

Bhubaneswar(KCN): The India Meteorological Department (IMD) Friday forecast hot and humid weather conditions in Odisha over the next four to five days, with the mercury likely to soar to 40 degrees Celsius. The Met department, in a statement, said that due to prevailing dry weather conditions in major parts of the state and high solar insolation, the maximum temperature is likely to increase by two degrees Celsius at a few places in interior Odisha over the next two days, and there would be no major change thereafter. “Consequently, the maximum temperature is likely to remain between 38 and 40 degrees Celsius at many places in interior Odisha and between 36 and 38 degrees Celsius in coastal Odisha over the next four to five days,” it

Bhubaneswar(KCN): BJP MLA from Odisha's Nilgiri constituency, Sukanta Kumar Nayak, Friday tendered his resignation from the party. Nayak, a two-time MLA from the constituency – from the Biju Janata Dal in 2014 and from the BJP in 2019 – submitted his resignation in a letter to state BJP chief, Manmohan Samal.

“I do hereby tender my resignation today (i.e. 29.03.2024) from the primary membership of the Bharatiya Janata Party,” he said.

However, Nayak, who is considered a powerful leader of the Balasore district, has not given any reason for his sudden decision to snap all ties with the BJP.

“Today I resigned from the primary membership of the Bharatiya Janata Party and will soon hold discussions with our members to decide the future course of action.

Puri, (KCN): The devotees entering Srimandir through the Western gate had a harrowing experience on Friday as some servants allegedly violated the entry rules and took some West Bengal visitors along with them through the gate. Of the four gates of the Puri Jagannath temple, while devotees enter the shrine through the Lion's Gate (Singha Dwar), the Western gate is open only for Puri residents. Today some visitors from West Bengal were allegedly allowed through the Western Gate through which local residents were also entering the shrine. In no time, the gate was overcrowded with local and West Bengal devotees, giving rise to a chaotic situation. With the temperature soaring, the devotees had to endure the oppressive heat and humidity to enter the temple.

According to local residents, on several occasions, outsiders are being allowed into the shrine through the Western Gate by flouting the rule. A devotee from Balasore alleged that the servitors and policemen deployed at the gate are in cahoots. "We are seven members and we entered the shrine by paying Rs 700. First, a servitor approached us and demanded Rs 200 per person. Then another servitor came and asked for Rs 100 per person. With no other option, we coughed up Rs 700 and went into the shrine."

alleged Janmejaya Raut, a devotee from Balasore. A local resident alleged that the security personnel were allowing tourists from outside through the Western gate while denying entry to local residents. "Even though I am a local resident, I have been waiting for my turn to enter the shrine for the last hour whereas; outsiders including West Bengal tourists are entering the temple through the Western gate. The administration should look into it," said Padmanabha Khuntia, a local resident.

Bhubaneswar, (KCN): Bharatiya Janata Party's candidate for the Berhampur Lok Sabha seat, Pradeep Panigrahi on Friday brought serious allegations against government officials and a former IG alleging they are creating an atmosphere of fear and intimidation. "During my two days of stay in Ganjam, I came to know that a former IG has been threatening voters of different constituencies. He is asking them to be with the BJD. He is also threatening leaders, workers and contractors," said Panigrahi. While addressing a meeting at Chhatrapur in Ganjam, Panigrahi trained his gun at the BJD-led government and said some influential government officers are acting like ruling party's workers. "Some senior officers of the district are posted here (Berhampur) and they work for the party. After the election, they are transferred," said Panigrahi, who was expelled from the BJD and later joined the BJP. Meanwhile, the Congress too joined the BJP in accusing the BJD of using government officers for its own purpose.

“There is no free and fair election. They are fully controlling the government machinery. Their strategy is to win elections by any means,” alleged Congress leader, Sudarshan Das.

“At the time of elections, the Opposition party always alleges that the ruling party is misusing the government machinery. If Pradeep Panigrahi thinks government machinery is being misused, he is free to lodge a complaint with the Election Commission,” said BJD MLA, Parshuram Dhada.

New Delhi(KCN): Calling Prime Minister Narendra Modi one of the "most hard-working leaders" in the world, Microsoft co-founder Bill Gates asked the Prime Minister what he does to relax, to which PM Modi replied, saying that relaxation remains for him in "autopilot mode." "I feel a sense of relaxation that comes naturally to me. I find my inner peace through a spiritual practice instilled in me by my teachers, which energises me greatly," PM Modi said. The Prime Minister said that his commitment to his mission keeps him going. "This energy doesn't come from physical strength, but from my dedication and my emotional connection to the mission at hand. My commitment to my mission keeps me going. My body is now trained to what I do. For example, I can work late into the night and wake up early morning. I don't have to make an extra effort to relax, it happens on autopilot," PM Modi said.

Recalling his days in the Himalayas, PM Modi said that he used to follow the tradition of bathing in the "Brahma Muhurat." "In the Himalayas, I followed the tradition of bathing in the Brahma Muhurat which is between 3:20 am and 3:40 am. These things have conditioned my body over time. I don't need conventional methods to relax but this also means I lack engagement another activities outside my work " PM Modi told Gates.

In an interaction with Bill Gates, Prime Minister Modi talked about India's culture of recycling waste and said the half-jacket he was wearing was made of recycled material with a speciality that it had been made using spare cloth pieces at tailors' shops and also using recycled plastic bottles.

"Recycling and Reusing are inherent to our nature. This jacket is made from recycled material. Even this has speciality. There are waste cloth pieces at tailor's shop, all this waste material has been collected. It has been made of old clothes and thirty to forty percent waste plastic bottles have been used and all this has been recycled to make the cloth (for the jacket)," PM Modi said.

In a 45-minute interaction, PM Modi and Gates spoke to each other on several topics including Artificial Intelligence, technology, Statue of Unity and more.

New Delhi(KCN): Congress leader Rahul Gandhi today promised the party will take exemplary action against those who have destroyed democracy - "when the government changes" - after the party received a ? 1,800 crore income tax notice which it called "tax terrorism". The fresh tax notice is for the assessment years 2017-18 to 2020-21, and includes penalty and interest."When the government changes, action will definitely be taken against those who are destroying democracy. And the action will be taken in such a manner that no one will have the courage to do all this again. This is my guarantee," Mr Gandhi said in a post on the microblogging platform X. The Congress is already facing a funds crunch after the Income Tax authorities imposed a penalty of ₹ 200 crore and froze its funds. It has not got any relief from the high court. The Congress is likely to go to the Supreme Court next, just weeks before the Lok Sabha elections. Mr Gandhi alleged central departments such as the income tax are working at the behest of the BJP. The Congress is preparing to fight a long legal war to scrap the tax demands. Congress leader Ajay Maken said the BJP has in the past few years got donations from thousands of people, and their income tax should also be calculated. Congress General Secretary Jairam Ramesh told reporters the BJP is also in serious violation of income tax laws, and requested the tax department to raise a demand of ₹ 4,617.58 crore from the BJP. Congress treasurer Ajay Maken said political parties have to fill up Form 24A, in which two basic and important pieces of information have to be given -- the names and addresses of donors. "We have analysed all the submissions of the BJP to the Election Commission. The party has faltered every year," Mr Maken alleged.

How to Preparing for professional entrance exam

The fight for seats in professional courses in India has been very competitive, with entrance exams playing a pivotal role. However, with increasing competition and limited seats, these exams have become a source of stress, anxiety and despair for many students. Numbers show that the entrance exams for professional courses in India are highly competitive, with lakhs of students vying for a limited number of seats. To succeed, students need to have a strong foundation in their subjects, be well-prepared for the exam, and have a good strategy for time management and exam-taking. Joint Entrance Examination (JEE), National Eligibility cum

Entrance Test (NEET), Common Admission Test (CAT) and Graduate Aptitude Test in Engineering (GATE) are some popular entrance exams for admission to undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral courses in various fields. These exams test students' academic prowess and evaluate their ability to handle pressure and time management skills. The primary reason for the competitiveness of these entrance exams is the limited number of seats available in top-tier colleges and universities. Students unable to secure admission to these institutions have limited options, which can be a significant setback for their future career prospects. The lack of quality education and opportunities in many parts of the country adds to the competitiveness. As a result, students from less privileged backgrounds have to work harder to compete with their more privileged counterparts. Tips and strategies

Vijay GarG

Time management: This is crucial for success. Students should make a study schedule and stick to it. Allocate time for each subject and topic and study accordingly. Self-discipline: These exams require discipline and dedication. Set realistic goals and work towards achieving them.

Avoid distractions and focus on your studies. Regular practice: This is essential for success in these exams. Solve as many practice questions and previous year's papers as possible. This will help you understand the exam pattern and improve your problem-solving skills. Seeking guidance from mentors: Mentors can provide guidance and advice to students. Students should seek the help of their teachers, coaching centres, or online tutors if they face difficulties in their studies. Online study materials: These are easily accessible and can be an excellent resource for students. They can refer to online study materials for revision and practice questions, watch online videos and lectures to understand complex concepts. Coaching centres: Coaching centres can provide a structured learning environment and help students prepare for the exams effectively. They can provide guidance, study materials, and mock tests to help students perform well in the exams. Mock tests: Mock tests are an essential tool for exam preparation. Students should take mock tests regularly to assess their preparation level and identify areas of improvement. They should analyse their performance and work towards improving their weaknesses. Stress and anxiety: Preparing for competitive exams can lead to high stress and anxiety among students. This can affect their performance and lead to burnout. Students should take regular breaks, practise mindfulness and engage in physical activities such as yoga or meditation. Lack of motivation: Preparing for competitive exams requires hard work and dedication amid a lack of motivation sometimes. Set achievable goals, reward themselves for small successes, and remind yourself of long-term goals. Health issues: Long hours of sitting and studying can lead to various health problems, such as back pain, eye strain and insomnia. Students should maintain a healthy lifestyle by eating a balanced diet, exercising regularly, and taking breaks frequently. 'National Test Abhyas' is a mobile application launched by the Ministry of Education to provide free online practice tests for students preparing for competitive exams like JEE Main, NEET and other engineering and medical entrance exams. Students can use this. Retired Principal Educational Columnist malout,Punjab

Teenagers & Bright Future

Dr. Bichitra Nanda Acharya

The Teenage is a phase in everyone's life. It's one the most critical stages of life where there is needed strong care and support from parents in taking the right decision regarding important life matters. In any society, there are different stages of life. There is childhood, adolescence, and adulthood. Each stage has its own unique challenges and rewards. Adolescence, or teenage years, is a time of great change for individuals. It can be both exciting and challenging as young people learn to navigate the new terrain of their lives. One of the most important things that teenagers must learn is how to take care of themselves. This means developing healthy habits such as eating well, getting enough exercise, and getting enough sleep. It also means learning how to handle stress and cope with difficult situations. Teens need to learn how to take care of their bodies and minds so that they can be healthy and happy into adulthood. A n o t h e r important aspect of teenage life is education. For many teenagers, this is the time when they begin to think about their future careers. They start to think about what kind of job they want to have and what kind of life they want to lead. Education is important for teenagers so that they can make informed choices about their future. Relationships are another big part of teenage life. Whether it is with friends, family, or romantic partners, relationships are a central part of most teens' lives. Teenagers need to learn how to communicate effectively, how to resolve conflict, and how to build strong and healthy relationships. Finally, teenagers need to learn how to make responsible decisions. This includes things like choosing not to engage in risky behavior, such as drinking or using drugs. It also means learning how to manage money and other resources responsibly. Making good decisions now can help teenagers set themselves up for success in the future.

This is a crucial age from where everyone passes through and faces all the ups and downs of their life and become mature. All they need is a good listener and they feel that very good listener should be one of their parent. A teenager faces a lot of things all together and those things become life lessons for them. Everything is s e c o n d a r y , example;success, money, position, power, etc., the very first thing a teenager literally begs for is the support. Whatever they feel from inside that matters the most,. As everyone is able to show fake smile nd are able to speak lies and run away from their problems. The thing is that they cannot trust because when they trust, they end up being alone and heart broken. The life of a teenager seems to change daily. Constantly exposed to new ideas, social situations and people, teenagers work to develop their personalities and interests during this time of great change. Before their teenage years, these adolescents focused on school, play, and gaining approval from their parents. The teenage years can be both enjoyable and challenging. By learning how to take care of themselves, getting a good education, building strong relationships, and making responsible decisions, teenagers can set themselves up for a bright future.

Liver Cancer : A Life-Threatening Illness

Prof. Dr. Umesh Chandra Patra

Several types of cancer can form in the liver. The most common type of liver cancer is hepatocellular carcinoma, which begins in the main type of liver cell (hepatocyte). Other types of liver cancer, such as intrahepatic cholangiocarcinoma and hepatoblastoma, are much less common. Primary liver cancer is a life-threatening illness and one of the fastest growing cancer types. Most primary liver cancer is cancer in your liver and cancer in bile ducts in your liver. Both cancer types have common causes, risk factors, symptoms and treatments. Like many kinds of cancer, healthcare providers can do more to treat liver cancer during the disease's early stage. Unlike many kinds of cancer, healthcare providers have a good idea of what increases someone's risk of developing liver cancer. With that in mind, healthcare providers are intent on identifying who may be at increased risk so they can catch and treat primary liver cancer as early as possible. No, it's not common, but liver cancer cases are steadily increasing. Healthcare providers estimate about 1% of all men and women in the United States will be diagnosed with a form of liver cancer during their lifetime. There are three kinds of primary liver cancer: Hepatocellular carcinoma : This is the most common form of liver cancer, representing nearly all liver cancer cases. Intrahepatic cancer : This is a form of cholangiocarcinoma. IHC is cancer in your liver's bile ducts. It represents about 10% to 20% of all primary liver cancer cases. Angiosarcoma: This type is very rare, representing about 1% of all primary liver cancer cases. This cancer begins in the lining of blood cells in your liver. Your liver is the largest organ in your body, helping you digest your food. It's also one of the most important organs, as no one can live without their liver. Some of the essential tasks your liver manages include: Collects and filters blood flowing from your intestines, Processes and stores nutrients that your intestines absorb, Changes some nutrients into energy or substances that your body needs to build tissue, Makes bile, a fluid that helps digest fat, Digests and stores other nutrients from food like sugar, which makes energy, Makes substances that help your blood to clot. Liver cancer happens when something affects healthy liver cells' DNA. DNA carries the genes that tell our cells how to function. We all have genes that tell cells when to grow, multiply and die. For example, oncogenes help cells grow and divide. Other genes, called tumor suppressor genes, monitor cell activity, keeping cells from multiplying uncontrollably and making sure cells die when they're supposed to die. When liver cancer is in its early stages, you might have no symptoms at all. Hepatocellular carcinoma and intrahepatic cholangiocarcinoma have similar symptoms: A lump below your rib cage or pain on the right side of your abdomen, or pain near your right shoulder. Jaundice (a disease that causes skin and eyes to yellow). Unexplained weight loss, nausea, or loss of appetite. Fatigue. Dark-colored urine.

Healthcare providers have several common treatments for HCC and IHC, including surgery to remove part of your liver, liver transplantation and liver-directed treatments like hepatic arterial embolization and ablation. They may also use several types of chemotherapy, chemoembolization, radiation therapy, radioembolization, immunotherapy and targeted therapy. While you can't completely prevent liver cancer, you can do the following to lower your chances of getting liver cancer: Avoid behaviors that lead to cirrhosis. Reach or maintain a healthy weight. Get a hepatitis B vaccine. This vaccine is safe for nearly everyone. Ask your doctor about the hepatitis A vaccine. Avoid hepatitis C. If you have any liver disease, have diabetes, obesity or are a heavy drinker, ask your healthcare provider about liver cancer screenings. Prof. Hepatology Deptt. S.C.B. Build Temple In Your Hearts

Jasaswini Pattanaik

Why should we build temples? The ideal is to make our hearts the temples for the Divine to dwell. But this is not possible for everybody. Temples in stone are reminders of the existence of God. When we see a lawyer we are reminded of our legal troubles. When we see a doctor you think of our illness. Likewise, when we see a temple, we are reminded of God. Temples are useful only as reminders. But true worship consists in heartfelt devotion to the God within each one. Purifying this temple of our heart, we must dedicate our life to service. It is such dedicated service, done in the spirit of sadhana, which distinguishes the Sathya Sai Organisations from other spiritual organisations. Innumerable Sai devotees - men and women, young and old - are rendering service in various forms out of their love of Sai. People talk about Swami's vibhuthi and Swami's miracles. But the real miracle is Swami's boundless love. It is this love which is inspiring countless devotees to engage themselves in selfless service. The individual, society and the world - all the three are inextricably inter-connected. The individual's welfare is dependent on the state of the nation. Everyone should strive to develop his spiritual qualities and utilise them for promoting the interests of the community and the country. Service to society should become the constant concern of the individual. There is no greater quality in man than selfless love, which expresses itself in service to others. Such love can be the source of real bliss. The relationship between karma and karmayoga should be properly understood. Ordinary karma done with attachment or desires causes bondage. But desireless, selfless action becomes karmayoga. Our life should become a yoga rather than a 'roga'. Today most of our actions result in 'roga' because they are related to sensuous pleasures. Freedom from this disease can be obtained by pursuing the spiritual path. The spiritual path does not consist merely in singing bhajans or reciting hymns. These are good deeds. Only actions performed as a complete offering to the Divine can be regarded as spiritual. The man who is in a state of ignorance about the Self is like the bud of a flower that has not yet blossomed. When the flower blossoms, it sheds its fragrance all round. Likewise, the man who has realised the Divinity within him becomes a source of light and strength. There is nothing greater than this love. If we follow this path, we will also derive this ineffable anandha. We will realise peace of every kind. Look with an equal mind on good fortune and misfortune, on happiness and sorrow, loss and gain. These are products of nature like heat and cold, summer and winter. They have their purposes to serve. Similarly the ups and downs of life have lessons to teach us. In fact, without reverses in life, we shall not be able to experience Divinity. Without darkness, we cannot value light. Without experiencing difficulties, we will not enjoy benefits. It is the lack of peace of mind which compels us to seek the means to realise enduring peace. The Upanishads have declared that through renunciation alone is immortality to be attained. Men should learn to practise renunciation so that they may discover the secret of enduring peace and bliss. Why did Lawyers Write A Letter against Lawyers?

-Lalit Garg-

In the legal system, lawyers and judges often engage in debate and argumentation to prove or disprove points of law. Maybe this practice weakens the country and hurts national values. This judicial fraternity, which is important among the four pillars of democracy, has a group of top lawyers active in protecting the accused of political criminals, scams and corruption, this is a natural part of our justice system, which is a big cause for concern. More than 600 lawyers from across India, including senior advocate Harish Salve and Bar Council of India Chairman Manan Kumar Mishra, have written a letter to Chief Justice D Y C h a n d r a c h u d , expressing concern over the increasing conditions for protecting political criminals. This effort is commendable and inspired by nationalism. The ‘vested interest groups’ attempting to manipulate the judicial process, influence court decisions and tarnish the reputation of the judiciary with baseless allegations and political agenda must be widely condemned. There is also a question: why did the lawyers have to write letters against the lawyers? The concern of 600 lawyers against these dangerous and anti-national attempts to influence the judiciary is not unwarranted. This awareness of lawyers has become necessary for the prestige and fairness of the justice process. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has appreciated this meaningful and relevant effort of the lawyers. He said that intimidating and threatening others is the old Congress culture. Five decades ago, the Prime Minister said he had called for a committed judiciary - they shamelessly seek commitment from others for their self-interests but avoid any commitment towards the nation. No wonder 140 crore Indians are rejecting him.' This is the sacred responsibility of the judicial fraternity of our nation and all the lawyers take an oath in the witness of God and the soul to fulfill this responsibility with devotion and honesty. But for the past few years we have been seeing that a certain section of our lawyers are ignoring the sanctity and dignity of the Indian judicial process. The big reason for concern is that this group is creating such pressure in its favor, which is creating a threat to the integrity of the judiciary. But in the last two decades, more responsibility, awareness and sensitivity have been seen among the judges and they have not accepted to bow down to any economic or political pressure in the interest of the country. Since independence, a special kind of group of lawyers has developed in our country, which has been getting the protection and encouragement of the ruling parties. They have become adept at covering up crimes and saving hardened criminals and political criminals facing serious charges and are earning huge sums of money and holding big positions in politics. Such big lawyers often appear in the cases of big people and politicians and the income disparity among lawyers also shows that politically and economically capable people have more chances of getting justice than the common people. The law and order system becoming expensive for the general public and the hopelessness of fair justice also stems from such selfish lawyers. This big discrepancy and irony has also encouraged crime in politics. Due to this, the profession of lawyers has become controversial and the credibility of the judicial process has also been questioned. The question is, why did the lawyers feel the need to write such a letter? Because these days some politicians are standing in the dock and a special group of lawyers is active to save them, who, while trying to cover up the truth, work in various ways to save the so-called criminals in political interest. Such selfish lawyers, in a special way, create false stories of the so-called better past and the golden era of the courts, comparing it with what is happening in the present. These are nothing but deliberate statements made to influence court decisions and to embarrass the courts for some political gain. It is disturbing to see that some lawyers defend politicians during the day and then try to influence judges through the media at night. The statement by such self-serving lawyers that it was easy to influence the courts in the past shakes public confidence in them. That is why there was a need for the lawyers to write a letter to the other side. There is no political purpose in writing such a letter, but there is a moral and national urge. In this letter, the Supreme Court has been requested to take strict and concrete steps to protect our courts from such attacks. Lawyers expressed concern that 'special groups' were trying to obstruct the proceedings of the courts. Especially efforts are being made to create obstacles on those issues which are related to politicians and political parties. Such tactics are damaging our courts and endangering our democratic structure. The lawyers allege that their actions are spoiling the atmosphere of n a t i o n a l i s m , development, trust and harmony, which is the f u n d a m e n t a l characteristic of the functioning of the judiciary. In the letter, the lawyers have called for a united, equitable, impartial stand in support of the judiciary to ensure that the judiciary remains a strong pillar of democracy. Certainly, judges should behave equally in front of well-known lawyers or powerful accused, without any political bias or prejudice and our judges do the same. Still, there remains scope for complaint and if some lawyers together feel the need to write such letters, then it only shows the country's awareness and loyalty towards the country. Such letters cannot be criticized, such letters are tools to control the corrupt winds of politics. Such letters demand more awareness and sensitivity especially from the judges. If something goes against the values and standards anywhere in the society, in any part of the country, then we should not remain neutral thinking what should we do? Remaining silent after seeing something wrong is also a crime. Therefore, there should be no escape from evils and inconsistencies; there should be refinement of them. This letter of the lawyers is indicative of such sophistication which is required to maintain democracy as well as the well-established Constitution. Another group of lawyers has become active against the group of lawyers who wrote the letter, it is natural for them to be active because their wrong intentions have been thwarted along with their huge earnings. The mutual allegations and counter-allegations between the two groups of lawyers are also quite serious and sad. In the election season, this is an issue on which debate may continue for some days to come. The matter is really serious. Keep in mind, the letter of 600 lawyers also raises concerns about the fabricated theory of bench fixing, whereby attempts to influence the composition of judicial benches and question the integrity of judges is perhaps not new. In such a situation, it must be said that the dignity of any pillar or constitutional institution in the country should not be tarnished. The platforms that provide justice to the public should not be clouded by injustice, selfishness and demands. As a people working to uphold the Constitution while building a New India and a Strong India, it is time for our courts to stand up and keep a strong guard against attempts to blur its existence and identity.

FORLORN HUMANITY

Meera Beura

Human civilization has entered 21st century having struggled for existence since prehistoric periods. Truly, speaking, modern civilized human beings have become machines that hearts are devoid of values. Jealousy, hatred, ill will and indifference have banished virtues like kindness, love, fortitude and forbearance from hearts. As a result, arrogance and imperialism is ruling the roost. The weak are overpowered by the so called powerful. Exploitation and hunger for power, pelf and glory is leading to a chaotic world and survival of human beings is next to impossible. Sometimes the builders of the nation are helpless to protect the interest of mankind, and sometimes the leaders are shedding crocodile tears. It's evident that humanity is thrown into the air and the crafty politicians and leaders are taking the advantage of gullibility of common folk. War has become the go of the world, and violence and bloodshed is experienced in every nook and corner of the world. The Britishers came to India and established The East India Company with a view to setting up trade and commerce. Gradually, they took the reins into their hands taking the disunity of Indians. They not only weakened the unity of Indians having adopted ‘Divide and Rule’ policy, but also suppressed the self confidence of the proud nation.

When the Roman Empire was set to fire, the Roman emperor Nero was busy in playing the violin sitting on the top floor of the palace. In fact, he was a self-styled emperor and was so pompous that he was quite indifferent to the subjects of his kingdom. He compelled his relatives and courtiers to witness his acting in the plays he acted. Even the France emperor Louis 14TH was drunk with power and always declaimed “I am the state and my word is law”. History has witnessed that people experienced severe drought even during the reign of Nicholas-II in the period of czars. He passed the orders to fire the bullets on the hungry and starving people of his country when he himself was living in luxury. The same violence and bloodshed is also being repeated even in the 21st century. The war between Ukraine and Russia and Israel – Palestine has created an equally abominable massacre of the 20th century. One thing is clear that 3rd world war is imminent. If the third world war takes place, the entire mankind will be depleted. It seems as if Israel has taken a vow to destroy Hamas. The war having started on 7 October has come to no end. The countries empowered by nuclear weapons should not forget that destruction of all the weak and politically unstable countries will lead to the destruction of humanity. The way USA is supporting Ukraine, that the bombardment on China cannot be ignored.

What would happen if China joins the world war. When the dictatorial rule is going on in south Korea, the U.S.A. is threatening Ukraine with nuclear weapons. The consequences of nuclear weapons on Hiroshima and Nagasaki by America horrified the world during the world war. But today's nuclear weapons are more powerful than the weapons used in the past. Civilized must learn the lessons from the past two world wars. Knowledge of human begins is more powerful and nations should refrain themselves from destroying the world using the latest i n f o r m a t i o n technologies. From a recent survey it has come to the lime light Russia has a stock of 6257 nuclear weapons and out of these only 1458 have been used. 3039 weapons have been in stock for the future use. The USA has 5550 nuclear weapons. 350 nuclear weapons are active to be used by China. Similarly, Pakistan and India have 165 and 156 respectively.

The most shocking incident is that 11550 were killed in Palestine war, out of which 4700 were children. So war should come to a full stop. Initiatives should be taken from every quarter across the globe to end the war, or else only global catastrophe can not be avoided. There are more than 100 members in the global south bodies and all should aim for peace and universal brotherhood. Vasudeiva Kutumbakam’ is the only panacea for today's world. War is never solution to the peace rather love and amicable understanding among the countries will bring the desired results.

Dear Sir/Ma'am

Stimac unacceptable

During the FIFA World Cup Qualifiers held in Guwahati, the Indian football team encountered a disheartening setback, enduring a demoralizing 1-2 defeat against Afghanistan. This loss marks the first defeat to Afghanistan in over 15 years, highlighting the struggles of Afghan football, despite being underdogs. It signifies a new low for Indian football, illuminating the pervasive challenges the sport faces within the country. Igor Stimac's poor team management and coaching are the main reasons one can ask for his dismissal. Even Sparking widespread criticism across the country makes one completely understandable that Stimac performance is unacceptable. Additionally, the All India Football Federation (AIFF) administrators are also held accountable for the dismal state of Indian football.

Opposition Finalises Seat-Sharing In Bihar, 1 Constituency To See Friendly Fight

New Delhi(KCN): After some consternation over the Rashtriya Janata Dal unilaterally announcing the names of candidates for the four constituencies going to polls in the first phase, the opposition Mahagathbandhan, or Grand Alliance, in Bihar has finalised seat-sharing for the Lok Sabha elections. One constituency will still, however, witness a friendly fight between Lalu Yadav's RJD and the Congress, who are also allies in the INDIA bloc. The RJD, which had not won a single seat in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, will contest from 26 of Bihar's 40 seats while the Congress has got nine and the Left parties have been left with five - three for the CPIML and one each for CPI and CPM. Seat-sharing talks, which were expected to be much easier since Nitish Kumar's Janata Dal United returned to the NDA fold, turned out to be protracted, but a resolution has finally been achieved. At a press conference on Friday, RJD Rajya Sabha MP Manoj Jha, who was flanked by leaders from the Congress and other parties, said, "We have arrived at a unanimous decision and we will win". Experts said, however, that the Congress has not been able to drive a hard bargain, as is evidenced by seats like Purnea, Supaul and Madhepura going in the RJD's kitty. Jan Adhikar Party (Loktantrik) chief Pappu Yadav had merged his party with the Congress last week and was slated to be nominated from the Purnea Seat, while his wife Ranjeet Ranjan won from the Supaul seat in 2014 as a Congress candidate and had contested from there in 2019. NDTV spoke to Mr Yadav, who has said that he will be filing his nomination as a Congress candidate from Purnea, and the RJD has all but finalised new entrant Bima Bharti, who joined the party from the JDU, as its candidate. The stage is, thus, set for a friendly fight in the constituency. The CPI will be contesting from Begusarai, where it had fielded former JNU Students' Union president Kanhaiya Kumar last time. Mr Kumar is now with the Congress. Bihar will be crucial for the INDIA alliance as it sends the fourth highest number of MPs to the Lok Sabha and 39 of the 40 seats had been won by the NDA in 2019. The remaining seat went to the Congress. The opposition alliance was jolted earlier this year after Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar switched sides yet again and went back to the NDA, but it is still seen to be in a stronger position in the state than it was during the last elections. The state will vote in all seven phases of the upcoming elections which will begin on April 19 and end on June 1, with the counting taking place on June 4.

BJP Candidate Against Rahul Gandhi In Wayanad Has 242 Cases Against Him

Kochi, Kerala(KCN): BJP state chief K Surendran, who is also the NDA candidate pitted against Congress MP Rahul Gandhi in Wayanad Lok Sabha constituency, has 242 criminal cases against him. As part of the statutory requirements, Surendran had recently published the details of his cases in the party mouthpiece which ran for three full pages. Similarly, the saffron party's Ernakulam constituency candidate K S Radhakrishnan has around 211 cases against him. "Most of the cases are related to Sabarimala protests which were held in 2018. Most of the cases are in court. When party leaders call for a strike or a protest, the police register a case in connection with that," George Kurian, the state general secretary of the BJP told PTI. He said it's mandatory to publish the details of the cases against the candidates. Meanwhile, BJP national general secretary B L Santhosh on Friday tweeted details of the cases against Surendran, Radhakrishnan, the party's Alappuzha candidate Shobha Surendran and Vatakara candidate Praful Krishna and said it was "hard to be a nationalist in some parts of Bharath." "It's hard to be a nationalist in some parts of Bharath. It's everyday struggle. But it's worth the struggle.

Form C7 of Sri @surendranbjp, WAYANAD candidate. One person...Hundreds of cases," Santhosh posted on X. Giving a breakdown of the number of cases against the BJP state chief, Kurian said 237 cases were related to Sabarimala protests while five were registered in connection with various agitations in Kerala. The BJP and affiliated parties had organised statewide protests in 2018 against the Kerala government's decision to implement the Supreme Court order on women's entry to the hilltop Sabarimala shrine in Pathanamthitta district. The case details of other party candidates are yet to come out. The last date for filing nominations for the Lok Sabha elections is April 4. Scrutiny will be conducted on April 5 while the last date for withdrawing nominations is April 8. As of today, the Election Commission has received 18 nominations. Left candidate M Mukesh from Kollam and BJP candidate from Kasaragod, Ashwini ML are prominent names who have filed their nominations.

52 Smuggled Indonesian Birds, Animals Rescued In Assam, 2 Arrested

Hailakandi, Assam(KCN): In a joint operation, Assam Police and forest department officials today rescued 52 smuggled Indonesian birds and animals. The rescued birds and animals include Black Lory birds, Red and Blue Lories, Babirusa Swine and Hornbills. The seizures were made near the Assam-Mizoram border in Hailakandi with cops arresting two smugglers during the operation. "A four-wheeler had tried to flee by breaking police barricades. Accordingly, we informed the forest department, chased the vehicle and caught it. We also caught two persons from the vehicle and rescued bird species. As per the initial investigation, these species are Indonesian-based but we are waiting for the experts to confirm," Shamirdapar Baruah, Additional Superintendent of Police of Hailakandi District, told news agency ANI. According to the forest officials, among the fifty-two rescued creatures forty-two of them are Red and Blue Lories, six black lories, two hornbills and one Babirusa (Indonesian swine). According to the officials of Bilaipur Police Station, the arrested people have been identified as Moinuddin Ali and Samsul Haque. Both are residents of Assam's Hojai area. "The consignment came from Indonesia country through Myanmar and entered India from Mizoram. They were on their way to West Bengal. We are keeping the rescued species in a safe place," the police officer said. Police handed over the birds and animals to the forest department, and registered a case. The police officer further said that, the apprehended persons hail from the Hojai area of Assam. "Further investigation is on and we are trying to find out further linkage", the police officer said. In September last year, at least eight rare animals, including a black macaque and gorillas, were rescued in Assam's Cachar district on Monday, police sources have said. The rescued animals, suspected to be smuggled from Myanmar- included two Panamanian white-faced capuchins (a rare species of monkey), two common opossums, four black gorillas, and the black macaque- have been handed to the forest department officials. In April 2023, seven spider monkeys and two black and white ruffed lemurs were rescued from a vehicle near the Assam-Mizoram border.

"Connect With Voters, Hold Meets": PM's Advice To Tamil Nadu BJP Workers

Chennai(KCN): Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday interacted with BJP workers through the Namo App and discussed fieldwork at the booth level for the Lok Sabha polls with them, encouraging them to devise a strategy for the party to win the elections. Discussing ways to win the election at the 'Enathu Booth Valimaiyana Booth' (My booth is the strongest) programme, he encouraged the party workers to strive towards ensuring the victory of the BJP and NDA candidates. "I understand you are facing a paucity of time owing to the general election scheduled for April 19 in Tamil Nadu. You hardly have 15-16 days left (since election campaigning ends 48 hours before polling day). Organise yourselves well, connect with the voters, highlight our achievements and hold tiffin or lunch meetings amongst you to discuss the next step," the prime minister said. Referring to the government's focus on women-led development, Modi sought to know from a party worker the schemes that have been the most liked and talked about by women. The PM expressed happiness that the party worker has been working at the grassroots level. A woman participant from Tiruvarur spoke specifically about schemes such as the Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana

(PMUY) and Jal Jeevan Mission. She said she and others from the area are farm workers and that these schemes have helped them carry on their work with ease. Sharing his experience of his initial years in the party, PM Modi urged the booth-level workers to organise themselves into small groups of three members each having at least one woman in it, and meet 10 families daily. "Sit with those families, discuss with them and even extend what help you possibly could. And in the night discuss among yourselves the people's requirements and plan your strategy accordingly," he said and added that this would ensure the party an easy victory. PM Modi also told them to hold a meeting once in three or four days with women, first-time voters, fishermen, farmers and even beneficiaries of the central schemes to explain the achievements of the BJP government. Further, they were told to take advantage of the anti-incumbency sentiment against the DMK government. "Governance in Tamil Nadu has been in bad shape since the DMK government and its allies came to power in Tamil Nadu," he said, alleging that the ruling party was responsible for corruption, law and order problems and the drug trade. "All such issues need to be communicated to every family in the booth," PM Modi said. Drugs destroyed the lives of our children, he said. "A huge cache of drugs was seized recently and its godfathers are linked to Tamil Nadu, which is worrisome. Therefore, you should make people aware of the menace of drugs, and fight against it," he emphasised. He said that political analysts believe the BJP would turn the tables in Tamil Nadu and that the "anger against the ruling party" in the state will be vented out during the election. "These dynastic political parties mean 'of the family, by the family and for the family'. This very expression sums up the dynastic parties," he said.

BJP Targets Officers

Bhubaneswar(KCN): With the announcement of elections for Lok Sabha and Assembly, Model Code of Conduct (MCC) is in force in entire parts of the State. The BJP today moved to Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) alleging misuse of government machinery by ruling BJD with a target on government officers.

A delegation of State BJP led by vice-president Lekhashree Samant Singh submitted a memorandum to the office of the CEO alleging blatant violation of model code of conduct by the ruling BJD in the State for electoral gains. The party sought immediate intervention of the Chief Electoral Officer to stop it.

The Biju Janata Dal, which has been in power for 24 years in Odisha, has been trying to suppress the opposition by misusing government machinery. Due to favoritism by Government officers, the BJD attacks the Opposition, the party alleged.

Hitting out at the ruling party, Lekhashree alleged that BJD leaders and workers are indulging in violence and attacking BJP workers in different places. Murderous attack was made on a BJP leader in Keonjhar recently, but the police took no action and allowed the culprits to go scot-free, she claimed.

Moreover, many Government officials have been posted in different places of Cuttack, Bhadrak and Ganjam districts for long years, definitely more than three years, she claimed, demanding immediate steps to transfer these officials. However, it is very worrisome that no action has been taken even though the BJP has repeatedly complained to the state election officials with facts and evidence about the ruling party's goondaraj and violation of code of conduct, she alleged.

"Such undemocratic and unconstitutional acts will be repeated if the State election officials do not take immediate action to make general elections free, fair and impartial," the BJP said.

Even after the implementation of the "Model Code of Conduct", the state government has arranged foreign trips for leaders of women's SHG groups, which is a clear violation of the MCC, the party further alleged.

As general elections are coming up, the BJD has done this to lure SHG women and make them work as party workers. Many officers who have been stationed in Bhadrak, Cuttack and Ganjam for many years or more than 3 years are visible. The government officials should be replaced immediately, the party demanded.

The BJP leaders urged the CEO to take necessary steps to ensure free and fair elections and prevent the ruling BJD from misusing police and administrative machinery. It seems that the Government Officers have become soft targets of the BJP as Model Code Of Conduct (MCC) is in force. Earlier, Election Commission of India (ECI) had ordered transfer of two SPs and one Collector for free and fair polls.

In various criminal cases, the police provided information about the activities taken so far, seizure of arms, ammunition etc. since the announcement of elections, steps being taken in liquor and narcotic cases.

Police deployment in various districts, strict vigil at police check posts, excise check posts, forest department check posts, etc., infiltrators indulging in anti-social activities, illegal drug smuggling and illegal cash.

The meeting emphasized on keeping a close watch on transactions. In view of the general elections, the concerned police administration, excise department, forest department, commerce and transport department for strict adherence to the model code of conduct. The heads of various departments have been directed to coordinate and take action.

In the meeting, the excise department has taken a decision so far regarding the seizure of illegal drugs. The principal secretary of the department gave information about the activities.

Similarly, the GST Commissioner presented information related to the action taken against the defaulters of the Goods and Services Tax Act. He informed that regular inter-state coordination meetings are being held in this regard and joint raids are being conducted in coordination with the Departments of Commerce and Transport.

SUMUM On Organ Service

Bhubaneswar(KCN): For the second time in nine months, multiple organs retrieved from a brain dead patient at the SUM Ultimate Medicare (SUMUM), a quaternary care hospital here, were flown to other cities on Monday for transplantation providing a new lease of life to two critical patients.

The liver and heart were retrieved from Krushna Chandra Mahabhoi, a CRPF jawan, who was pronounced brain dead in the hospital on March 23 night.

The 48-year-old patient, who had suffered kidney failure and was on dialysis, was admitted into the hospital on March 20 and was undergoing treatment in the ICU, hospital sources said.

His condition deteriorated subsequently leading to subdural haemorrhage. The treating team conducted an Apnea test on Sunday morning which confirmed he was brain dead.

The family members of the patient then decided to donate his organs and informed the hospital authorities accordingly. The hospital quickly got in touch with the State Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation (SOTTO) in this connection following which the information reached the Regional Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation (ROTTO) and National Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation (NOTTO). When the organ viability was tested the patient's liver and heart were found to be in good condition for transplantation.

As per the allocation of organs made by NOTTO the liver was taken to Sir H.N. Reliance Foundation Hospital and Research Centre at Mumbai for transplantation on a patient while the heart was flown to Kolkata for transplantation on another patient under treatment at the Medica Superspeciality Hospital there.

last assignment at the 50 Over World Cup Qualifiers and the first choice opener for MI New York is set to strike a nerve in the American cricket circles. It also seems increasingly likely that World Cup prospects of Shehan Jayasuriya, who was given the boot for failing the yo-yo test are all but over after being overlooked for training camp and the Canada series.

maximums. This was Parag's highest score in the IPL, which took him into the top-two run-scorers in IPL 2024. He only trails Heinrich Klaasen of Hyderabad (143 runs) in the race for the Orange Cap. "Riyen has been a big name in the last 4-5 years. Whenever I go back to Kerala, everyone keeps asking me about him and it's great to see him delivering for us. The season hasn't begun yet.

days ago but fell three wins shy of becoming the first man to clinch the Sunshine Double since Roger Federer in 2017. Zverev attacked Marozsan's serve and converted three of his seven break-point chances, swatted aside the two break points he faced and won 80% of his first serve points en route to the last four in Miami where he has yet to drop a set. Despite not dropping a set in windy conditions, Zverev had his hands full with Marozsan, who is making his Miami debut and enjoyed top-10 upsets over Holger Rune and Alex de Minaur on the way to the quarter-finals. Up next for Dimitrov will be German fourth seed Zverev, who overcame tricky conditions to beat Hungary's Fabian Marozsan 6-3, 7-5 in the day's first match on the Stadium court.

her first chance to serve out the match, however, as Azarenka got a break to get to 5-5 after she chased down a drop shot before her opponent sent a backhand volley into the net. Rybakina, serving to stay in the match, held to love to force a tiebreak and she won the first three points of it before closing out the win. Carlos Alcaraz's hopes for a Sunshine Double came undone in spectacular fashion as the top-seeded Spaniard fell 6-2, 6-4 on Thursday.

clean, crisp announcement that he packs some pedigree with the bat that's rarely been witnessed in the IPL. It was one of those rare days when all of Rajasthan Royals' top three batters were dismissed early. For several years, they have been shouldering the burden of Royals' batting. Their quick departure put their Impact Substitution plans in a bit of a concern. Moreover, with the ball holding on a bit to the wicket coupled with some tight bowling, run-scoring was becoming a task.

knock flipped the momentum of the contest. However, even when Ashwin departed in the 14th over, Royals were scoring only marginally more than run-a-ball, with only two more players with batting pedigree to follow. That's when Parag, who was cantering at a run-a-ball 26, unleashed. Not with brute force early on, but with timing and smart shot selection. Khaleel Ahmed, who has not enjoyed the best of times against RR historically, was the first one to be taken apart. A delivery on the hips picked up for a six, a low full toss carved behind square for a boundary and a slower ball tonked over covers for a four. Mukesh

Kumar and Kuldeep were met with similar disdain in the following overs as Parag muscled 24 runs in 8 balls to bring up his half-century, a mark he had previously reached in 2019 when he had announced himself at the most high-profile T20 league.

Nortje and Mukesh pulled the momentum back briefly, and with 10 balls to go, Royals were still kept to 148 for 5. For a team that believed 150 would be a fighting total given how the surface had played in the first half of the innings, Parag had done enough to give the Royals bowlers what they desired to put up a fight. Yet, it was far from the par score at the tricky venue in Jaipur.
