Foreign Lady Detained

Puri (KCN): A woman foreign tourist was detained by police for allegedly entering Lord Jagannath temple here on Saturday.

While the security guards at the entrance failed to detain the woman, a servitor spotted her near 'Baishipahacha' in the temple and informed the police.

Police after detaining her are verifying the identity card, VISA and passport of the tourist.

Recently, nine Bangladeshi nationals were detained by police as some of them illegally entered into the Shrine here.

However, during interrogation, the foreign nationals confessed that they were unaware of the temple guidelines that non-Hindus were not allowed inside the temple.

During the police verification, it was found that one of them was a Hindu. The preliminary investigation suggested that four people among them had entered the temple violating the norms under the Shree Jagannath Temple Act, 1955.

Though devotees and sevayats raised voices for taking noticeable steps to stop the entry of such non-Hindus to the temple.

PM Modi, Amit Shah Attend Key BJP Meet To Pick Candidates For Lok Sabha Polls

New Delhi (KCN): The BJP's Central Election Committee met here on Saturday to finalise the party's candidates in several states for the Lok Sabha polls.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and BJP president J P Nadda were joined by other CEC members as they went over the list of probables to take a final call. The states for which candidates were tipped to be discussed include Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan.

The CEC has met twice earlier and has named candidates for 291 Lok Sabha seats so far, including in Uttar Pradesh, Gujarat, West Bengal, Jharkhand, Rajasthan, Haryana, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Uttarakhand, Kerala and Telangana among others. The BJP is yet to announce candidates for many seats in some of these states.

At least three of the declared candidates, including Bhojpuri singer Pawan Singh, have withdrawn from the fray after their names drew some controversy or other. The names of the leading figures of the party, including Modi, Shah, Rajnath Singh and Nitin Gadkari, have already been announced for the polls and all of them are contesting from their current constituencies.

The seven-phase polls are set to be held between April 19 and June 1 to elect MPs for 543 Lok Sabha seats, with the counting of votes scheduled for June 4.

AD committed to the nation, never compromise on its principles: Sukhbir Badal

Chandigarh (JAG MOHAN THAKEN), March 23 – Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) president Sukhbir Singh Badal Saturday said that it is unfortunate that national parties are playing vote bank politics by putting one community against another, but SAD is committed to the country, Punjab and communal harmony in the same manner as the great martyr Shaheed Bhagat Singh.

He condemned the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) for misusing the martyr's name to form the government in Punjab but disregarding each and every principle dear to the latter. He also questioned why no action was being taken against chief minister Bhagwant Mann in the Punjab liquor scam and asked whether a fixed match had taken place on this issue.

The SAD president, who paid floral tributes to the martyr at the latter's ancestral village in Khatkar Kalan besides participating in a seminar which discussed the ideals dear to Shaheed Bhagat Singh and how they were being eroded, also condemned chief minister Bhagwant Mann for flocking to Delhi to save Arvind Kejriwal instead of paying tributes to the martyr's memorial here.

The SAD president, while attending a seminar on the occasion, said, "The SAD is not a political party alone but a 'soch'. We are committed to fighting against repression and have done so both in the pre independence era against the British and later during the Emergency imposed by former Prime Minister Indira Gandhi". Asserting that the SAD had always stood firm to its principles, Mr Sukhbir Badal said, "It is unfortunate that today's parties are playing vote bank politics and are putting one community against another. These parties are not following the "soch" of Bhagat Singh", he said adding,

"The SAD has never compromised on its principles and never will". Asserting that AAP had played with the emotions of Punjabis, Mr Badal said, "Mr Bhagwant Mann used to even tie his turban in the manner done by the martyr but has forgotten about him after attaining power". He said the open corruption and depravity displayed by AAP legislators was also anathema to the high ideals set by Shaheed Bhagat Singh. He also condemned the Congress party for misleading Punjabis by taking false oaths in the names of the martyrs.

Talking to media persons at Khatkar Kalan, Mr Badal asked why no action was being taken against chief minister Bhagwant Mann in the Punjab liquor scam. "The Punjab excise policy was framed on the basis of the Delhi policy. The same people, including chief minister Arvind Kejriwal, framed the Punjab excise policy. I even gave details of the meetings which had occurred to frame the Punjab excise policy in Delhi. The policy resulted in hundreds of crores being looted from the Punjab treasury by AAP. People are asking why no action has been taken against Bhagwant Mann in the case and there is also speculation that a fixed match has taken place in this case".

Replying to another query, Mr Badal said it was condemnable that 21 persons had died after consuming spurious liquor in the chief minister's home district but the kingpins in the case were still at large. "It is even more condemnable that instead of being with the people Bhagwant Mann is serving Kejriwal's interests in Delhi".

Earlier at the seminar, leading intellectual Dr Piare Lal Garg said it was high time the regional party of Punjab – the Shiromani Akali Dal – came forward and took up the issues of the State forcefully. Intellectual Dr Gurmeet Singh Sidhu said that the SAD alone could safeguard the interests of the State as people had lost hope from all other parties. Senior SAD leader Prof Prem Singh Chandumajra said, "The system is collapsing as the ruling party and the prime opposition were both hand in glove." Senior leader Dr Daljit Singh Cheema said the SAD was the voice of the poor, downtrodden, minorities and farmers.

BJP-BJD alliance haze clears, battle lines drawn in Odisha

BHUBANESWAR(KCN): After clearing the air on alliance in Odisha, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and the Biju Janata Dal (BJD) have reportedly changed gears to expedite their poll preparedness.

The BJP is expected to announce the names of Lok Sabha candidates shortly, even as the meeting of the party's Central Election Committee was being held in New Delhi on Saturday. Odisha BJP President, Manmohan Samal and organizational secretary, Manas Mohanty also left for Delhi to take part in discussions.

The BJP's CEC is expected to give its stamp of approval to the names of candidates of some Lok Sabha seats in Odisha any time soon amid reports that a list of candidates for 100 Assembly seats and 16 LS seats has been prepared.

The Odisha BJP chief has already asserted that party leaders and cadres have gone into overdrive for the upcoming polls. BJP leader Manmohan Samal said, "The CEC meeting will be held. Party workers have started working."

On the other hand, BJD supremo Naveen Patnaik has been chairing meetings at his residence Naveen Niwas with senior leaders and party functionaries of various Parliamentary and Assembly segments almost every day. Even during the days of alliance speculations, the BJD had set its exercise in motion. The party's high command has so far reviewed its organizational strengths, weaknesses and preparedness in 11 Lok Sabha and 77 Assembly segments. On the basis of a survey report, the party has allocated tasks to leaders to ensure electoral success.

Meanwhile, political observers have been reading between the lines, particularly the wording used in social media posts by Manmohan Samal and BJD's organizational secretary Pranab Prakash Das.

Samal 'thanked' the BJD for supporting the BJP-led NDA government at the centre for the last 10 years while Das has pointedly stressed on 'cooperative federalism'. Such calculated statements of the two parties created misgivings for Congress. The Odisha Congress suspect that both parties are going to play friendly matches.

Former Odisha Congress president, Prasad Harichandan came down heavily on the two parties saying, "Though they have not gone for an open understanding, they are working tacitly. This means they have agreed on the seats, where they will be fielding weak candidates to help each other out."

BJD MLA Prasanta Muduli said, "The statement made by our organisational secretary is based on the current situation. We had a clear victory in the last panchayat elections. People are with the BJD in Odisha."

BJP leader Dilip Malik said, "The fight will be more intense for the target of 400+ seats. The fight will be against the corruption and inefficiency of the 24-year-old government. The fight will be for public justice and public welfare."

JD legislator Parsuram Dhadha said, "The BJD was never in favour of an alliance. There is no such formula as A & B. The number one formula is Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik and BJD. The BJD had got a clear mandate in the past and will get the same in the upcoming polls."

Electoral bonds: Odisha BJP hits out at Congress over 'Chanda and Dhanda' jibe

BHUBANESWAR(KCN): The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) spokesperson Dilip Mallick on Saturday took a swipe at the Congress over its statement on electoral bonds.

press conference, Dilip Mallick said, "Earlier leaders were collecting this as donations. Instead of going to the party, the money was going to the leaders' pockets. It has now been formalised. The parties are receiving donations through electoral bonds. While the details of donations are being recorded in the party books, the donors are also maintaining records of how much money has been given and who are the recipients. The entire system is impeccable."

"The Congress is

terming this as 'Chanda and Dhanda'.

The Congress has received

Rs 1123 crore, which was later estimated to be something around

Rs 1400 crore. Let them say first what

'dhanda' they have given and to whom to receive the donation," said

Mallick.

Responding to Mallick's statement, Congress leader Babita Sharma said, "They are so much afraid of Rahul Gandhi that they have even got our account frozen.

They are collecting

'chanda' to keep their

'dhanda' going on and freezing our accounts.

People should understand how much they fear us."

Orry Calls Isha Malviya A 'Bunny Rabbit With Villainous Twist'

In a surprising turn of events, popular social media sensation Orry shared his unfiltered thoughts on Bigg Boss 17 contestant Isha Malviya. Known for her sweet demeanor, Isha has often been hailed as the "bunny rabbit" of the Bigg Boss house, but according to Orry, there's more to her than meets the eye.

Orry, renowned for his witty commentary and humorous take on reality show contestants, labeled Isha as a bunny rabbit. "She's like this bunny rabbit, and you want to pull her cheeks!" Orry exclaimed. However, he quickly added a twist to his characterization, stating, "But you soon realize she's the villain. She's just like the character she played in the serial, Udarayaan."

This comparison to her on-screen persona in Udarayaan, where Isha played the character Jasmine, known for her cunning and manipulative traits, raises eyebrows and adds a layer of complexity to Isha's personality in the Bigg Boss house. Isha Malviya's journey in the Bigg Boss house has not been without controversy. Previously labeled as manipulative, she has faced criticism for playing with the emotions of co-contestant Abhishek Kumar, despite having a boyfriend, Samarth Jurel, inside the Udarayaan serial, Jasmine. Orry's candid remarks have stirred conversations among social media users, prompting discussions about the authenticity of personalities within the Bigg Boss house. As viewers eagerly await the unfolding drama, Orry's insights have added a new dimension to the narrative surrounding Isha Malviya, turning the spotlight on the complexities of her character beyond her sweet exterior.

Pakistan holding an unenviable position

R.K. Sinha

Largely because of its own follies, Pakistan has put itself in a position which is not enviable. Not only has it been facing attacks from enemies but also friends, Muslim countries. Two of them, Iran and Afghanistan, have come out in the open against it. The first such country was Iran. What is worse, it is also facing attack from forces within the country. In short, it is facing all sorts of problems.

Of the two, Afghanistan has clashed with Pakistan at the border as well. To be fair to Afghanistan, it was Pakistan which had made the attack first. It was on Monday last. In response, the Afghanistan had fired on Pakistani posts along the border. In such a situation, anything can happen. It can lead to bigger clashes, worse of all, war. Following the Pakistani attacks, the Taliban had warned Pakistan of serious consequences. Simultaneously, it had told the newly formed government in Pakistan that "irresponsible actions" would jeopardize the relations between the two neighbouring countries.

Allegations and counter-allegations have been made by the two with regard to the recent terrorist attacks in Pakistan. Pakistan alleges that the attacks were carried out from Afghan soil. The Taliban has denied, calling it a propaganda.

As far as Iran is concerned, it had attacked the hideouts of terrorists in Pakistan on January, 16. Iran had carried out attacks targeting the bases of terrorist group, Jaish Al-Adl, in Pakistan. Iran's state media was quoted as saying that missiles and drones were used in the attack. Iran had targeted two bases of Balochi terrorist group Jaish-al-Adl in Pakistan with missiles. Iran had also fired mortars on Pakistan's western border eight years ago.

The two countries have 900 kilometers long border. On the other hand there is 2400-km-long international border between Afghanistan and Pakistan. It has been named as Durand Line. In fact, relations between Pakistan and Afghanistan started deteriorating after Pakistan started sending back Afghans from its country last year. Hundreds of Afghans are returning to their country every day from Pakistan. Many Afghans say that they have been in Pakistan for decades. Several Afghans have also acquired citizenship of Pakistan. Despite all this they are facing harassment. The big question here is, why are the Islamic countries angry with Pakistan which calls itself the "leader of the Islamic world"? The simple answer is that it is in Pakistan's DNA. It is in its nature to fight with neighbours. India has also faced troubles because of it. It has faced three full-scale wars -- in 1948, 1965 and 1971. It has been defeated in all. Still, it intruded into Kargil in 1999. There too it had suffered badly. The problem with Pakistan is that it does not learn a lesson from the past. After India, it is having a fight Iran and Afghanistan.

The country has a bad relationship with another neighbour, Bangladesh, as well. It was a part of Pakistan before war in 1971. Both are sworn enemies. The relationship became bad to worse after Bangladesh hanged Qasim Ali, alleged mastermind of 1971 massacre and leader of Jamaat-e-Islam. Bangladesh has made it clear that it will not tolerate interference Pakistan was formed in 1947 to disintegrate after about 25 years. What was East Pakistan at one time has come to be known as Bangladesh the two which were once part of one country, have now become thirsty for each other's blood.

I have been myself an eyewitness to the massacre in Bangladesh. I was working as a war correspondent in India and had this assignment for about one and a half years at that time. Those responsible for massacre in Bangladesh are being punished by the court on the basis of evidences. Pakistan has a different view. It has a contempt for Bangladeshi and nothing more, nothing less. They are being shown in poor light in Pakistani serials and dramas.

Pakistan society makes fun of Bangladesh. After seven years, Muslims. However, it claims to stand for Muslims all over the world. Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina has also been complaining against Pakistan. Her main complaint is that instead of blaming itself Pakistan has often blamed Bangladesh for 1971 war and action against the perpetrators of the crime.

Presently, there is an outcry in Pakistan over rising prices, especially because of Ramadan. The army and greedy persons have ruined Pakistan. It has itself to blame for most of the unsavoury developments. The main reason is it has got the priorities wrong. Instead of education it is spending more on defence. The result is there for everyone to see.

there is no sorrow in anyone's life. Truth is that happiness and sadness are an integral part of life. That is why the joy of being with loved ones is not found anywhere else. Those are the moments when we feel alone. It cannot be that we are lying on our deathbeds. There is a lot of pain and suffering from not living our lives properly in the past. Even insects are living like living. But isn't that the price of living? True happiness celebrates living a whole life in one moment. In the end, whether we have anything or not, this color of happiness must remain.

Very few people are blessed with the color of happiness in the Holi of life. Moments filled with rainbow colors not only enhance the beauty of our lives, but also fill us with new energy. Each color wants to tell us something. Want to talk to us. Want to hug us. If white color spreads in life then happiness and peace spread all around. There will be no enmity with anyone or quarrel with anyone. The red color on the face fills a kind of energy. Everything seems amazing. Start believing in yourself. With that faith, we begin to win the hearts of others. The greenness of the potential increases. This greenness comes like happiness in the desert of sadness that pervades our lives. It is from this that the goodness and healing qualities of the banana leaves are derived from the pure yellow. As the yolk of goodness is spread from one hand to the other, evil thoughts automatically disappear. No color is good or bad. It is not right to entertain such an idea about colour. Each color has a significant purpose. Of course, a man can have bad thoughts. But it is foolish to divide colors in the name of religion or caste. Know the color of the person well once, try not to be the color of the person. Practitioners of Dharma have answers for everything. They can tell if the color of blood is red, then what is the color of pain. It is difficult to say what color the black color on the paper evokes in the mind. It is even more difficult to perceive. So it is meaningless to associate the color green or saffron with any religion. It is necessary to finish the division of such colors.

Everyone on earth sees the green in the green crops and the saffron in the fire of the clay oven. Everyone sees white, yellow and other colors in grains, whatever they see, their life is seen. The color of each grain is dear.

So they want to live again in their deep thoughts, feelings, visions. While some people have never experienced it, they don't want to relive any of the past. They do not feel that there is no shortage of problems in life. There were problems then and there are still problems. Everyone has and will have their own problems. They no longer seem as complicated as they are today. Today they do not seem small because we are standing so far festivals as there are in the world, there is no substitute for the spring festival of Holi. Such a festival of life is full of joy. This festival is the visitation of Shrikrishna's Gopalila to the festival. In this, Radha Damodar's gopis with the color throwing Holi game carries the memory of Rasalila described in Srimad Bhagavat. That is why if you want to add the happy colors of Holi to your life, then you have to change your thinking first. A true person is a person who sees only his own happiness in everyone's happiness and his own sadness in everyone's sadness.

The happiness of making all yours and making yourself all yours cannot be found anywhere in the world. That's why Kabir said, 'Lali Mere Lal Ki, Jit Ocho Tit Lal'. Means I went to see red and got red....!!!

"Privileged Pedigree Has Disappeared": Vice President's Dig At Opposition

New Delhi(KCN): In an apparent dig at the opposition and dynastic politics, Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar today said democratic values blossom when there is equality before the law and where there is no patronage, favouritism, or nepotism.

Speaking at the NDTV Indian Of The Year awards, Mr Dhankhar said, "Democratic values optimally blossom and flourish when there is equality before the law when there is transparent and accountable governance, and where patronage, favouritism, and nepotism have no space. There was a time when these three pernicious tendencies dominated our workings. But that is a matter of the past. The privileged pedigree has disappeared. Equality before the law is the writing on the wall. Those who thought they were immune to the law, above the law, are different than others, have realised it to their pain. What can be a greater pain to the human soul and the young people in a democracy that some people are greater than others and they are more privileged? That system has gone."

The remarks are significant at a time when the country's political discourse is seeing an impassioned debate between the ruling BJP and the Opposition over parivarvaad, or dynastic politics.

AAP Seeks Urgent Appointment With Poll Panel For "Level Playing Field"

New Delhi(KCN): The Aam Aadmi Party has sought an urgent appointment with the Election Commission to ensure a level playing field in the Lok Sabha elections, Delhi Minister Atishi said on Saturday. Ms Atishi claimed that despite the representation made to the Election Commission (EC) by the INDIA bloc leaders on Friday, the Income Tax department conducted a raid on an AAP MLA and that the party office had been sealed in the national capital.

In a post on X, Ms Atishi said, "The Aam Aadmi Party has sought an urgent appointment with the Election Commission, to ensure a level playing field in the Lok Sabha elections. Despite the representation made yesterday, today @AamAadmiParty office was sealed. Lok Sabha candidates and party leaders could not come to... pic.twitter.com/cqb6V8QTSM vetted and approved by the Commission or a committee set up under it.

It also urged the EC to take immediate action, including the launch of investigations against all those individuals and officers who have misused their offices to harass the leaders of the opposition.

"Take any other steps necessary to ensure the constitutional mandate of a level playing field and to prevent political parties in power from misusing the State machinery against the leaders and political parties contesting elections in a democratic setup," the memorandum submitted to the poll body read.

Delhi Chief Minister Kejriwal was arrested by the central agency after he skipped multiple summons by the investigation agency, nine in total, calling them "illegal". He has been remanded to ED custody till March 28.

The case pertains to alleged irregularities and money laundering in framing and implementing the Delhi Excise Policy 2022, which was later scrapped.

Aam Aadmi Party office was sealed. Lok Sabha candidates and party leaders could not come to the party office for campaign meetings. There was an IT Dept raid on the home of one of our MLAs. It is the responsibility given by the Indian Constitution to the @ECISVEEP to ensure a level playing field."

'Silkyara Saviours' Win India's Heroes Award. They Recollect Daring Rescue

New Delhi(KCN): A group of men who rescued 41 workers trapped inside a collapsed tunnel in Uttarakhand were honoured with NDTV's India's Heroes Award.

The workers inside the tunnel in Uttarakhand's Silkyara had been trapped for 17 days, and some of the world's best experts and equipment had failed to make any progress - until these men came with basic tools and started digging, using an outlawed technique known as "rat-hole mining".

They are the Silkyara Saviours.

The men honoured with the award are Vakeel Hasan, Munna Qureshi, Nasheen Md, Rasheed Md Eshaad, Feroz, Naseerudin, and Kalimullah.

"It was God's blessing and the wishes of 144 crore people of India that made this rescue mission a success," the Uttarakhand rescue heroes said. "What can a human do alone? It was the love and encouragement that gave us the strength," they said.

On whether at any point during the rescue operation they felt they wouldn't be able to make it, considering the huge challenge they faced, Munna Qureshi said his friend Vakeel Hasan called him to say 41 people are trapped under a tunnel and we need to do something fast.

"I didn't know about it. We work hard for a living, take care of family, and get no time to see the news. Then bhaiyan said 41 people need to be rescued. Big, big machines have failed. I asked him to send us a video of the condition, which he did," Mr Qureshi said.

"I saw the video and told him, yes, we can rescue them. Our whole team got ready. When we reached the site later, we figured it would take 24 to 36 hours. But these days people believe more in diploma than in experience," he added.

An American auger machine had failed to cut through the debris blocking the escape path for the 41 workers. Mr Qureshi and his team then used the rat-hole mining technique, which involves one man drilling, another collecting the rubble, and the third placing it on a trolley to be pulled out. They were not rat-hole miners, but knew the technique, the Uttarakhand government's nodal officer Neeraj Khairwal had said.

The NDTV Indian of the Year Awards honour people who have displayed foresight, embraced uniqueness, and redefined the essence of being a true Indian.

The whole act was caught in a CCTV

Four flight trials of 'ABHYAS' conducted successfully at Odisha's Chandipur by DRDO

Balasore(KCN): Four flight trials of high-speed expendable aerial target 'ABHYAS' were successfully carried out by the DRDO from the Integrated Test Range at Odisha's Chandipur between January 30 and February 2, official sources said.

The trials were conducted with four different mission objectives in a revised robust configuration using a single booster designed by Advanced Systems Laboratory, Hyderabad to provide reduced launch acceleration, they said. The objectives such as the safe release of the booster, launcher clearance and attaining the required end of launch velocity were achieved.

During the flight trials, various parameters such as required endurance, speed, manoeuvrability, altitude and range were successfully validated.

Designed by the Defence Research and Development Organisation's Aerospace Development Establishment (ADE), ABHYAS offers a realistic threat scenario for the practice of weapon systems, the sources said. It is designed for autonomous flying with the help of an auto pilot indigenously made by the ADE. It has radar cross-section, visual and infrared augmentation system required for weapon practice. ABHYAS has a laptop-based ground control system with which the aircraft can be integrated and pre-flight checks, data recording during the flight, replay after the flight and post-flight analysis can be carried out.

It requires minimum logistics and is cost-effective compared to imported equivalents, they said.

The systems tested recently were realised through production agencies Hindustan Aeronautics Limited (HAL) and Larsen & Toubro (L&T) Defence. With identified production agencies, ABHYAS is ready for production. The system has export potential and can be offered to friendly countries, they added.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh has congratulated the DRDO, the armed forces and the defence industry for the successful flight trial of ABHYAS.

DRDO chairman Samir V Kamat appreciated the efforts of the teams associated in the design, development and testing of the system.

Add a Healthy Twist to Holi: Make Almonds Your Go-To Festive Snack

Bhubaneswar (KCN): Holi is a joyous festival celebrated with vibrant colours, symbolizing the spirit of togetherness as families and friends unite in cheerful gatherings. During this festive occasion, exchanging gifts and relishing delicious meals with loved ones are cherished traditions. However, amidst the festivities, it's crucial to exercise caution against overindulging in unhealthy snacks and foods, recognizing their potential long-term impact on our health. Therefore, practicing mindfulness while celebrating Holi becomes imperative. Incorporating a handful of almonds into your diet during this time can enhance taste as well as provide essential health benefits, ensuring a balanced and enjoyable celebration.

Almonds, rich in 15

essential nutrients like vitamin E, magnesium, protein, riboflavin, and zinc, are renowned for their ability to provide numerous health benefits, including supporting heart health, managing weight, and regulating blood sugar levels. Incorporating these powerhouse nuts into Holi celebrations can elevate the festivities. Whether presented as gifts, incorporated into traditional recipes, or enjoyed as snacks, almonds symbolize prosperity and well-being. Their delicious taste and satisfying crunch enhance the flavors of various Holi dishes, from sweet gujiya to savory almond chaat. Moreover, gifting almonds expresses good wishes for health and happiness. By embracing almonds in Holi festivities, everyone can enhance the joy of the occasion while embracing a healthier lifestyle.

Sharing thoughts on the celebration of Holi, Bollywood actress, Soha Ali Khan said, "Like everyone else, I cherish celebrating Holi with my loved ones. I love hosting Holi parties at home, where family gathers to indulge in festive delicacies. As a tradition, I always prepare healthy almond brittle for my family, a delightful fusion of taste and nutrition. This dessert not only enhances our enjoyment of the festival but also promotes overall health by providing a healthier alternative to sugary treats."

Ritika Samaddar, the Regional Head-Dietetics, Max Healthcare – Delhi said, "During Holi celebrations, making mindful choices about snacks can significantly impact our health. Opting for nutritious options like almonds instead of unhealthy snacks not only adds to the festive spirit but also enhances our well-being. Almonds, loaded with good fats and proteins, are an ideal addition to any weight-loss plan, providing satiety and valuable nutrition. Moreover, studies suggest that incorporating almonds into our daily diet may help reduce dyslipidemia, a critical risk factor for cardiovascular disease. This highlights the importance of including almonds in our Holi festivities. By savoring Holi delicacies mindfully and enjoying the sensory experience with a handful of almonds, my family and I not only celebrate the joy of the festival but also prioritize our health."

Speaking about how to maintain skin health during Holi, Skin Expert and Cosmetologist, Dr.

Geetika Mittal Gupta said, "It is crucial to take precautions during the festival of Holi due to its vibrant colors and festive spirit, which can potentially harm the skin. Synthetic dyes used in the festival often contain harsh chemicals, leading to irritation, dryness, and allergic reactions, particularly in sensitive skin types. My advice is to gently cleanse the skin post-celebrations with a mild, hydrating cleanser to remove color traces and sweat without stripping away natural oils. Additionally, I recommend moisturizing the skin thoroughly and staying hydrated by drinking plenty of water to restore hydration levels and promote skin healing. Furthermore, I suggest incorporating a handful of almonds into the diet, as they are rich in vitamin E, copper, zinc, and polyphenols, which can contribute to improving skin health."

Sheela Krishnaswamy, Nutrition and Wellness Consultant said, "Almonds serve as a meaningful and auspicious gift during festivals and special occasions, embodying the care and concern of the gift giver for their loved ones. Not only are almonds a thoughtful gesture, but they are also a nutritional powerhouse, packed with essential nutrients like protein, fiber, and healthy fats, which contribute to overall well-being.

Fitness Expert and Celebrity Master Instructor, Yasmin Karachiwala said, "During festivals like Holi, where physical activity may decrease due to socializing, almonds can be a valuable addition to maintain cardiovascular health and overall well-being."

Curran half-century gets PBKS off the mark

NEW DELHI: Sam Curran became the first half-centurion of IPL 2024 as Punjab Kings started their IPL 2024 campaign with a four-wicket victory against Delhi Capitals at the new stadium in Mullanpur, Chandigarh. Delhi Capitals posted a total of 174/9 and were able to reach there only because of impact substitute Abishek Porel's 10-ball 32 after they were reduced to 147/8. Curran then led the chase with his 47-ball 63 and was involved in a 67-run stand with Liam Livingstone as the Kings reached the target with four deliveries to spare.

Four boundaries came off the opening over of the chase - two each for Shikhar Dhawan and Jonny Bairstow - off Khaleel Ahmed. Dhawan continued to deal in fours but the avenue Capitals were hoping for came in the fourth over. Veteran pacer Ishant Sharma accounted for Dhawan, who was bowled trying to play across the line. Kings' impact sub Prabhsimran Singh hit two fours in the same over, one off an edge, but Ishant got his fingertips to a ball on his follow through to run Bairstow out at the non-striker's end. Prabhsimran and Curran ensured a good finish to the powerplay as the Kings moved to 60/2. They also made steady progress against spin, not troubled much by Axar or Kuldeep, but the latter brought about the downfall of Prabhsimran with a wrong'un as the batter couldn't clear long on. Kings' score at the halfway stage was 87/3, one run more than the Capitals and also one wicket more.

Jitesh Sharma survived a stumping appeal in the 11th over bowled by Sumit Kumar, who also gave away two fours. In the next over, though, Pant's agile glovework resulted in Jitesh getting out stumped off Kuldeep. The wrist spinner, who was Capitals' best bet to get another wicket, completed his fourth over in the 14th and was unfortunate not to pick up the wicket of Curran as Stubbs put down a low catch at long on. Kuldeep finished with excellent figures of 2-20 but the Capitals needed to fill in Ishant's quota with the bowler picking up an injury after bowling two overs early in the innings. Marsh was given his third over and he ended up being hit for two fours by Curran and a six by Liam Livingstone as he conceded 18.

Curran reached fifty in the 16th over and the Kings batters saw off Axar who finished with 0 for 25. They needed 39 off 24 and held the upper hand considering the short-handed pace attack and it became 28 off 18 with Livingstone getting two fours off Khaleel. By the time Marsh finished bowling the 18th over, it was one-way traffic as he ended up conceding 18, including a six apiece for Curran and Livingstone. Khaleel and DC, however, didn't throw the towel, as the left-armer accounted for Curran and Shashank Singh off successive deliveries. He could have also dismissed Harpreet Brar but for a dropped catch from Warner. But with Sumit having to bowl the final over and with only six needed to win, the result was a no-brainer, with Livingstone finishing it off with a six. On a black soil pitch which didn't offer much for the bowlers, the room for error was very limited. Punjab Kings realised that straightaway as Mitchell

Marsh took full toll of deliveries bowled on his pads by Sam Curran, putting them away for a couple of boundaries. And the allowances for two short deliveries per over also didn't help the Kings much, with David Warner and Marsh putting them away easily for sixes. Even though Marsh fell to Arshdeep Singh, Warner continued to tee away, even scooping a Rabada delivery for a six, as the Capitals reached 54/1 at the end of the powerplay. Shai Hope took charge against spin, targeting Rahul Chahar in particular. Warner fell to a slow and short delivery from Harshal Patel but the Capitals still made good progress, getting to 86/2 at the halfway stage.

The departure of Warner in the eighth over got Rishabh Pant to the crease, with the wicketkeeper-batter returning to active cricket for the first time in 450 days since the near-fatal accident in December 2022. The Capitals skipper had some relaying work to do, with Hope falling to a slower delivery from Harshal in the 18th over, he clobbered the same bowler for two sixes and two fours in the final over to help the Capitals past 170, although the lack of bowling resources for the Capitals proved decisive in the end.

Brief scores: Delhi Capitals 174/9 in 20 overs (Shai Hope 33, Abishek Porel 32*; Arshdeep Singh 2-28) lost to Punjab Kings 177/6 in 19.2 overs (Sam Curran 63, Liam Livingstone 38*; Kuldeep Yadav 2-20) by 4 wickets.

Can Riyan Parag pay back the Royals' faith?

NEW DELHI: On Saturday, a day ahead of Rajasthan Royals' opening game of IPL 2024, Sanju Samson was putting forth a defence that he's not usually used to - defending a case of a player who despite stellar performances in domestic cricket has been unable to translate that form and consistency in IPL.

Probably Samson isn't as well acquainted with those problems fully, but he was willing to empathise with the case of Riyan Parag, the Assam batter who has been given a long rope by Royals - five seasons and 54 games - but is yet to consistently come good with the bat.

On paper, Parag offers the complete package - the ability to hit the long ball, a livewire on the field and a handy option with the ball. There are a few cricketing reasons why Royals haven't let the 22-year-old out of their roster despite inconsistent performances instead of going the traditional route of 'not-fit-for-the-higher-level' judgement. Yet again, Parag will be coming to the IPL at the back of a stupendous run in the domestic season. This one possibly being his finest. He top-scored in the Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy, amassing 510 runs at a strike rate of 182.79 and then continued that rich form and scoring rate even in the first-class season. It was merely an extension of the run-scoring spree he had in SMAT and Vijay Hazare Trophy last season as well. That promise, potential and form of domestic cricket though hasn't transferred to the more competitive T20 league.

For long, beyond just backing his talent, Royals found themselves in a position to persist with Parag more out of compulsion than choice. Without adequate Indian batting backup, a lack of all-round options and bowlers with extremely low batting pedigree lower down the order, it often made more sense from a team combination perspective to stick with Parag and hope that he would deliver on his early promises with greater consistency. That wait has gone on for too long and possibly even harmed Royals' chances in the shorter run.

In 54 games, Parag has scored at an average of merely 16.22. Given that his role in the lower middle order demands quick scoring, low averages can be pardoned, but the accompanying strike rate - 123.97 - has been as much of a worry. While he has rolled his arms over in every pre-Impact Sub season, four wickets at an economy of 10.70 isn't much of a takeaway either to bargain for.

That Parag has been persisted with for a long time with under-par results has been established. But suppose it needs any further perspective in the form of numbers. In that case, only Washington Sundar has batted with a worse strike rate than Parag's 121.69 (in batting positions 6, 7 & 8) since Parag's management would expect under the new captain and from the former skipper. That's Rohit's batting returns. In 16 seasons, Rohit has had only one season of 500 runs in the league and that too was long ago - in 2013 when he had a season of 538 runs and MI had their first shot at the IPL trophy.

Nonetheless, soon after hailing the Royals' program of monitoring the players throughout the year, Samson extended his support for Parag and insisted that the young batter was probably unable to exercise his full potential due to the batting position he found himself in and that Royals are willing to further back him this season.

"We've been having many meetings since the last season where we have been discussing," Samson said. "Looking at Riyan's career in domestic and India A or the Emerging championships, he has been doing really well. There would still be one change the MI scorer in the innings. It was Kumara who started the collapse on day two by getting rid of Mahmudul Hasan Joy early in the morning. Shahadat Hossain and Litton Das both got starts but Kumara ensured that neither batter was able to convert them into bigger scores. Vishwa and Rajitha then returned to mop up the tail which did show some fight to help the hosts limit the first innings deficit. That little fightback spurred into the bowling as well with debutant Nahid Rana (2-42) leading the pack for the home side in the final

Can an unburdened Rohit turn back the clock with the bat?

NEW DELHI: Is it really true that the more things change, the more they remain the same? Ask a member of the Mumbai Indians side, and the answer would likely be 'yes.'

"It's the same thing going on; it's not anything new," says Tilak Varma, the Mumbai Indians batter. Varma would want one to believe that the change of captain has not had any impact on the side. Rohit Sharma or Hardik Pandya, the philosophy, the approach and the style are the same. "If you see, Hardik bhai is a good leader. And as everyone knows, Rohit bhai is a team man. So he's always there for Hardik bhai," he says.

According to MI coach Mark Boucher, the captaincy was taken away from him.

"It's [captaincy change] just more of a cricketing decision that was made and I do think it is going to bring the best out of Rohit as a person and as a player. Just let him go out and enjoy and score some good runs... It is that he walks into a place and there's just cameras in it and he's so busy and he hasn't had probably the best couple of seasons of late with the bat but he's done well as a captain," the South African had controversially said last month, a comment that went on to break the internet and even extracted angry reaction from Rohit's wife.
