discussion. Be it Adani issue or Manipur issue or Pegasus spy malware issue or EVM hacking issue every citizen of India should be apprised of the controversies that has have raised clouds of dust in the national politics and have made people skeptical of the integrity of the national leaders.

In parliamentary democracy the role of opposition and the Leader of Opposition should neither be undermined nor be ignored or else it will lead towards the dangerous trend of authoritarianism. The Opposition Parties in the Parliament control the Executive (the Ministers) through debates, discussions, call attention motions, half an hour discussions, adjournment motions and question hours. The Ruling Party and their ministers should lend a patient ear to the Opposition members' pleas on different issues and should have constructive discussions to sort out contentious issues. However, things often take an ugly turn in our Parliament in recent times because of the uncompromising attitudes of the Ruling Party. The Parliament, in recent times, witnesses noisy scenes, indiscipline, slogan-shouting, mimicry of the Chairman/Speaker of the House as case may be, vilification of Opposition MPs and deteriorating standards in debates reducing the sacred Houses into a battleground of sort or a pitiable scene of bedlam which was rare ever in the post-independent parliamentary history. If the members of the Opposition were taken into confidence by the Ruling Party through mutual understanding and amiable discussion, things would not slip out of hands as it happens now. Since the Opposition Party has a Right to Dissent on every relevant national issue it cannot be denied the same. On the contrary, the Opposition should also play a constructive role during the sessions and should not oppose or obstruct everything introduced in the parliament simply to oppose.

The tradition of opposition in modern times evolved in Britain in 1688. The phrase "His Majesty's Opposition" became very popular in Britain in the 19th century. This apart, the convention of the Leader of Opposition also took root in Britain in 1937 when the Government enacted the Ministers of the Crown Act, 1937 and even prescribed a salary of 2000 pound to the Leader of Opposition. After this, countries like Canada, Australia and South Africa too gave statutory recognition to the post of Leader of Opposition. In the parliamentary system of Britain an Opposition in Parliament is dubbed the "Shadow Cabinet" or "Alternative Government". In India the political scenario was dominated by the single party, that is, Indian National Congress from 1952 to 1962 and none of the opposition parties could be able to secure 1/10th of the total seats in the House of the Legislature concerned resulting in no recognition of Leader of Opposition. Prior to the 1977 General Election, except for a period of one year (from December 1969 to December 1970) there was no Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha. From 1977 an official Leader of Opposition was openly about our country inside the parliament, how can people outside be expected to?" In 2021 the international watchdog agency Asian Parliamentarians For Human Rights has published a report titled "Parliamentarians at Risk" in which it gives vivid details of suppression of opposition members of parliaments and their intentional harassment through suspension, court cases etc. in countries like Thailand, Philippines, Myanmar, Cambodia and Malaysia. So, dissenting voices of the people's representatives should be respected and not suppressed otherwise no one can prevent the authoritarian rule in future in India.

Silence is the Golden Mantra

anguish nor joy... Every thing evades. Only peace and harmony prevails.

Lord Buddha says, Silence is a place of great power and healing! It has the vastness of an ocean. Silence isn't empty, it is full of answers, and Silence is perhaps the best answer. Scientific Studies suggest that silence has health benefits. Sound increases the stress levels even during sleep. This stress results in increased stress hormones. Psychologists suggest that children too require undisturbed stillness during their sleep time or they become averse to sounds.

In 2023, in a study done on mice, it was found that when the mice were exposed to two hours of silence a day; new cells in the hippocampus developed. Silence helped the new generated cells to become functional neurons and integrate with the system. This means that silence actually helps the brain to grow. It has been found that silence helps to internalize, contain and evaluate the information during the acts of stillness.

Researchers studying Neuroscience, Morgan and colleagues found that brain gets into this state when self reflection is done on one's personality or characteristics. During this silent resting period internal and external information is integrated into a conscious inner space. During this noiseless period brain gets space to process tasks which are goal oriented and gets to integrate the processes both in the internal as well as in the external world. This helps the brain to think of more profound imaginative solutions. Silence is even better than music for brain functioning. It increases motivation and decreases error making. Silence helps to increase cognitive functions of the brain cells.

All these factors made the tourist board of Finland adopt

'Silence' as the selling point as Finland is a 'vast space'! Their Champion marketed an entirely new concept, 'Silence' as a selling product for their Tourism! Spiritually 'Silence' is sacred.... All is known in the sacredness of Silence.... Silence connects to the 'True Self'. Silence takes you to the core of heart... Silence makes you realize the Truth.... The Enlightenment... The wisdom. The same way as Lord Buddha attained 'Enlightenment' sitting under the Bodhi Tree in a Lotus posture.. Soul is all silence. So is 'Brahman'.

Every Single Second is an Opportunity more life. It means by necessary implications that universe does it mysteriously in its own ways. It does it for its own sake or for our sake remains animated.

This blessing, however, is not forever but for a very brief amount of time individually. The time is incalculable one and remains a pure secret to be lived with. It is time to understand the very character of time and be thankful for everything we come upon willingly or unwillingly. There is no good or bad time specifically but echo of our own actions and reactions largely. A thoughtful consideration proves time and again that pain and pleasure more or less are one being from the same source. Moreover one feeds the other comprehensively too.

Every moment is an opportunity when we possess courage to look beyond the mind, material and whatever is mundane. Each moment is eventful and an opportunity of its own kind. The moment we think in such terms we make better proximity with life. It yields as per its own ways. It has its own mechanism to hurl surprises after surprises surpassing our imaginations. However, everything remains friendly when taken positively.

Life is an empty canvas. We colour it in our own ways. The mind absorbs each moment as per our understanding. Once we begin to prob its propensities, the peace becomes a real possibility. The so called struggles or the obstacles turn into disguised opportunities when we see them as existential or a way of living. The way we feel is the way we choose life.

An beautiful quote says "every single second is an opportunity to change your life, because in any moment you can change the way you feel."

UNHCR's 2030 Vision: Climate Refugees & Sustainability

reducing our environmental impact can we mitigate the effects of climate change and protect those most vulnerable to its consequences. The UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) has been working with a long-term vision to address the issue of refugees, especially climate-displaced people. Currently, the UNHCR is engaged in 130 country operations, with regional wings spread worldwide and its headquarters in Geneva. It is also focusing on 22 countries of high concern until 2026. To tackle the climate refugee issue, the UNHCR is working towards a vision for 2030. This vision is firmly rooted in the UNHCR's Strategic Directions of 2022-26 and aligned with the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC). The vision states: "By 2030, an increasing number of forcibly displaced and stateless people, fleeing from climate-fueled crises and living in climate-vulnerable countries, find solutions, are protected and resilient to the impacts of climate change, and have the means to live self-sufficient lives." This vision is based on the Strategic Action for Climate launched in 2020 by the UNHCR. However, the new Strategic Plan for Action 2024-30 provides a clear roadmap to address the issue of climate refugees. These objectives are:

A. People who are compelled to flee across borders due to persecution, violence, and human rights violations arising from the adverse effects of climate change disasters are protected and safe. The UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) aligns with governments, civil society organizations, academia, regional bodies, etc, to safeguard individuals who are victims of climate change.

primary objective here is headquarters in Geneva. It is also focusing on 22 countries of high concern until 2026. To tackle the climate refugee issue, the UNHCR is working towards a vision for 2030. This vision is firmly rooted in the UNHCR's Strategic Directions of 2022-26 and aligned with the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC). The vision states: "By 2030, an increasing number of forcibly displaced and stateless people, fleeing from climate-fueled crises and living in climate-vulnerable countries, find solutions, are protected and resilient to the impacts of climate change, and have the means to live self-sufficient lives." This vision is based on the Strategic Action for Climate launched in 2020 by the UNHCR. However, the new Strategic Plan for Action 2024-30 provides a clear roadmap to address the issue of climate refugees. These objectives are:

A. People who are compelled to flee across borders due to persecution, violence, and human rights violations arising from the adverse effects of climate change disasters are protected and safe. The UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) aligns with governments, civil society organizations, academia, regional bodies, etc, to safeguard individuals who are victims of climate change.

B. Forcibly displaced and state-less people and their hosts should have access to services promoting the sustainable use of natural resources and a clean, healthy environment. The Forcibly displaced and stateless people, along with their hosts, must have access to services promoting the sustainable use of natural resources and a clean, healthy environment. The UNHCR advocates for investments in environmentally sustainable public services to ensure the well-being of displaced populations and their host communities. Through partnerships, the UNHCR ensures that the rights and well-being of these individuals are protected, emphasizing the need for a coordinated international response. People who are compelled to flee across borders due to persecution, violence, and human rights violations arising from the adverse effects of climate change disasters are protected and safe. The UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) aligns with governments, civil society organizations, academia, regional bodies, etc, to safeguard individuals who are victims of climate change.

Section B: Promoting Sustainable Resource Use:

Forcibly displaced and state-less people and their hosts should have access to services promoting the sustainable use of natural resources and a clean, healthy environment. The primary objective here is to encourage governments and other entities to invest in environmentally sustainable public services for these displaced individuals. Section C: Enhancing Climate Resilience: Recognizing the vulnerability of climate refugees, the UNHCR collaborates with host nations to empower displaced individuals to prepare for, withstand, recover from, and be protected against the impacts of climate change. This involves implementing resilience-building programs, providing education on climate-adaptive practices, and developing early warning systems. By working together with host communities, the UNHCR ensures that climate refugees not only survive but thrive in the face of climate-related challenges. People forced to flee, state-less individuals, and their hosts should be able to prepare for, withstand, recover from, and be protected against the impacts of climate change. This emphasizes that the UNHCR collaborates with host nations to ensure climate refugees' protection and well-being, enabling them to lead safe lives.

Section D: Minimizing Environmental Impact: The UNHCR aims to minimize its negative impacts on the environment. The UNHCR utilizes solar panels at its offices to reduce carbon footprints and endeavours to make its fleet entirely green. Its use of renewable energy resources aligns with the UN's broader commitment to "Greening the Blue". In its commitment to environmental stewardship, the UNHCR is actively working to minimize its negative impacts on the environment. The organization has adopted sustainable practices such as the use of solar panels at its offices to reduce carbon footprints. Moreover, the UNHCR is striving to make its entire fleet environmentally friendly, aligning with the broader UN initiative of "Greening the Blue." By incorporating renewable energy resources and sustainable practices, the UNHCR sets a positive example for other organizations and reaffirms its dedication to a greener, more sustainable future.

Makar Sankranti : Life is Movement

Badal Bhuyan

The Makar Sankranti festival is celebrated as a very important festival in India. Sankranti literally means 'movement.' Everything that we recognize as life is movement. Fortunately, people who came before us have moved on, and people who come after us are waiting for us to move on -- don't have any doubts about this. The planet is moving and that is why it churns up life. If it were still, it wouldn't be capable of life. So there is something called movement in which every creature is involved, but if there has to be movement, this movement has to be housed -- this movement can only happen in the lap of stillness. One who does not touch the stillness of his life, one who does not touch the stillness of his being, one who does not know or has not tasted the stillness within and without, will invariably get lost in the movement.

When a human being makes the necessary effort to touch the stillness within himself, only then he knows the joy of movement. Otherwise, people are bewildered by the movement of life. Every change that happens in their life they suffer. These days, the so-called modern life is like this -- any change means you must suffer. Childhood is tension, puberty is great suffering, middle age is unbearable, old age is abhorred and feared, and death is celebration -- no that is pure terror. Every stage of life is a problem because people have a problem with movement, not understanding that the very nature of life is movement. You can only enjoy and celebrate movement if you have one leg stuck in stillness. If you know what stillness is then movement would be a pleasure. If you do not know what stillness is, if you have no contact with stillness, movement is bewildering.

People are trying to track the movement.

Looking at the stars, looking at lines in their hands and looking at all kinds of signs including the tea leaves. People want to read the movement of their lives somehow. This struggle with movement, this paranoia about movement, is happening because there is no taste of stillness. If there was a taste of stillness in you, movement would not disturb you. It is something which sets a certain rhythm. Every rhythm has a beginning and an end; every movement has a beginning and an end. Movement means that which is in transition. Stillness means that which always is. Movement means compulsiveness, stillness means consciousness. The significance of Makar Sankranti is that it is the time to remind yourself that celebrating movement is possible only when there is a taste of stillness within you.

What is yesterday but today's memory?

Anupama Bhuyan

a good dream and tomorrow full of hope and confidence. Life is what happens day by day, moment by moment.

One way to live fully is to go with the flow. If we go with the current, life becomes effortless and the whole river is our helper. If we go against the current, we really have to toil. Going with the flow brings us harmony with the universe. There are things that the universe knows that we don't. The Universal Knowledge knows the end of all ends. The key is to utilize the flow of life and circumstances to assist us in reaching our goals and purpose in life.

Planning and visioning are important, but flexibility in our planning allows us to live fully today, realizing that yesterday is today's memory, and tomorrow is today's dream. Forthcoming day with a new sunrise is today, the present. Understanding that each and every dawn user in with it, a newer opportunity to start with a different life. Presume, tomorrow with a new sunrise, would be a beginning of an unexpected prosperous life, today the present. Why not plan and take the first step on early rise, and exercising the mind and the body for another better tomorrow.

It is dough less that; everyone had his yesterday, the past.

Yesterday, today and tomorrow, an ongoing process of time, of life we spent with. Always today is more precious than yesterday. A dream and an imagination about the future is tomorrow, which would be known only with sunrise. Lesser worry about the future, but make yours today, the present, more fruitful prosperous of life. Every today that is present, let be the glorious day of life. Worry less about yesterday, but be industrious making a successful today, the present.

Letter to Editor

Sir

The Maldivian President had asked the Indian government to withdraw its military presence from Maldives before March 15. In a hither to strained diplomatic relations scenario between the two nations, over recent derogatory comments by Maldivian ministers targeting Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his visit to Lakshadweep, this insistence will only create the rift to widen. It is unfortunate that the present government which has a pro China stand forgetting the help and support rendered to the island nation in the past. Be it the military aid given during an attempted coup by some mercenaries in 1988, assistance given during the 2004 Tsunami and then the water crisis in Dec 2014 India was always the first to help them in crisis. In 2020, when the Covid-19 pandemic was raging across the globe, India was the first to help with supply of vaccines and Indian tourists were the first to visit the Maldives just after Covid helping its tourism economy. India has always stood by Maldives in its good and bad times. It is very well understood that some political outfits who are anti Indian are behind the scene and the leaders at the helm are just but puppets dancing to their tune. It is also obvious that China has its own vested interest in supporting and helping Maldives. Days to come will surely make the present Maldivian government understand that all that glitters is not good.

Researchers from CUO Identified Nutrition rich little millet (Suan) from Koraput Valley

Koraput, (KCN): Researchers from the Central University of Odisha identified some nutrition-rich little millets (Suan) cultivated by the tribal people from Koraput of Eastern Ghats of India. These nutrition-rich little millet genotypes will address nutritional security to tribal inhabitants and have great potential for making high-value functional foods in the food industry.

The group of researchers led by Dr

Debabrata Panda, Assistant Professor in the Department of Biodiversity and Conservation of Natural Resources at the Central University of Odisha, studied the nutritional profiling of 14 indigenous little millet genotypes cultivated by tribal farmers from Koraput. They have identified three indigenous little millets such as Mami, Kalia, and Bada, which showed better nutritional compositions (higher content of protein, fiber, ash, energy, flavonoid, vitamin C, antioxidants, iron, and zinc) and are nutritionally superior compared to improved variety OLM 208 (developed by OUAT, Berhampur) and other varieties of the locality. Recently, their findings of research were published in the International Springer Nature Journal "Planta" on 13th January 2024, along with his Millet Research and especially to tribal crops. Little millet is one of the essential climate-resilient tribal crops domesticated in the Eastern Ghats of India by most of the primitive tribes. Due to modern agricultural practices and the green revolution, Dr. Panda said these vital genetic resources of little millet are being gradually depleted. We must take the necessary steps to conserve this nutrition-rich little millet in its natural habitat. A strategy to promote commercial production of this indigenous little millet is required to boost the local economy and create a market to reach more significant consumers. This nutrition-rich little millet can be used to develop new varieties to address the nutritional security of tribal people and can be used in the food industry for making high-value functional foods, said Dr. Panda.

Jaiswal, Dube power India to series-winning lead

Indor: Afghanistan posted their highest total against India, led by a half-century from Gulbadin Naib and late cameos. They posted 172 after being asked to bat first but the total proved too little against the blazing blades of Yashasvi Jaiswal (68 off 34, 5 fours & 6 sixes) and Shivam Dube (63* off 32, 5 fours & 4 sixes) as India chased down the target in 15.4 overs to clinch the series with a game to go.

Rohit Sharma, who became the first to feature in 150 T20Is, couldn't commemorate the occasion with an impactful innings as he fell for a golden duck. Looking to swing across the line to a Fazalhaq Farooqi delivery, he missed making any contact with the bat to be bowled, heading back without scoring for his second successive game.

Meanwhile, Yashasvi Jaiswal and Virat Kohli, who replaced Shubman Gill and Tilak Varma, began with confident boundaries to get India going. Boundaries and sixes came regularly as they raised a quick-fire half-century stand to put India in command. Kohli though fell against the run of play, failing to clear mid-off off Naveen-ul-Haq in the final over of powerplay. Jaiswal ended the over with another six, helping India to 69/2.

Jaiswal continued to dominate, striking a straight six off Mohammad Nabi, while Shivam Dube hit his first maximum by sending a Noor Ahmad delivery flat past long-off. Jaiswal reached a 27-ball fifty following which Dube went on overdrive, hitting a hat-trick of sixes off Nabi to bring up a fifty-run stand off only 25 balls. It was a batting show-off between Dube and Jaiswal, with Afghanistan being the collateral damage. Jaiswal hit a four and two sixes off Noor after which Dube followed it up with three fours in an over off Naveen and got to a 22-ball fifty, his second successive half-century in the series.

There was - Karim Janat struck twice in the 13th over to give Afghanistan some respite. Jaiswal edged the ball to the keeper trying to run the ball to the thirdman region, ending a partnership worth 92 off 42, while Jitesh Sharma hit one straight to mid-off to depart for a duck. But with the required rate under 2.5 an over, it needed an implosion from the Indian batting order for Afghanistan to stand any chance. Dube and Rinku Singh ensured there wasn't one, sealing a comprehensive victory for India.

Rahmanullah Gurbaz didn't take long to get going, putting away a half-volley from Arshdeep Singh in the opening over for a four and then hit a straight six off Mukesh Kumar. In the same over Ibrahim Zadran survived a review for lbw and got off the mark with a boundary.

Afghanistan suffered a setback in the third over as Ravi Bishnoi had him caught at mid-on. But Gulbadin Naib ensured the positivity from the innings did not diminish, putting away Mukesh for a couple of fours and then taking on the legspinner, pulling one for a six followed by two fours. Axar Patel picked up a wicket in his first over as well, having Ibrahim bowled for 8. Gulbadin, meanwhile, added another four to his tally to help Afghanistan end the powerplay at 58/2, their highest PP score against India. Another bowler delivered for India in his first over as Shivam Dube had Azmatullah Omarzai bowled with a slower delivery. But Gulbadin did not relent, clearing deep midwicket and long on for two sixes off Dube en route to a 28-ball fifty. But Axar, who bowled his four overs at one go, had Gulbadin caught at midwicket and finished with excellent figures of 2-17. Mohammad Nabi was reprieved in the 13th over when Jitesh Sharma couldn't hold on to an under-edge off Washington Sundar's bowling. But the veteran fell soon after, giving Bishnoi his second wicket when Rinku held on to a well-judged catch at long off. Karim Janat's boundary off Washington in the 16th over was a much-needed one for Afghanistan who managed only 59 runs in overs 7-16. Brief scores: Afghanistan 172 in 20 overs (Gulbadin Naib 57; Arshdeep Singh 3-32, Axar Patel 2-17) lost to India 173/4 in 15.4 overs (Yashasvi Jaiswal 68, Shivam Dube 63*; Karim Janat 2-13) by 6 wickets.

Royals prevail in high-scoring game to record second win

New Delhi: Rilee Rossouw's 45-ball 82 went in vain as Pretoria Capitals fell 10 runs short of Paarl Royals' total of 210 at the SuperSport Park on Sunday (January 14). David Miller and Mitchell van Buuren's unbeaten 141-run stand for paved the way for Royals' massive score before Lungi Ngidi bagged four wickets to keep Capitals' run-chase in check.

Miller broke free, smashing James Neesham for three boundaries in four balls. Van Buuren, who had started to cut loose, took the attack to Daryn Dupavillion, slapping a boundary and a six in the 14th over. Two overs later, he meted out a similar treatment to Corbin Bosch and soon brought up his half-century, an over after Miller reached the landmark. The southpaw smashed three sixes in the last over off Bosch to help his side to a high total. In response, Capitals lost two wickets in the first over to Ngidi - Philip Salt and Theunis de Bruyn. However, Will Jacks and Rossouw took the chase on. The duo added 147 runs in 12.5 overs for the third wicket en route their respective fifties before the latter fell in Ngidi's return spell. Soon enough, even Jacks was cleaned up by Bjorn Fortuin for 58. Neesham and Bosch added some quick runs in the death overs, but Hardus Viljeon and Eathan Bosch were kept in check. Obed McCoy bowled an excellent final over, defending 13 to help the Royals seal their second win.

Brief Scores: Paarl Royals 210/3 in 20 overs (David Miller 75*, Mitchell van Buuren 72*) beat Pretoria Capitals 200/7 in 20 overs (Rilee Rossouw 82, Will Jacks 58; Lungi Ngidi 4-39) by 10 runs.

the last three overs of the innings. Nuwan Thushara bore most of the brunt of the late assault by Raza and Luke Jongwe, which helped the visitors to 143 for 5. In response, Sri Lanka lost the wicket of opener Pathum Nissanka in the first over of the chase. Kusal Mendis and Kusal Perera steadied the innings briefly before falling in the powerplay. Raza then applied the choke in the middle overs to contain the free-flow of runs and snared three wickets - Sadeera Samarickrama, Charith Asalanka and Wanindu Hasaranga. However, Angelo Mathews and Dasun Shanaka's 55-run stand revived Sri Lanka's chase and left the hosts needing six runs in two balls when the former departed on 46, mistiming a slower ball by Blessing Muzarabani at deep mid wicket.

Juan James to captain South Africa Under-19

New Delhi: Juan James, in an announcement by Cricket South Africa on Sunday, has been named the captain of South Africa for the upcoming Under-19 World Cup. The 19-year-old all-rounder from Western Province will take over the role after David Teiger was removed from his role following fears of protest over his pro-Israeli statements during a recent award function. James previously captained SA U19 during the five-match 50-over series against Bangladesh in July last year, where he led the side in the third and fifth match of the series. "We have been advised that protests related to the war in Gaza can be anticipated at the venues for the tournament," CSA had said in a statement on Friday. "We have also been advised that they are likely to focus on the position of the SA Under-19 (SA U19) captain, David Teiger, and that there is a risk that they could result in conflict or even violence, including between rival groups of protestors." CSA has a primary duty to safeguard the interests and safety of all those involved in the World Cup and must accordingly respect the expert advice of those responsible for the safety of participants and spectators. South Africa, the hosts of the tournament, will kickstart their campaign on January 19 against West Indies at JB Marks Oval in Potchefstroom. They will then face England and Scotland in the group stage.

January 19 in South Africa, Cricbuzz has learned that Star Sports is actively seeking to sell commercial spots for the World Cup, and negotiations are underway with the International Cricket Council (ICC) for the telecast of the Under 19 World Cup, marking the inaugural major event in new 2024-27 cycle of the ICC competitions. Officials from ICC, Star, and Zee have maintained a discreet stance on this development.

For the uninitiated, last August, Disney Star secured the ICC rights for a four-year period at a cost of USD 3.1 billion. Subsequently, Disney Star sub-licensed the linear rights to Zee Entertainment Limited (ZEEL) the following day. Initially, the situation appeared harmonious, especially with ZEEL exploring a merger with Sony India. However, the prolonged challenges in the merger talks have had a cascading impact on ZEEL's agreement with Disney Star. The intricacies of this arrangement involve several layers and may be influenced by other industry developments as well. There are reports suggesting that Disney Star is currently in discussions with ZEE and Reliance-owned half of the financial burden. However, as of today, ZEE has reportedly not fulfilled its side of the financial commitment, leaving Star to shoulder the entire financial obligation. It remains uncertain whether this arrangement pertains to the entire cycle or if the association with ZEE has been temporarily paused. The next significant event in the cycle is the Twenty20 World Cup scheduled for June in the Caribbean and the US. ZEE executives, meanwhile, are busy with the preparation for the telecast of the second edition of UAE's ILT20 which, incidentally, also kicks off on January 19. The Under 19 World Cup runs till February 11 with 16 teams taking part. There will be 48 games in all. India are the defending champions.
