

Army JCO killed, 3 soldiers injured in gunfight with terrorists in J-K's Kishtwar

Jammu(KCN): A Junior Commissioned Officer (JCO) of the Army's special forces laid down his life Sunday, while three more soldiers were injured in a gunfight with terrorists in a remote forest area in Jammu and Kashmir's Kishtwar district, officials said.

The operation comes amid an intensified hunt underway since the killing of two Village Defence Guards (VDGs) recently. The Army identified the fallen hero as Naib Subedar Rakesh Kumar of 2 Para and saluted his supreme sacrifice.

The encounter broke out around 11 am when joint search parties of the Army and police intercepted the terrorists in the Keshwan forest, a few kilometres from the spot where the bullet-riddled bodies of VDGs Nazir Ahmad and Kuldeep Kumar were found.

A massive search operation was launched in the forests of Kuntwara and Keshwan Thursday evening after the terrorists abducted and killed the VDGs.

The Army's Jammu-based White Knight

Corps said in a post on X, "Based on specific intelligence input regarding the presence of terrorists, a joint operation was launched by security forces in general area Bhart Ridge, Kishtwar. This is the same group which had abducted and killed 02 (two) innocent villagers (village defence guards). Contact was established and firefights ensued."

The officials said four Army personnel, including the JCO, were injured in the initial gunfight and evacuated to a hospital, where the condition of three of them was stated to be "critical". The JCO later succumbed to injuries.

"GOC (General Officer Commanding) White knight Corps and all ranks salute the supreme sacrifice of braveheart, Nb Sub Rakesh Kumar of 2 Para (SF). Sub Rakesh was part of a joint CI (counter-insurgency) operation launched in general area of Bhart Ridge Kishtwar. We stand with bereaved family in this hour of grief," the Army said in its latest tweet.

Earlier, a police spokesperson also confirmed that an encounter was underway with the terrorists responsible for the killing of the two VDGs. "Three or four terrorists are believed to be trapped in the area," the official said. The officials said a massive search operation was going on till the last reports were received.

Gracing an International Symposium on 'Shree Anna and Forgotten

Foods' (ISSFF) the CM said, "Our mothers and sisters should observe the first 'Manabasa Gurubara' of this month of 'Margasira' with offering millet before the Goddess Lakshmi and serve food prepared from millet to their kith & kin." Majhi also requested the locals to offer food, laddu and pudding prepared from the whole grains of millet before Goddess Lakshmi as Prasad on the

Odisha: Concerns over stability of new Brahmani bridge

Parjangan (Dhenkanal)(KCN):

Just a month after the opening of the new 900-metre Brahmani river bridge, part of the National Highway-53 connecting Parjangan in Dhenkanal district and Talcher in Angul district, significant structural issues are causing alarm among the locals. With large potholes appearing on this newly-constructed bridge, a vital link for thousands of heavy vehicles travelling daily between Jajpur, Dhenkanal, Keonjhar, and Angul districts, commuters are panicked over their safety given the poor construction of the structure.

Despite substantial funding for the expansion of NH-53, the project was delayed.

The National Highways

Authority of India (NHAI) had only recently approved vehicle movement on the bridge, which was completed well beyond the deadline. However, owing to ongoing repairs on the old bridge, the NHAI has completely stopped plying of vehicles, making the new bridge the sole route for commuters. Local sources allege that insufficient oversight by the NHAI led to substandard work despite considerable government funds being allocated to the contractor. There are increasing demands from the public for departmental authorities to investigate and ensure the structural stability of the bridge.

working under the bridge narrowly escaped injury when a portion of concrete fell prompting them to flee in fear. To address the depression, the consultancy agency installed concrete pillars to support the bridge on the affected stretch. Local sources allege that insufficient oversight by the NHAI led to substandard work despite considerable government funds being allocated to the contractor. There are increasing demands from the public for departmental authorities to investigate and ensure the structural stability of the bridge.

BJD slams BJP for repeating previous government's decisions, saffron camp responds Bhubaneswar,(KCN): BJD-led government in Odisha has been following the footsteps of the previous government, launching a scathing attack BJD spokesperson Lenin Mohanty said on Sunday.

"Most of this government's decisions, which are now being taken, were already taken by the previous government. The dates of their implementation were also announced. Just by making fresh announcements, the Government is trying to earn accolades in its favour. Hence, the present government is not doing anything new," the BJD spokesperson alleged.

"Ten-day extra casual leave was accorded to mothers and sisters of Odisha for their monthly menstrual cycle. This decision was taken on March 12, 2024, by the previous BJD government. A notification in this regard has already been issued and the new norm has been implemented. Everything is complete as of now," the BJD leader said in a presser. "On the same date, it was also announced that Padma awardees of the State will be given an assistance of Rs 25,000 each," Lenin Mohanty further said.

Two tribal women died in Mandipaka village of Kandhamal district after consuming mango kernel gruel, recently, as PDS rice was not distributed to them. The present government has failed to resolve the potato crisis, the BJD spokesperson added.

Civil Supplies Minister must be immediately dismissed, Lenin Mohanty demanded.

Reacting to this, the Civil Supplies Minister Krishna Chandra Patra expressed, "All missions failed during their (BJD) rule. At least 20 persons died in Kashipur block in 2016. Whose government was ruling at that time? However, no one had resigned then."

Echoing a similar view, Law Minister Prithiviraj Harichandan said mediapersons, "We do not know if announcements were made. They (BJD) were announcing many things. All that I want to say is, the things which they forgot during the past 24-year rule, they remembered those in the last four months after they were thrown out of power. Memory was feeble at that time and has become fresh now. They should preserve their memory power."

Odisha startup launches 'fully autonomous' logistics drone service

Bhubaneswar(KCN): An Odisha-based startup Bon V Aero has launched a fully autonomous logistics drone service called Air Orca, a source said Sunday.

The launch of the drone service was made in the presence of venture capitalist Tim Draper, the source added.

"Today's launch of Air Orca marks an important advancement for India's logistics sector and for us as an Odisha-based company", said Satyabrata Sathapathy, CEO of Bon V Aero said Saturday. "Developing and manufacturing this drone indigenously has allowed us to tailor it for India's specific needs. Tim Draper's support strengthens the impact of this launch, and we are grateful for his involvement as we aim to extend Air Orca's benefits to both civilian and defence applications across India," Sathapathy

Tim Draper said: "It's exciting to witness the launch of Air Orca here in Odisha. Autonomous drones like Air Orca provide practical solutions for modern logistics by expanding reach, flexibility and reliability with myriad use cases from disaster response to high-altitude operations for the defence forces. With the recent hurricanes in the US fresh in my mind, I anticipate that Bon V Aero's innovation can be an effective tool for disaster response in India and globally." The Air Orca is fully designed, developed and manufactured in India by Bon V Aero.

With advanced autonomous capabilities,

Air Orca is engineered to tackle diverse logistical challenges, particularly in regions where traditional transportation methods are impractical. The drone is designed to serve as a first responder in post-disaster scenarios, delivering relief supplies to affected areas and providing critical support during emergencies.

"Bon V Aero is first Indian company to set a world record by lifting a 30 kg payload at Umling La, Ladakh, the highest motorable road pass at 19,024 feet. This performance outshines helicopters, which face greater challenges when transporting similar cargo at such high altitudes," Sathapathy said.

The startup also claimed that Air Orca aims to address a variety of logistics needs across sectors like healthcare, e-commerce, military logistics and disaster management on a global scale.

ECoR GM Inspects Boudh-Purunakatak Rail Section of Khurda Road-Balangir Rail Line Project

Bhubaneswar, (KCN): The General Manager of East Coast Railway (ECoR), Shri Parmeshwar Funkwal, on Saturday conducted an inspection of the newly constructed rail line between Boudh and Purunakatak, to review progress in the ongoing Khurda Road-Balangir Rail Line project. This inspection is a crucial step towards ensuring the timely completion of the project, which is set to improve connectivity in remote and aspirational regions of Odisha.

Key Highlights from the Inspection:

- Progress of Track laying: The engine rolling and testing for the track between Boudh and Purunakatak has already been successfully completed by the Construction Unit.

- Project Completion: Out of the total 301 km stretch of the Khurda Road-Balangir Rail Line, 226 km has been completed to date, with 199 km already commissioned and fit for operations.

- Progress on

New Section: A significant milestone was achieved with the completion of a 27 km stretch between Purunakatak and Boudh. In the newly constructed stretch between Purunakatak and Champapur includes 9 major bridges, 2 Road Over Bridges (ROBs), 15 Road Under Bridges (RUBs), and 35 minor bridges, all essential for facilitating safe and efficient rail operations.

Ongoing Construction Efforts: The rail line from Boudh to Champapur, part of the larger stretch, was completed in May 2024, and construction activities are now progressing rapidly in the remaining sections. To expedite the completion, work is being carried out from both ends simultaneously, ensuring adherence to the project's ambitious timeline.

Remaining Section: Of the total 301 km, the remaining 75 km section between Purunakatak and Daspalla, which includes tunnel construction through dense jungle and sanctuary areas, is progressing steadily. The completion of these tunnels is expected to be a major breakthrough for the project.

A Vital Infrastructure Initiative: The Khurda Road-Balangir Rail Line project is poised to significantly enhance transportation and economic development, particularly in the more remote and underserved regions of Odisha. By improving connectivity between key towns and cities, the rail line will facilitate smoother movement of train traffic, while also contributing to regional economic growth.

Shri Funkwal, during his inspection, emphasized the importance of maintaining the pace of construction and ensuring that necessary passenger amenities are in place at all the proposed stations. He further expressed confidence that the project will be completed on time, despite the engineering challenges posed by the difficult terrain, particularly the tunnel sections.

Looking Ahead: The project has gained close attention from the Ministry of Railways, which is committed to delivering this vital infrastructure on schedule. The successful completion of the Boudh-Purunakatak section is a major step forward and demonstrates the dedication of Indian Railways in overcoming engineering challenges to deliver critical infrastructure in the most difficult environments. Following successful clearance from the Commissioner of Railway Safety (CRS) and the completion of related infrastructure and amenities, decision on running train services will be taken on the newly laid sections. A light engine trial run has already been conducted to ensure the track's fitness for regular operations.

As the project continues to progress, the Khurda Road-Balangir Rail Line remains a key initiative for enhancing connectivity and creating new opportunities for economic development across Odisha.

Bhoothnath 3 in the works, Amitabh Bachchan and SRK might be back: Report

Bhoothnath (2008), and Bhoothnath Returns (2014) were both successful films in the horror-comedy franchise, and now the makers are toying with the idea of making Bhoothnath 3. They are also eager to approach Amitabh Bachchan and Shah Rukh Khan for bigger roles.

The makers of the Bhoothnath franchise seem to have pushed the gears for its third part. According to the latest buzz, T-Series and BR Films have teamed up to work on Bhoothnath 3, shaping it up as a bigger horror-comedy franchise. The talks are also going on about bringing back both Amitabh Bachchan and Shah Rukh Khan to make it a grand film. A report published in Pinkvilla mentioned that after the success of the Bhool Bhulaiyaa franchise, Bhushan Kumar is keen on having one more successful horror-comedy franchise under his banner. Bhoothnath 3 is still in its early stages, but the producers are extremely confident about bringing out the third film soon.

The report quoted a source close to the production mentioning that the writing work has begun on the film, and the rest of the decisions will be taken once the script is locked. "Bhoothnath 3 is in the development stage at the moment, and the producers are toying with the idea of bringing Bhoothnath back to the spectacle. If everything goes as planned, Bhoothnath 3 will go on floor in 2025, for a 2026 release. The script work has begun, and the makers are happy with the germ that they have for Bhoothnath 3," the source said.

The report added that the previous Bhoothnath films featured Shah Rukh Khan in cameos, but this one might just be a gamechanger. "While part one and two had a cameo of Shah Rukh Khan, the makers are aiming at bigger goals for the third instalment, though everything will boil down to the script eventually. It's too early in the day to discuss casting, as the makers are presently focusing on getting the script right. A director will be associated once the script is locked," the source elaborated. Bhoothnath, a 2008 film, and Bhoothnath Returns, which came in 2014 and was directed by Nitesh Tiwari, were loved by the masses because of their innocence and the fact that the films featured a lovable ghost character

Do Patti's audio label faces plagiarism allegations over Maiyya song

T-Series and composer duo Sachet-Parampara have been accused of plagiarising a track by Rajarshi Mitter for the song Maiyya in Netflix's Do Patti. A woman on Facebook claimed that the song is a copy of the track made by her husband. Many people voiced their support and condemned T-Series and Sachet-Parampara.

T-Series has found itself embroiled in yet another plagiarism dispute, with musician Nilanjana Ghosh Dastidar accusing the company, along with composer duo Sachet-Parampara, of copying a track by her husband, Rajarshi Mitter, for the song Maiyya from Netflix's Do Patti. The film, starring Kriti Sanon and Kajol, released on Netflix on October 25. Dastidar voiced her dismay on social media, calling for accountability from T-Series and Sachet-Parampara and sharing a link to Mitter's original composition. Support poured in for Nilanjana, many condemning T-Series and Sachet-Parampara. One user commented, "Sachet Tandon, shame on you man (sic)," while others echoed the sentiment, pointing out the striking similarity between the two tracks. One user remarked, "I just compared both songs, and they're identical, note by note (sic)." Neither T-Series nor Sachet-Parampara have responded to these latest accusations.

Karan Johar's Dharma Productions stops pre-release screenings. Here's why

Dharma Productions, led by Karan Johar, has decided to halt pre-release screenings of their films, citing the need to adapt and maintain the excitement of the cinematic experience. However, they will still host press screenings on the release day to ensure timely reviews. Filmmaker-producer Karan Johar's Dharma Productions will not host pre-release screenings for their upcoming films. Addressed to the media, the production house, under the signatures of Dharma co-founders KJo and Apoorva Mehta, issued a statement citing the reason behind their decision.

The letter addressed "dear members of the media", and stated, "For years, rather decades, you have firmly stood by us at Dharma Productions, supporting our films, sharing our dreams, and celebrating our victories. Your faith in us has been a driving force throughout our journey, and we'd like to take this moment to extend our deepest and heartfelt gratitude to you all. Each coverage, review, and feedback has been invaluable to us, and they have undeniably helped us make our films reach audiences far and wide (sic)."

The note further read,

"As we continue to evolve, we find ourselves at a juncture where we must adapt and innovate our approach. After much deliberation, we've unanimously decided to forgo pre-release screenings for our upcoming films. This decision has been difficult to make, however, we believe it's a necessary step in ensuring that every viewer, including our friends in the media, witness our stories as they were meant to be experienced. We believe it will help in maintaining the excitement of the cinematic experience for all (sic)."

The production house

clarified that though there wouldn't be pre-release screenings, they would host screenings for the press in the first half of the film's release day for timely reviews. "Having said that, we understand the importance of timely reviews and the role they play in the success of our films. Therefore, we are pleased to announce that we will be hosting press screenings in the first half of the release day for each of our movies. We warmly welcome all media personnel to join us at these screenings, where you will be the first to witness our latest offerings (sic)," the note said.

The makers concluded the note with, "We value the relationship built with each one of you over the years and look forward to your continued cooperation. Thank you again for your consistent support (sic)."

Dharma Productions' upcoming release includes Alia Bhatt's Jigra.

Boney Kapoor confirms 'No Entry 2', shares Anil Kapoor is 'angry, not talking'

Producer Boney Kapoor recently confirmed the sequel of the 2005 multi-star comedy 'No Entry' is ready to roll. In a new interview, Boney spilled that Varun Dhawan, Diljit Dosanjh and Arjun Kapoor are set to headline the second part.

The film, which will complete 20 years in 2025, originally starred Salman Khan, Fardeen Khan and Anil Kapoor in the lead. Directed by Anees Bazmee, the film also featured Bipasha Basu, Esha Deol, Lara Dutta and Celina Jaitly in key roles. Now, in an interview with Indian Express, Boney Kapoor confirmed 'No Entry 2' and said, "The film is on cards, and we are set for it. It is a big one and we will probably start rolling by December this year. We have got Varun, Arjun and Diljit. There will be a lot of actresses as well."

While the original was a movie about philandering men, it is reported that the sequel will feature double roles of Varun, Diljit and Arjun.

The producer further mentioned that they are tight-lipped about the concept of the sequel as he fears it getting plagiarized. "Earlier, the concept had spilled over and some films had copied it, or rather 'adapted' it. I don't want to name the film, so it is better not to speak about it. I used to brag about the unusual concept we had but then I found out there was another film that was made with the same concept," he added. In another interview with Zoom, Boney revealed that his brother Anil Kapoor, who was a part of the first installment, is angry with him. It is because the actor wanted to be a part of the film, however, Boney said that there was 'no space'. "I know he wanted to be a part of the No Entry sequel, but there was no space. I wanted to explain why I did what I did," he said. The producer mentioned that his brother is still not talking properly with him. Meanwhile, Varun Dhawan is currently shooting for his next film with Shashank Khaitan and David Dhawan. Arjun Kapoor, on the other hand, is busy with Rohit Shetty's 'Singham Again'

Retraction of Statement made during Search Part 2

Adv. Narayan Jain & CA Dilip Loyalka

(Contd from 4th Nov 2024)

Decisions where Retraction of Statement was held VALID 2.9 Asstt. CIT v. Rameshchandra R. Patel [2004] 89 ITD 203 (Ahd.) (TM) – It was accepted that the assessee had a right to retract but that has to be based on evidence brought on record to the contrary and there must be justifiable reason and material accepting retraction i.e., cogent and sufficient material have to be placed on record for acceptance or retraction. All that has to be done by the assessee if he is to retract the statement which was recorded in the presence of witnesses unless there is evidence of pressure or coercion. The facts of each case have to be considered to reach the conclusion whether retraction was possible or not as there can be no universal rule. Further corroboration of retracted statement is necessary where the section 132(4) represents some other concealed income. Therefore, it is clear that there is no material available with the department to justify the addition so far as the difference between the income computed by the Assessing Officer and income disclosed under section 132(4). In other words, the so-called disclosure under section 132(4) is bald and has no legs to stand and in such a case retraction is justified.

2.11 Avadh Kishore Das v. Ram Gopal AIR 1979 SC 861: The Supreme Court held that evidentiary admissions are not conclusive proof of the facts admitted and may be explained or shown to be wrong, but they do raise an estoppel and shift the burden of proof on to the person making them. The ITAT allowed part relief to assessee.

2.10 Asstt. CIT v. Anoop Kumar [2005] 147 Taxman 26 (Asr.) (Mag.): The A.O. worked out the income on the basis of seized material which was less than the income declared in statement under section 132(4). The assessment was, however, made on the income confessed in the statement. The Tribunal observed: "...It is also a fact that total income so computed by the Assessing Officer falls below the income disclosed under section 132(4). It is not the case of the department that the difference in the income assessed and income disclosed under the admission made by him earlier is not correct or contains a wrong statement or that the true state of affairs is different from that represented therein and so, the same should not be acted upon for fastening tax liability which should rather be fixed on the basis of correct/true facts, as ascertained from material on record. Unless it is explained as stated above, the admission does retain its binding nature for the person who makes the admission and the same may, if considered reasonable in view of other facts on record and following the principles of preponderance of probability, form the basis of fastening liability. The ITAT allowed part relief to assessee.

2.12 Gyan Chand Jain v. ITO [2001] 73 TTJ (Jodh.) 859 – Held that, it is not the position of law that no addition can be made on the basis of an admission at all, but the position of law is that the person making an admission is not always bound by it and sometimes can get out of its binding purview if that person can explain concisely with supportive evidence/material or otherwise that Legislature in its wisdom has provided that such a statement may be used as evidence in any proceedings under the Act. However, there are exceptions to such admission where the assessee can retract from such statement/admission. The first exception exists where such statement is made involuntarily, i.e., obtained under coercion, threat, duress, undue influence, etc. But the burden lies on the person making such allegation to prove that the statement was obtained by the aforesaid means. The second exception is where the statement has been given under some mistaken belief either of fact or of law. If he can show that the statement has been made on mistaken belief of facts, than the facts on the basis of which admission was made were incorrect.

2.14 CIT (LTU) v. Reliance Industries Ltd. [2019] 102 taxmann.com 372 (Bombay)/[2019] 261 Taxman 358 (Bombay)/[2020] 421 ITR 686 (Bombay) [SLP granted in [2020] 114 taxmann.com 320 (SC)], the Appellate Authorities allowed payments made to 'S', a consultant holding that there was sufficient evidence justifying payments made to 'S' and Assessing Officer other than relying upon statement of 'S' recorded in search had no independent material to make disallowance. The CIT (Appeal) and Tribunal concurrently held that 'S' retracted his statement within a short time by filing an affidavit. Subsequently his further statement was recorded in which he also reiterated the stand taken in affidavit. The High Court slammed AO for making disallowance of payment merely relying on statement of payer recorded during search, which said that 'S' had not rendered any service to assessee so as to receive such payments. The allowance of payments made to 'S', a consultant, was allowed as business expenditure. The assessee had set up a captive power generating unit and provided electricity to its another unit. It claimed deduction u/s 80-IA in respect of the profits arising out of such activity. It contended before the Assessing Officer that the valuation of electricity provided to another unit should be at the rate at which the electricity distribution companies were allowed to supply electricity to the consumers. The issue at hand had been examined by the Bombay High Court on earlier occasion in Income Tax Appeal No. 2180 of 2011 and the view taken by the Tribunal in similar circumstances was upheld. A similar issue came up for consideration before the Chhattisgarh High Court in the case of CIT v. Godawari Power & Ispat Ltd. [2014] 42 taxmann.com 551/223 Taxman 234 (Chhattisgarh), in which the Court had upheld the claim of the assessee. Gujarat High Court in the case of Pr.CIT v. Gujarat Alkalies & Chemicals Ltd. [2017] 395 ITR 247/88 taxmann.com 722 (Gujarat) also had occasion to examine such an issue and allowed the expenditure.

2.15 In CIT v. Uttamchand Jain [2009] 182 Taxman 343 (Bom)/[2010] 320 ITR 554 (Bombay), the Assessee, a dealer in diamonds, had declared certain diamond jewellery under Voluntary Disclosure of Income Scheme, 1997 – Said declaration was accepted by department and a certificate was issued to assessee – In his return of income for relevant year, assessee claimed to have sold said jewellery to one T on 20-1-1999. Return was processed u/s 143(1)(a), but later, on basis of statement of T recorded during course of survey conducted upon him wherein he had stated that he was not actually doing business of diamonds and transactions reflected in his books of account were merely accommodation entries. Remembering Prof. Dr. Srinivas Mishra: A Luminary of Odia Literature and Culture

Dr. Manoranjan Panda & Kalyani Mishra.

The first death anniversary of Prof. Dr. Srinivas Mishra brings together a community that feels his absence deeply yet celebrates his impactful life. A revered writer, editor, and social worker, Dr. Mishra's contributions to Odia language and culture have left a lasting legacy in Bhubaneswar and beyond. His name resonates with respect and admiration among students, teachers, and all those who appreciate the beauty of Odia language and the richness of its cultural heritage. Known for his compassionate personality and tireless commitment, Dr. Mishra's influence extended far beyond his literary accomplishments—he was a mentor, a motivator, and a guide.

A Life Devoted to Learning and Teaching

Born in a modest family of 5 brothers, among two of them were IAS officers Dr. Luxmidhar Mishra and Rajkishor Mishra. Dr. Mishra's early life was marked by a profound curiosity and a love for knowledge. His journey as an academic began with ShantiNiketan university, Utkal University and Berhampur university as a Odia Language professor, a thirst to understand and preserve his mother tongue, Odia, and he went on to study it with unwavering dedication. He pursued higher education, gaining expertise in Odia literature, linguistics, and philosophy. It wasn't long before his intellectual gifts led him to a career in academia, where he quickly became known for his exceptional teaching skills. Students who attended his lectures remember him as a patient and inspiring teacher who had an innate ability to make complex ideas accessible.

Dr. Mishra's popularity among his students was not merely a result of his knowledge, but his approach to teaching. He treated students with warmth and empathy, cultivating an environment where they felt comfortable asking questions and expressing their ideas. Many former students describe him as a mentor who instilled in them not only academic knowledge but also values and confidence. His approach to teaching extended beyond the classroom as well; he was known to hold informal sessions and discussions, encouraging students to engage critically with literature and develop their own voices. Championing the Odia Language and Culture While Dr. Mishra excelled as a teacher and academic, his role as a social worker and cultural advocate was equally significant. A passionate proponent of the Odia language, he believed in its beauty, its expressive potential, and its importance to Odia identity. His advocacy for Odia language preservation took many forms. He fought for its official recognition, participated in campaigns to increase its use in educational institutions, and engaged with organizations dedicated to promoting regional languages.

His editorial skills, meanwhile, earned him recognition from prestigious literary institutions. Dr. Mishra's role as an editor was transformative for many writers, especially emerging voices in Odia literature. He was known to provide constructive criticism, encouraging new writers to perfect their craft while staying true to their roots. As an editor and writer, Dr. Mishra's work reflects his devotion to Odia culture. He was deeply involved in producing literary works that highlighted the depth and breadth of Odia heritage. His writings not only entertained but also educated, often bringing to light the richness of Odia traditions, folklore, and oral histories. His editing work, meanwhile, showcased his sharp mind and meticulous attention to detail. Through both roles, he helped create a repository of knowledge that future generations can learn from and cherish. His editorial contributions were instrumental in refining and preserving Odia literary works, ensuring that they remained true to their roots while being accessible to modern readers.

Literary Achievements and Legacy

A Beloved Personality Among Students and Teachers

Dr. Mishra's presence on campus was nothing short of iconic. Students admired him not just for his knowledge, but for his approachability and humility. He had a unique ability to connect with students of all backgrounds, making each one feel valued. Dr. Mishra was known to spend hours after lectures engaging in discussions, patiently answering questions, and often offering guidance on personal as well as academic matters. Many of his former students credit him with inspiring them to pursue careers in literature, teaching, and social work.

His relationship with fellow faculty members was equally remarkable. Dr. Mishra treated his colleagues with respect and camaraderie, always willing to share his knowledge and collaborate on projects. He was known to bring innovative ideas to the academic community, often initiating discussions on how to make education more inclusive and effective. His colleagues remember him as a person of integrity, someone who believed in the power of education to transform lives.

A Visionary Social Worker for Odia Bhasa and Sanskruti

Dr. Mishra's commitment to Odia Bhasa (language) and Sanskruti (culture) extended beyond academic and literary circles. He was a vocal advocate for cultural preservation, actively involved in campaigns to protect Odisha's linguistic and cultural heritage. His efforts included organizing cultural festivals, seminars, and workshops aimed at fostering an appreciation for Odia traditions among young people. He believed that preserving one's cultural identity was essential in an increasingly globalized world, and he worked tirelessly to instill this belief in others. Through his social work, Dr. Mishra championed the cause of language preservation, especially at a time when regional languages are often overshadowed by the dominance of global languages. He understood the importance of Odia language as a cultural anchor and believed that maintaining a connection to one's roots was crucial for personal and collective identity. His work continues to inspire activists, educators, and policymakers who are dedicated to the cause of Odia language and culture.

Honoring His Legacy

Dr. Srinivas Mishra's legacy is one that transcends generations. His contributions to literature, education, and cultural preservation have left an indelible mark on Odisha's history. On his first death anniversary, it is fitting to remember his life's work and to draw inspiration from it. Educational institutions, literary communities, and cultural organizations across Bhubaneswar and Odisha will undoubtedly continue to honor his memory by building upon the foundations he laid.

Many of his former students and colleagues have pledged to carry forward his mission, advocating for the Odia language and promoting its literature. In addition, plans to establish an annual literary award in his name are underway, intended to support and recognize emerging Odia writers who share Dr. Mishra's passion for storytelling and cultural preservation. His family, friends, and admirers hope that this will not only keep his memory alive but also inspire future generations to contribute to the literary and cultural fabric of Odisha.

Conclusion

Prof. Dr. Srinivas Mishra's life is a testament to the power of dedication, passion, and integrity. His contributions to Odia literature, education, and social causes have created a legacy that will inspire generations to come. As we observe his

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor

Every single day of our life in any corner of this great country we curse the local, regional and central governments; and our politicians. We are all frustrated with the lack of responsibility, credibility and accountability of our governments and our beloved politicians. But in my opinion, as has been said before that 'people get the same kind of government they deserve'. Our politicians come from the same society to which we all belong; so they carry the same baggage as we all have. Since we ourselves as proud citizens of this nation are not at all responsible towards our own society and our own responsibilities; hence, we will not have politicians and governments too who are responsible towards their duties and responsibilities. For making a better society we do not need to change the politicians; but, change ourselves, change our attitudes and behaviour, enhance our education and awareness. Once we could demonstrate that we have changed, the politicians and the governments would change too and cater to their duties and responsibilities. I strongly believe in what Mahatma Gandhi once said: 'Be the change you want to see in others'. As we change, we create a better society and nation and hence a better government. Let us point the fingers at ourselves while looking into the mirror for bringing positive changes to the nation.

Thanking you

Sincerely yours

Saikat Kumar Basu

Congress Working Only For Self-interest, Not For Farmers: CM Haryana

Chandigarh (JAG MOHAN THAKEN), (KCN): Haryana Chief Minister, Nayab Singh Saini, alleged that congress party is working for its own interests and not for the interests of the farmers. Taking a dig at the Opposition, he said the Congress is not able to digest the farmer-friendly policies of the government. For the Congress, which claims to protect the interests of farmers, their own interests are paramount, not the interests of the farmers. He said that seeing the farmer-friendly decisions of the Haryana Government and the arrangements made in the mandis for crop purchase, farmers of neighbouring states are also willing to sell their crops in the mandis of Haryana. C M Saini said that in other states, farmers had to agitate to get their crops purchased at MSP, whereas in Haryana, the government made robust arrangements and every grain of the farmers' crop is being purchased at MSP. The Chief Minister said the Haryana Government has made all arrangements for the availability of fertilizers. Congress leaders are working to mislead the farmers whereas the truth is that adequate stock of fertilizers is available in Haryana and its distribution is also being ensured properly. C M Saini has requested all the farmers not to pay attention to any kind of rumours. He said his government is committed to ensure continuous supply of DAP in the state so that farmers do not face any kind of problem in sowing Rabi crops. DAP is available in various districts. Within the next two to three days, 9,172 metric tonnes more DAP will be received in various districts of the state.

He said the DAP stock in the state is equal to the demand of last year. Last year, from October 1 to November 9, the consumption of DAP was 1,46,152 metric tonnes. This time, till November 9, 2024, 1,54,540 metric tonnes have been consumed. He said the Government of India has allotted 1,10,200 metric tonnes of DAP to Haryana for the month of November. Apart from this, 71,281 metric tonnes of Single Super Phosphate (SSP) and 24,343 metric tonnes of NPK stock are still available in the state. The Chief Minister said the state government has also worked for the interests of commission agents. "Our government has increased the commission of the commission agent from Rs 46 per quintal to Rs 55 per quintal. The additional burden of Rs 9 per quintal will be borne by the state government. The government has resolved all the problems of all rice millers in every possible way. A bonus of Rs 62.58 crore has been given to all rice millers till August 31, 2024 for delivery of CMR in the state. Apart from this, the matter of out-turn ratio of hybrid varieties of paddy has also been placed before the Government of India. Giving information about the purchase of Kharif crops, the Chief Minister said during this Kharif season 2024-25, 4,84,927 farmers are registered on the 'Meri Fasal Mera Byora' portal for paddy. The government has made complete arrangements for the payment of the crop. After the purchase of the crop, the work of transferring the money to the accounts of the farmers was done within 72 hours. BJP promises strict anti-conversion law, skill census in Maharashtra

Mumbai (KCN): BJP Sunday promised to enact an anti-conversion law with stringent provisions in Maharashtra, and also assured a skill census for training as per industry needs as well as free ration to low-income families.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah unveiled in Mumbai the 25-point 'Sankalp Patra 2024', as per which the financial assistance component under the Mahayuti government's Ladki Bahin scheme for women will be increased from Rs 1,500 per month to Rs 2,100. The BJP, in its manifesto for the November 20 state assembly polls, also promised to create 25 lakh job opportunities and assured 10 lakh students will get a stipend of Rs 10,000 every month.

The ruling Mahayuti comprises the BJP, Shiv Sena of Chief Minister Eknath Shinde and NCP led by Deputy CM Ajit Pawar. The BJP's manifesto promised that an anti-conversion law will be enacted with stringent action against forced and deceitful conversions.

Through the skill census, the ruling party assured to ascertain the needs of the industry and upgrade skill training wherever necessary. Under the Akshay Anna Yojana, low-income families will be provided free food items every month through the Public Distribution System (PDS), as per the manifesto.

The BJP has also planned to develop the state into an advanced robotic and Artificial Intelligence (AI) training hub. It also promised to create 10 lakh new business leaders through the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Akanksha centres in each district.

Challenges galore for turtle protection

Kendrapara(KCN): Even though the Forest department's seven-month-long fishing ban to protect Olive Ridley turtles came into force since November 1, the implementation of the restrictions is fraught with several challenges like lack of adequate patrol boats, staff crunch at marine police stations, poor communication with the ICG personnel, and mushrooming prawn gheries (shrimp farms) violating restrictions have raised serious doubts over the implementation of the ban and safety of the rare marine species. Environmentalists apprehend that the shrinking nesting ground due to coastal erosion and frequent missile testing on nearby Wheeler Island will affect the nesting and breeding of Olive Ridleys. Locals like Ganesh Chandra Samal, Jagannath Das, highlighted several loopholes in enforcement of Indian Wildlife (Protection) Act of 1972 (Schedule I). Lack of adequate patrol boats, staff shortage at marine police stations, poor communication with the ICG personnel, and mushrooming prawn gheries (shrimp farms) violating restrictions have raised serious doubts over the implementation of the ban and safety of the rare marine species. Environmentalists apprehend that the shrinking nesting ground due to coastal erosion and frequent missile testing on nearby Wheeler Island will affect the nesting and breeding of Olive Ridleys. Locals like Ganesh Chandra Samal, Jagannath Das, Dolagobind Jena, environmentalists Hemanta Kumar Rout and Ashok Kumar Swain have noted that 4-5 lakh turtles visit this area every year, which takes the nature lovers and wildlife by surprise. The rare Olive Ridley turtles have been placed in the Red Data Book of International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN) which has mentioned that only one out of 1,000 hatchlings grow into a fully developed adult. This has raised concerns over the growth of Olive Ridley population. Gahirmatha, spread over 1,435 sqkm, has been designated as a separate national park area from Bhitarkanika since 1997. Out of the total area of the marine sanctuary, only 27 sqkm is land mass. However, erosion has affected land areas like Madali, Babubali, and Ekakula. Moreover, Agarnashi Island has been fully gobbled up by the sea. Meanwhile, experts have opined that massive mangrove plantation can check coastal erosion to a great extent. Absence of proper nesting sites and death of the turtles at regular intervals have posed grave threats to the conservation efforts. Moreover, the Forest department lacks proper boats to chase and nab the illegally operating fishing trawlers which pose threats to the turtles. Adding to the problem, Marine police stations at Tantipal, Kharinasi and Jambu are grappling with staff crunch which makes the efforts ineffective.

These apart, prawn gheries discharging chemicals into the sea also poses threats to this marine creature. The state government has taken up a slew of measures for protection of Olive Ridley turtles. The marine species has been the mascot during several events and eco-tourism launched by the state government. When contacted, Rajnagar Divisional Forest Officer (DFO) Sudarshan Gopinath Yadav said that the department has been holding camps on the coastlines and deploying armed personnel for the safety of the turtles. Patrolling has been intensified, he added. However, despite the extensive measures for turtle protection, illegal entry of trawlers and lack of patrol boats stand as a stumbling block on the way of turtle protection. Notably, in 2023, more than 70 boats and trawlers were seized for illegally operating in restricted zones, while over 300 cases were filed during the period.

ICC cancels November 11 Champions Trophy event over scheduling imbroglio

New Delhi: The International Cricket Council (ICC) has cancelled a key event related to next year's Champions Trophy due to the ongoing imbroglio surrounding the scheduling, specifically that of India games. The ICC was to formally announce the programme on Monday (November 11) in Lahore, but this has been cancelled.

"The schedule is not confirmed, we are still in discussions with the host and participating nations on the Champions Trophy schedule. Once confirmed we will announce through our normal channels," said an official in the know of the developments following India's refusal to travel to Pakistan for the eight-team 50-over competition. Repeated inquiries to the ICC about the cancellation went unanswered. The ICC had made elaborate arrangements for the event, which would have marked the 100-day countdown to the February 19-March 19 championship. However, scheduling issues have complicated matters. It is eminently possible that the world body might cite the toxic smog that is enveloping the city of Lahore as a convenient reason. At least one official hinted at this possibility.

"It was only a trophy tour flag off and tournament/branding launch," said an official downplaying the controversy surrounding the schedule and the non-starting event on November 11. "That (the event) is still in the works -- though may be rescheduled because of Lahore outdoor activities are difficult right now." A source in the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) said no event has been scheduled for Monday. It is now evident that the ICC and hosts PCB will need to adopt a hybrid model - an arrangement that had always been anticipated. Provisions were made, and a budget was sanctioned for a partial relocation, as first reported by Cricbuzz on August 3. This budget allows for a contingency plan of hosting some matches outside Pakistan, most likely in the UAE.

While it was always known that India's travel to Pakistan was uncertain, the role of the ICC in the whole saga cannot escape scrutiny. It has come to light that during the recent board meeting in Dubai, the ICC informed members and stakeholders that the confidence. Recent developments seem to suggest otherwise.

Post the board meeting, the BCCI formally informed the ICC that it has not got permission from the Government of India to travel to Pakistan. The PCB maintains that it has not received any communication - either from the ICC or from the BCCI.

"We have a clear stance that they must give it to us in writing if they [the Indian cricket board] have any issues. Till today, we have not spoken about any hybrid model, but we're ready to speak on this," Mohsin Naqvi, told reporters in Lahore recently. "Now, if Indian media is reporting this, then there must be some letter the ICC will give us, or the Indian Board might have written this somewhere. Till now, no such letter has reached me or the PCB," he said. There is no escape that the ICC and PCB will have to agree to a hybrid model with UAE being the second host with all India matches to be played in Dubai or Abu Dhabi. India were originally scheduled to play Bangladesh on February 20, New Zealand on February 23 and Pakistan on March 1, all in Lahore. The PCB has earmarked Rawalpindi, Karachi and Lahore for the event. Changes to the venues, if not the dates of the 15-match competition, are on the cards.

England go 1-0 up after Salt blitz

New Delhi: Phil Salt's third T20I ton (103* off 54) paved the way for England's crushing eight-wicket win over West Indies in the opening game of the five-match T20I series. The masterclass continued Salt's affinity for West Indies as all three of his tons have come against the same opponent. Chasing a competitive target of 183, Salt's antics, coupled with his unbroken 107-run stand with Jacob Bethell (58* off 36), meant that England romped home with 19 balls to spare. It was the highest successful chase at the Kensington Oval, Barbados.

The tone to the run chase was set by a rollicking PowerPlay in which the visitors smashed 73 runs with Will Jacks falling off the final ball of the sixth over. His innings, however, was just second fiddle as Salt ran riot from the get-go. Akeal Hossain was given respect for his nagging lines and lengths but Salt tore into the other bowlers, notably Shamar Joseph who conceded 24 off his opening over. Skipper Jos Buttler's international comeback didn't go to plan as he fell for a golden duck to Romario Shepherd. His dismissal closely followed Jacks' and it was a period where West Indies would have hoped to pull things back. However, Bethell got into his work instantly and the left-right combination thwarted West Indies' plans. The extraordinary PowerPlay meant that the scoreboard pressure wasn't much of a factor and both batters took a measured approach while also not letting the bowlers settle. The surface also eased out with not much help on offer for the bowlers, particularly the spinners. Ultimately, West Indies had no ideas to the onslaught and were arguably about 20-25 runs short of a competitive total. Earlier in the day, West Indies were in early trouble at 18/3 after being put into bat. Saqib Mahmood (4-34) struck thrice with the new ball to put the home side under pressure. Brandon King was the first to fall as his attempted step out drive picked out short cover. Mahmood's next over saw a double strike as Evin Lewis and Shimron Hetmyer fell off successive deliveries to jolt the Windies. Adil Rashid (3-32) ensured that England chipped away at the wickets as West Indies slipped to 69/5 and 117/8 later on. Nicholas Pooran (38 off 29) tried to hold the innings together but when he became the seventh wicket to fall, West Indies were in danger of finishing on a below-par total. However, powerful cameos from Andre Russell (30 off 17), Romario Shepherd (35* off 22) and Gudakesh Motie (33* off 14) gave a strong finish for the home side. The depth of the batting order came to West Indies' rescue as England's death bowling struggled to find their radar. Unfortunately for the hosts, 182 proved to little as Salt made a mockery of the run chase in the second half.

Brief scores: West Indies 182/9 in 20 overs (Nicholas Pooran 38, Romario Shepherd 35*; Saqib Mahmood 4-34, Adil Rashid 3-32) lost to England 183/2 in 16.5 overs (Phil Salt 103*, Jacob Bethell 58*; Gudakesh Motie 1-45) by eight wickets.

New Delhi: Hobart Hurricanes opener Lizelle Lee put on a stunning display by smashing the record for the highest score in WBBL history in her side's comfortable win over Perth Scorchers. Retired from international cricket in 2022, the South African broke the record previously held by Grace Harris (136*) to remain unbeaten on 150 off just 75 deliveries in her side's total of 203/3. The assault took place despite Chloe Ainsworth striking early twice to reduce Hurricanes to 16/2 in just three overs. Lee smashed successive sixes in the very next over to break free and signal her intentions before bringing up a 29-ball half-century. Elyse Villani was just a mere spectator in their century stand as it was all Lee causing the damage. The 32-year-old reached her ton off 51 deliveries with another six as she went on to clear the ropes 12 times in her innings, which was again a record in women's T20 cricket, with the previous being 11 from Harris. Lee's 150* is the fifth highest score in women's T20 cricket. Post that hammering, Scorchers were in for a rude shock in the run chase as Molly Strano got rid of Sophie Devine first ball before Chloe Piparo got run out for a duck off the third delivery of the innings. 0/2 quickly became 15/3 as Strano dismissed Dayalan Hemalatha as well. Wickets fell in heaps as Heather Graham got into the act in the middle overs to ensure the chase never got going. If not for a few lusty blows towards the end from Ainsworth, Scorchers wouldn't have likely breached 100. Brief scores: Hobart Hurricanes 203/3 in 20 overs (Lizelle Lee 150*, Chloe Ainsworth 2/17) beat Perth Scorchers 131 in 19.3 overs (Chloe Ainsworth 41; Heather Graham 3/24, Molly Strano 2/17) by 72 runs

Coco Gauff beats Zheng Qinwen to become youngest to win WTA Finals in a thriller

New Delhi: Coco Gauff became the youngest WTA Finals champion in 20 years. Defeating the world's top players, she clinched the title in a marathon battle, securing a record $4.8 million prize. Coco Gauff made history on Saturday, becoming the youngest player in 20 years to win the WTA Finals after a thrilling three-set victory over China's Zheng Qinwen. Gauff fought back to win 3-6, 6-4, 7-6(2) in a match that lasted three hours, making her the first American to claim the title since Serena Williams in 2013. The 20-year-old showed nerves of steel in the final-set tie-break, racing to a 6-0 lead before sealing the win. Overjoyed, she fell on the court in celebration, securing the year-end world number three ranking for the second consecutive year. The match was also the longest WTA Finals title clash since 2008.

"I was just trying my best to hang in there and I never gave up," Gauff said after the match. "I just love to say I'm right."

Specifically today, I got comments about how I was going to lose badly, so I was just like, 'OK, we'll see,'" Gauff explained. "It's honestly just liking the idea of just proving people wrong and, and letting your racket do the talking. And so, yeah, I use it as motivation."

Gauff beat the world's top two players — Aryna Sabalenka and Iga Swiatek — on her run to the final at the season-ending event in Riyadh. Gauff has also earned a massive $4,805,000 in prize money, the biggest in women's sports history.

Zheng, making her WTA Finals debut, took the first set in under an hour, saving five break points to keep Gauff at bay. The Olympic gold medallist continued her strong form in the second set, leading 3-1.

New Zealand's win over Pakistan officially knocked them out of the competition. Thereafter, Harmanpreet Kaur's women were subjected to criticism on social media platforms. Jemimah, who is currently playing for the Brisbane Heat in the Women's Big Bash League, lauded the ICC for trying to restore the sanity of the women's game.

"It's a very good initiative by the ICC. I remember I had gone in that live because, you know, sometimes social media can be harsh. In the end, we are humans, we are all here doing our best, trying to do whatever we can. Somedays we are great, somedays we are not.

"So, it's harsh to see people commenting all sorts of things on social media," Jemimah told India Today in a virtual interaction, organised by Cricket Australia.

"It was such a nice thing from the ICC just to protect us and just to keep the game so pure. We are here to go out there to play and enjoy cricket, rather than dealing with all these things," Jemimah added.

Jemimah had a memorable time on Saturday after she won the Player of the Match award against the Adelaide Strikers at the Gabba in Brisbane. Batting at No.3, she scored 61 runs off 40 balls, laced with seven fours and a six, before Megan Schutt, the all-time top wicket-taker in Women's T20Is, dismissed her.

Jemimah's knock made sure the Heat posted a decent total of 175 for six. The match went right down to the wire where the Heat won by eight runs. Bridget Patterson and Madeline Penna scored 61 and 47 respectively, but their knocks were in vain.
