See your naked body in the mirror rather than my clip: Radhika Apte tells nosy reporter

MUMBAI (KCN): Adil Hussain and certain job then I will do

Actress Radhika Apte on Tuesday got angry with a media reporter for asking about the leaked nude scenes in her last release "Parched".

"Sorry, your question is very ridiculous. Controversies are made by the people like you. You saw the clip, you shared with other people, so you made the controversy," she said at the launch of Swatch watches on Tuesday.

Recently, the leaked intimate scene between Radhika from "Parched" created a big controversy. However, the makers said the film is much more than the scenes.

Radhika has not been shy from speaking her mind. Rather than keeping quiet about the controversy, she stressed in all her interviews how the film was much more than that one 'sex' leaked scene.

In Tuesday's event, she said: "I am an artist... if I am required to do a

Nature care moves NGT

Bhubaneswar (KCN): Nature Care Initiative has moved to the National Green Tribunal (NGT) praying for immediately steps to ensure free flow of water in River Mahanadi system to maintain ecology and Bi Diversity of Satkosia and Bhitarkanika, which prompted the Green Panel to seek response from the Centre and other parties on the matter.

The Bench headed by Justice Jawad Rahim issued notices to Ministry of Environment and Forests, Ministry of Water Resources, Governments of Chhattisgarh and Odisha and State Pollution Control Boards and Central Pollution Control Board asking their response.

Hearing a plea filed by Shakti Prasad Nayak of Nature Care Initiative seeking legal action against all the industries operating near River mahanadi, its tributaries and distributaries being carried out without seeking prior environment clearance or in violation of the conditions prescribed in the environment clearance, if granted and without any preventive measures, and report the same to NGT.

"State of Chhattisgarh and Odisha have been constructing major and medium projects on Mahanadi without assessing its impact on water flow, ecology and biodiversity...Chhattisgarh government has constructed 8 major and 34 medium irrigation projects on the upper catchment of Mahanadi river and another four major and medium projects each are under construction.

"State of Odisha

is implementing several major and medium irrigation

The NGO contended that industries located along the river were discharging waste directly into Mahanadi which was also adversely affecting the ecosystem.

"Direct the respondent authorities to take appropriate legal action against all the urban Local Bodies/municipal corporations/sewerage Board, situated near Mahanadi, its tributaries and distributaries causing pollution and running without seeking prior environment clearance," it said. The issue of sharing of Mahanadi river water has snowballed into a major controversy between the two states.

Odisha has been accusing Government of Chhattisgarh of unilaterally constructing projects on the upstream of River Mahanadi, which caused decline in the flow of its water to the state.

Mr.Nayak has been taking up environmental issues time and again, is a senior journalist based at New Delhi.

Twin City to sparkle bright in Durga Puja lights

CUTTACK / BHUBAN-ESWAR (KCN) : Decked with exquisite pandals and beautiful light decorations, the Millennium City of Cuttack is all set to host the grandest festival of the season - Durga Puja. While artisans are busy completing the welcome arches, decorators have decked up every corner of the city with impressive lighting arrangements, thereby adding sparkle to the festivity. Organisers have spent a huge amount of money on innovative light works using LED lights.

The entire Badambadi stretch is replete with rice light strings and the decorations include three massive light gates in addition to the replica of ISKCON temple at Mayapur in West Bengal. Similar decorations can be seen at Dolomundai, Bajrakabati and Haripur where five light gates have come up apart from the roadside decorations. Apparently, each of the puja committees spends between `2 lakh and `5 lakh on illumination. With 48 big pujas being organised in the city, the total figure hovering above `70 lakh during the fourday autumn festival.

Malgodown Puja Committee is decorating the entire stretch with rice lights and five tall light gates have been erected at the cost of `four lakh. At Khan Nagar, 10 light gates have come up on a stretch of four km. Ganesh Kumar Das, chief artisan from Cuttack who designed lighting arrangements in Khan Nagar, says he has used various mythological themes to design the gates. At Jobra, Chauliaganj, Sheikh Bazaar,

Similarly in Bhubaneswar, replicas of temples, Dhauli Shanti Stupa and many more heritage sites will give Durga Puja a festive glow. At Saheed Nagar, the Puja committee has erected five massive light gates themed on Sai Baba and Goddess Durga and the budget for light decorations here in `four lakh. At Jharpada and Old Station Bazaar, eight and four majestic light gates have come up. In Nayapalli and Rasulgarh, Puja committees have set

On the other hand, CESU authorities of Cuttack and Bhubaneswar claimed that squads have been formed to check illegal use of power by Puja committees during the festival. Officer in charge of CESU (City Distribution Division, Cuttack) AK Bisoi said as LEDs are used for light decorations, not much power is being consumed by the organisers. Each Puja committees

CESU Superintending Engineer, Bhubaneswar Circle-I Sukanta Kumar Swain said each Puja committee consumes an average of 20 KW power every day and the total consumption in the four days is around 3.6 MW. He informed that eight regular and three special squads have been formed to check illegal connections.

IMF says global debt tops $152 trillion, urges some to spend more

WASHINGTON (KCN): The world is swimming in a record $152 trillion in debt, the IMF said on Wednesday, even as the institution encourages some countries to spend more to boost flagging growth if they can afford it.

Global debt, both public and private, reached 225 percent of global economic output last year, up from about 200 percent in 2002, the IMF said in its new Fiscal Monitor report.

The IMF said about about two thirds of the 2015 total, or about $100 billion, is owed by private sector borrowers, and noted that rapid increases in private debt often lead to financial crises.

While debt profiles vary by country, the report said that the sheer size of the debt could set the stage for an unprecedented private deleveraging that could thwart a still-fragile economic recovery.

"Excessive private debt is a major headwind against the global recovery and a risk to financial stability," IMF Fiscal Affairs Director Vitor Gaspar told a news conference. "Financial recessions are longer and deeper than normal recessions."

While the United States has de-leveraged efficiency. If a major since the 2008-2009 financial crisis, the report cited the buildup of private debt in China and Brazil as a significant concern, fueled in part by a long era of low interest rates.

The report comes as IMF managing director Christine Lagarde is urging the Fund's 189 member governments that have "fiscal space" - the ability to sustainably borrow and spend more - to do so to boost persistently weak growth.

The Fund's call for targeted fiscal support for consumer demand comes is accompanied by calls for continued accommodative monetary policy and accelerated structural reforms aimed at boosting countries' economic deleveraging of private debt were to occur, the IMF report recommends that fiscal policy should include targeted interventions to restructure private debt or repair bank balance sheets to minimize damage to the overall economy.

These could be similar to the mortgage restructuring programs undertaken by the United States during the crisis or the Obama administration's automotive industry restructuring, Gaspar said.

"These types of policies could be particularly useful in China," Gaspar said. "But in order to work, they need to be adequately designed and subject to strong governance principles."

Sensex trips 115 points as profit-booking persists

MUMBAI(KCN): The market continued to feel the ripple effect of lingering Brexit worries and a lacklustre Europe as the Sensex slumped 115 points, dragged down by a rush by investors to book profits in recent outperformers.

Realty, power and banking counters saw much of the losses as investors felt that the recent rally is "overdone".

Globally, it was a mixed picture. While Europe was off to a lower start, the rest of Asia closed higher mirroring an overnight rally in the US on an unexpected services sector pick-up and signs of a revival in oil prices.

The 50-share NSE Nifty remained listless too and ended down 34.40 points, or 0.39 per cent, at 8,709.55.

In the Sensex pack, NTPC plunged the most by 2.42 per cent, followed by Cipla 2.30 per cent. Others that ended up in the red include M&M, Power Grid, ICICI Bank, SBI, Infosys and Dr Reddy's, falling by up to 1.90 per cent.

A total of 22 scrips in the Sensex team ended lower. Only 8 advanced.

Realty sector took the maximum hit as it fell 1.48 per cent, followed by power (1.18 per cent), healthcare (0.99 per cent) and IT (0.87 per cent).

Sentiment took a knock after selling picked up towards the fag end of the session, particularly in realty, power, banking and healthcare stocks, as investors rushed to lock in profits.

Broader markets were no better, with the mid-cap and small-cap indices falling 0.56 per cent and 0.48 per cent, respectively.

Foreign portfolio investors (FPIs) purchased shares worth a net Rs 243.00 crore yesterday, showed provisional data.

Statesmanship of the highest degree needed to Save Mankind from Nuclear Holocaust

Statesmanship of the highest degree needed to remodel & convert the UN as the World Government to Save Mankind from Nuclear Holocaust : caused by Rogue States like Pakistan & North Korea : Prime Minister Modi should take the initiative in this regard – Freethought Party of India

Bhubaneswar (K-CN): Mankind is on the brink of huge disaster. Rogue States like Pakistan and North Korea are armed with nuclear weapons. So far Pakistan is concerned there is a great deal of internal tensions between the elected Govt., army and several terrorist Jihadist groups. The Uri attack on 18.9.2016 by Pak terrorists that killed 19 soldiers was a severe blow to India's security system. So India retaliated on 28.9.2016 and carried out its surgical strikes thereby destroying about 7 launchpads of terrorists in the PoK (Pak occupied Kashmir) area -killing over 50 terrorists.

Parrikar, the Defense Minister of India, has not conducted himself well. His taunting remark "Pakistan is still in comma after the surgical operations" is quite undiplomatic. Such a statement is too provocative.

India cannot choose its neighbours. It has to live with them by interacting, influencing and educating the people who matter in each and every bordering nation. That can only be done when the doors of interaction are kept wide open through cultural meetings, through academic exchanges etc. etc. But those Indians who have been demanding that Pak Artists, Pak Players, Pak Writers can not visit India are really doing a disservice to "Peace and Prosperity in South Asia". We must remember that Artists are not Terrorists.

The UN has miserably failed on the disarmament front. Several nations including all the 5 big powers and countries like India, Pakistan, North Korea are very much armed with deadly weapons including the nuclear bombs.

In the escalation of crisis between India and Pakistan, statesmanship of the highest order is now called for. Statesmanship, if played properly, can save the World from nuclear holocaust. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is already having the grip. The surgical strikes that India conducted have been lauded by US, Russia and several other countries. So our Prime minister must take the appropriate steps to inspire and convince leaders like Barack Obama and Vladimir Putin of Russia and go in for revamping the UN and converting it into World Government. All the leaders of the World should get persuaded to accept the line of thought outlined by eminent political scientist Prof. Harold J Laski way back in 1925.

Prof. Laski has discussed in his book : A Grammar of Politics (1925) the nuisance value of State Sovereignty or State Pride and he pleaded for total surrender or removal of State Sovereignty from the map of the World. No nation should stand on so-called "national pride". The concept of sovereignty should be totally surrendered. This must be done for the lasting benefit of mankind. Once the UN becomes the World State having its Democratic Global Government, all National Armies would stand disbanded. All the arms and ammunitions, all the nuclear weapons that are there with 5 big powers, with India, Pakistan & North Korea should be brought under the control of the World Government. The Jihadists (the suicide bombers) should be arrested and they should be properly educated so that they give up their hatred towards other people such as Hindus and others. The money and manpower being wasted in arms race, military preparedness would be surely put to better use.

The World War-II that ended in 1945 following dropping of atom bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki of Japan caused huge casualties – in the range of 35 – 60 million killed, including 6 million Jews that died in the holocaust. Millions of people got wounded and were rendered homeless throughout Europe and East Asia. Therefore the Freethought Party of India appeals to the Prime Minister of India Mr Narendra Modi to seize the opportunity and show thereby his highest degree of statesmanship to move the world leaders for converting the UN as the World State so as to prevent Nuclear Warfare and unimaginable destruction of life and property. This is the right road to immortality for any ambitious leader of 21st century, said Party General Secretary B. Ramchandra CST Voltaire in the press release issued on 6.10.2016.
