The Odisha CM paid humble tributes to the martyred Jawan Saroj Das after the latter's mortal remains arrived at Bhubaneswar airport on Saturday. A guard of honour was accorded to the martyred Odia Jawan.

Odia jawan Saroj Kumar Das was reportedly among 23 army personnel who went missing due to a flash flood in the Teesta River in North Sikkim. Odisha ministers have no value: State BJP president Bhubaneswar,(KCN):Odisha state BJP President, Manmohan Samal has launched a scathing attack on the state government over the existing state of affairs in governance. During his Kalahandi tour, Samal alleged that Odisha ministers and ruling party leaders have no value as they have turned puppets in the hands of the Secretary.

Samal further mocked the Secretary's tour to various districts in helicopters on people's money. The state BJP president said that Odisha is rich in natural resources and there is ample scope to make it the number 1 state in the country.

"The ministers are invisible and they are not allowed to hear people's grievances. The BJD is in a deplorable situation. The 5T Secretary is hearing the grievances instead of the elected ministers. BJP will form a government in Odisha with a comfortable margin," said Samal.

SJTA Submits Report On Srimandir Reforms To Law Department

Bhubaneswar(KCN): The Shree Jagannath Temple Administration (SJTA) has submitted its report to the Law Department, informing it about the steps taken for Srimandir reforms. The SJTA has done this in compliance with the directions of the Supreme Court. The SJTA in its report stated that a permanent chief administrator has been appointed and for the propagation of Jagannath Culture, a school and a Gurukul have been set up for the children of the servitors.

A plan is underway to construct a building to accommodate 60,000 pilgrims at a given time. On the other hand, the audit of the incomes and expenditures of the temple aren't being conducted, the list of the properties of the deities in and outside the state has not been prepared. So far, no rate chart of 'Abadha' has been put up in Ananda Bazar. Similarly, no steps has been taken to test the quality of the 'Mahaprasad', the report stated.

According to the report, the servitors have not been provided with identity cards for easy their identification. Similarly, no action is being taken against the unruly servitors who are responsible for ritual delay. The servitors' service that passed onto them from generations has not been abolished nor has the collection of donation money been stopped.

Similarly, suggestions regarding deities' rituals are not being taken from Jagatguru Shankaracharya. There is no system in place to ensure devotees' free and fair darshan of the deities. No estimation of the deities' moveable and immovable assets has been done. The last inventory of ornaments kept in the Ratna Bhandar was made in 1978 and no inventory has since been done. Notably, while hearing a petition filed by Mrinalini Padhi, a lawyer from Cuttack, the SC, on November 4, 2019, had directed the Shree Jagannath Temple Administration (SJTA) to appoint a permanent administrator of the managing committee while passing an interim judgment on Srimandir reforms.

5 Years of Stree: Abhishek Banerjee Aka Janna Says This Character's Journey Is Beyond His 'Wildest Imagination'

Actor Abhishek Banerjee, who essayed the role of Janna, Rajkumar Rao's friend in the horror-comedy film 'Stree', is celebrating the 5th anniversary of the film's release on Thursday. On the occasion, he said that the journey taken by his character has been beyond his wildest imagination. While his character started its journey with 'Stree', it also became a part of another horror-comedy 'Bhediya' starring Varun Dhawan and Kriti Sanon. Both these films belong to the horror-comedy universe along with 'Roohi'. In 'Bhediya' too, he played the role of the lead character's BFF. Talking about his character completing 5 years since its inception, Abhishek said: "Five years have passed since Janna came to life. The journey this character has taken has been beyond my wildest imagination. Starting with 'Stree' and expanding this character's universe, Janna's evolution has been remarkable." He added: "While I began my film journey with darker roles, portraying Janna gave me the opportunity to embrace the humorous facets of my craft. I have enjoyed every minute of playing Janna. I have related to this character and have connected well with it. I am elated with the love that audience has showered on me for playing Janna and equally excited that Janna is going to come back soon with 'Stree 2'." Meanwhile, the actor was recently seen in the crime-thriller series 'Aakhri Sach' along with actress Tamannaah Bhatia.

This particular genre has attracted many Bengali filmmakers earlier as there have been films that experimented with horror and comedy in the same story. But the number is quite less. Smile: A Precious Gift of Health, Prosperity and Stress Relief

The first Friday of every October i.e. 6th October this year is World Smile Day. The idea of World Smile Day is proposed by Harvey Ball, an American commercial artist from Worcester, Massachusetts. The iconic smiley face was created by him in 1963. Since then, it has captured everyone's attention to celebrate joy. The first Smile Day in 1999 was celebrated with enthusiasm and pomp without any hindrance, because a smile is an expression which contains solutions to many problems and troubles. In 2001, after Harvey passed away, the Harvey Ball World Smile Foundation was established as a tribute to the 'smiley' creator. According to Harvey Ball, the Massachusetts artist who founded this day, we should all dedicate one day every year to smiling and being kind to the whole world. Because the smiling face does not know any political, geographical or religious things. Instead of smiling just today, make it a habit to smile every day. This will not only ease your problems but your loved ones will also be happy to see you. Smiling is essential for good health, mental peace and overall development. Today's life is full of stress, unrest, worries and problems, there is a strong need for a smile. Because laughing and smiling is very helpful in everyone's physical, mental, emotional and intellectual development. Smiling is the key to success in our life, it is also the solution to many problems. Smile is a balm that heals the wounds of a sad heart. There is exercise for our face and rest for our mind. Research says that as we grow older, we smile less. We have become old because we have stopped smiling. Mother Teresa said, peace begins with a smile. Your happiness starts from your lips. This year on World Smile Day, don't forget to curl your lips a little. It will be contagious and create a positive environment around you. One mantra of health is to smile openly. We should smile and keep smiling no matter what happens is the mantra of a successful and meaningful life. But sometimes the whole day passes without a smile. There are clouds of sadness and restlessness, the sunshine of smiles cannot bloom. Smiling and laughing is such a positive emotion which makes not only the internal but also the external appearance of a person prosperous and effective. Smile is a powerful emotion which has the ability to energize a person and make the world peaceful. It affects the electro-magnetic field of the person and transmits positive energy to the person. When a person smiles in a group, his smile spreads positive energy in the entire environment. In today's stressful environment, people are forgetting their smile and laughter, resulting in inviting stress-related diseases like high blood pressure, diabetes, migraine, hysteria, madness, depression etc. Smiling increases energy and oxygen circulation. Smiling openly strengthens the components of the body. It also increases the speed of blood circulation in the body. Apart from this the digestive system functions more efficiently. That is why doctors also say that smiling is useful for patients suffering from every disease. Because by saying loudly and smiling, every part of the body gets movement. Due to this, the hormone

'Laughter is the shortest bridge to cross the distance between two people.' Laughing and smiling is such a producing system (endorphin gland) present in the body starts functioning smoothly, which is helpful in getting rid of many diseases. The people who make us smile through their words, actions and thoughts remain etched in our memories. We may like or dislike someone for many reasons. But in the long run, the people who deserve our love are those who make us laugh and bring a smile to our faces. Perhaps that is why Victor Borg says, precious gift, which nature has bestowed only on humans. Humor and smile are a universal language. It has the ability to integrate humanity irrespective of caste, religion, colour, gender. This is an initiative to connect man to man. Smiles and laughter are capable of creating a new world by connecting different communities. This idea may seem imaginary, but people have a deep belief that only laughter and smiles can unite the world. Both happiness and sorrow are two sides of a coin. If a person remains cheerful in both situations, his mind always remains under control and he can stay away from worries. Smiling brightens the soul. With this you not only get pleasure but also make others happy. Humour and smile is the enemy of pain, a sure cure for despair and anxiety and a panacea for sorrows. Laughing and smiling brings enthusiasm to the body and mind and smiling from the heart is no less than a medicine. Smile works as a great tonic. Prominent scholars and thinkers like Thackeray and Shakespeare have also confirmed that a happy person lives longer. There is a scale to measure the satisfaction of human soul, physical health and stability of intellect and that is the happiness on the face. Professor Sophie Scott of the University of London says, 'Through laughter, our subconscious mind signals that we are relaxed and feeling safe. Hotei was a disciple of Lord Buddha in Japan. He was a beggar of very humble nature. He believed in living life in a very detached and neutral manner.

Whatever work he was doing, he would become completely immersed in it. There is a belief in Japan that once Hotei became so enthralled while meditating that he started laughing and smiling loudly while meditating. Only after this amazing incident, people started addressing him by the name of Laughing Buddha. Traveling, exploring the country, giving smiles and happiness to people became the aim of the Laughing Buddha. Laughing Buddha is also known as Putai in China. Chinese people see him from the perspective of a beggar who, with a bag of money and grains in one hand, shows his big belly and slim body with a cheerful face and gives positive energy to everyone while smiling. He is also considered a messenger of prosperity and happiness and a symbol of removal of Vaastu defects in homes. In countries like Japan, people teach their children to laugh and smile right from the beginning, so that their future generation is capable and bright. Most of the countries of the world are afraid of terrorism; there is a chaos of panic and unrest inside every person. In such times, only a smile can spread positive energy across the world. Harvard University professor Teresa Amabile has said that our brain is most creative when we laugh. We should promote laughter and smiling not only in the family environment but also in the office. The office environment should be one of harmony and laughter, so that enthusiasm for work can be spread among the team. Smiling can prove effective for a beautiful face. Smiling increases the body's immunity, which increases a person's self-confidence. Medical experiments have found that smiling for 10 minutes results in two hours of deep sleep. People who smile become many friends and in this way the feeling of brotherhood and unity arises in them, we never realize when. Every human being is troubled by fear, insecurity and terrorism, and then the great need of 'Smile Day' is felt. Never before has this much unrest been seen in this world. In this busy, turbulent and stressful life, people should take out at least one day for them and smile with full heart.

India, a democratic country, has consistently fought for social justice and equality. Nevertheless, historically speaking, women have been underrepresented in politics. Women have had little political participation notwithstanding constitutional protections. By promoting reserved seats for women in the Indian Parliament and state legislative assemblies, the Women's Reservation Act (also known as "Nari Shakti Vandan Adhiniyam") seeks to address this problem. An important element of Indian law known as the Women's Reservation Act seeks to address the ongoing gender inequality in political representation. With the passage of this legislation, a certain number of seats in both the state legislative assemblies and the Lok Sabha (House of the People) will be set aside for women. India's Women's Reservation Bill has a rich and fascinating history that reflects the nation's shifting political climate, social dynamics, and dedication to gender equality. Its progression can be divided into several phases, each characterized by important advancements, discussions, and initiatives to achieve equal representation for women in the political sphere. The Women's Reservation Bill's main goal is to advance gender equality in politics by giving women a bigger voice in decision-making. The main elements of the bill are for 33% of the Lok Sabha (House of the People), the lower house of the Indian Parliament, and the state legislative assemblies to be reserved for women. This rotational reservation would guarantee that seats are allocated for women in a certain constituency. In addition, the law proposes to give women from these groups one-third of the seats allotted to Scheduled Castes (SC) and Scheduled Tribes (ST). The Women's Reservation Bill has its origins in the pre-independence era, when visionary leaders and social reformers first underlined the value of women's participation in politics. Leaders like Mahatma Gandhi, Sarojini Naidu, and Dr. B.R. Ambedkar promoted increased participation of women in the fight for independence and nation-building efforts following independence. The values of equality and non-discrimination were codified in the Constitution of India, which was established after India earned independence in 1947. The Constitution's Articles 14, 15, and 16 stressed the rights of women and the necessity of their fair representation in all walks of life, including politics. In the years following independence, numerous committees and commissions emphasized the importance of allocating seats in legislative bodies to women. One of the first groups to advocate for reservations for women was the Shantilal Shah Committee in 1958, followed by the National Committee on the Status of Women in 1974. In 1996, the Deve

Gowda government submitted a bill to grant 33% of the seats in the Lok Sabha and state legislative assemblies to women. This was the first formal proposal for women's representation in legislative bodies. The bill was, however, defeated because of vehement opposition from some political groups. The United Front government under Inder Kumar Gujral attempted to reintroduce the measure in 1997, however it was unsuccessful. The Atal Bihari Vajpayee administration then established a Joint Parliamentary Committee in 1998 to review the bill and make recommendations for action. The committee, however, was unable to agree, and the bill expired as a result. The Women's Reservation Bill [The Constitution (108th Amendment) Bill, 2008] introduction in the Rajya Sabha on May 6, 2008, was the most important step toward the Women's Reservation Act's passage. The Lok Sabha and state legislative assemblies were to have one-third of the seats reserved for women under the proposed bill. The bill's passing in the Rajya Sabha was a historic event that showed how committed the government is to advancing women in politics. Although the measure was approved by the Rajya Sabha, there was significant opposition and interruptions during its introduction in the Lok Sabha, which prevented a vote on the issue. In the years that followed, there were repeated attempts to present and consider the bill in both chambers of Parliament. However, there was still a lot of opposition to the law, and members opposed to the reservation disrupted many sessions. During a special session earlier this month, Parliament passed the Bill with near-unanimous support in the Lok Sabha and unanimous support in the Rajya Sabha and finally, after gaining approval from President Droupadi Murmu, the central government published a gazette notification on Friday, September 29 for the Nari Shakti Vandan Adhiniyam (Women's Reservation Bill).

This occurred following Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankhar's Thursday, September 28, signature on the Constitutional Amendment Bill. After it becomes law, this Act, officially called as the Constitution (106th Amendment) Act of 2023, will grant women a 33 percent reservation in the Lok Sabha and state legislatures. The Delimitation Commission is responsible with selecting which seats will moving forward be reserved for women, according to Union Law Minister Arjun Ram Meghwal. The National Capital Territory (NCT) of Delhi and the seats set aside for members of the SC and ST castes in the Lok Sabha and state legislatures are also included in the scope of this reservation benefit. The amendments to Article 239-AA, part of an ongoing effort to enhance representation and inclusivity in the Legislative Assembly of Delhi, have taken a significant step towards promoting gender and caste diversity in the political landscape. The amendments stipulate that a portion of seats within the Assembly will be reserved for women, aiming to strengthen their presence in decision-making processes. Specifically, 1/3rd of the seats allocated for Scheduled Castes will now be reserved for women, further bolstering their participation in legislative affairs. Additionally, a similar 1/3rd reservation has been extended to seats filled through direct elections, encompassing not only women in general but also those from the Scheduled Castes. Parallel changes have been introduced at the national level as well. Article 330-A now mandates a 1/3rd reservation of seats in the Lok Sabha for women, particularly focusing on women belonging to Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. The provision extends to 1/3rd of seats filled by direct elections, further amplifying female representation. Similar amendments have been made for state legislative assemblies under Article 332-A, affirming the commitment to enhancing gender inclusivity and empowering women in the political sphere. To ensure equitable opportunities, a rotational system for seats will be implemented following the delimitation exercise. These provisions, while marking a significant stride towards achieving a more representative democracy, are set to expire after a 15-year period from the commencement of the Act. India's Women's Reservation Act is an important step toward achieving gender equality and strengthening women in politics. It serves as a ray of hope, working to remove obstacles that have traditionally prevented women from participating in politics. The importance of this bill in furthering democracy and social fairness cannot be emphasized, even though the path ahead may be difficult. Women must play a big and influential role in determining the future of the country, therefore balancing concerns and improving its provisions will be essential.

"Not Shifting AAP MP Sanjay Singh To Police Station Lockup": Probe Agency To Court

New Delhi(KCN): The Enforcement Directorate (ED) informed Delhi's Rouse Avenue District Court on Saturday that it has no intention of shifting Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) leader and Rajya Sabha MP Sanjay Singh to the lockup of Tughlak Road Police Station since the pest control work in the ED office's lockup is completed. Special judge Vikas Dhull, after noting the submission of ED, disposed of the application of Sanjay Singh as infructuous. "In light of submissions made by LD. Special Counsel for ED, the application filed by applicant/accused has become infructuous and stands disposed of accordingly," the court ordered. An application was moved on behalf of Sanjay Singh saying that the Enforcement Directorate officials tried to shift from the premises of ED to Police Station Tughlak Road on purported grounds where he could be tortured. Sanjay Singh through his legal counsels Dr. Farrukh Khan and Prakash Priyadarshi raised the issue of his safety and security. The petition stated that when Mr Singh asked for the reason for shifting, he was told that the purported reason for shifting was the use of pesticides in the lockup of ED headquarters. Mr Singh further claimed that it's beyond comprehension that a premier agency has only one lockup. He said that even if pesticide was used in the lockup then he should have been shifted to another lockup in the ED HQ. When he resisted the attempt, he was made to sleep outside the lockup and subjected to inhuman treatment, the petition stated. A short notice was issued to ED on the application. During arguments on the application, ED's Special

Counsel submitted that the agency has no intention of shifting the applicant/accused to the lockup at PS Tuglak Road since work of pesticide control at the lockup in the ED office stands completed. It was also submitted that pest control measures were taken in lockup at the ED's office, which was planned on 03.10.2023 i.e. prior to sending of the present applicant/accused in ED custody on 05.10.2023. It was further submitted that since the applicant/accused had refused to be shifted to the other place due to pesticide treatment in the lockup room, therefore his consent was taken in writing for keeping him in an interrogation room at the ED office. On Thursday, the court had sent Sanjay Singh to remand till October 10, 2023, in connection with the Delhi excise policy case. The ED on Wednesday evening arrested Sanjay Singh after a day-long questioning by the ED officials at his Delhi residence. Allegedly, Sanjay Singh's party colleague and former Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia is also involved in the same liquor policy scam. He is currently lodged in jail in connection with the same. The former Delhi Deputy chief minister and excise minister was first arrested by the CBI on February 26 for his alleged role in the scam. The federal agency on Wednesday morning raided the residence of Sanjay Singh in connection with the Delhi excise policy case. The development followed closely on the heels of the ED's raid on the premises belonging to two of Sanjay Singh's close aides in the same context. The case connects with claims that Mr Singh and his partners played a part in the Delhi government's decision to give licenses to alcohol shops and merchants in 2020, causing losses to the state exchequer and violating anti-corruption laws. ED has previously searched a number of locations including the homes and offices of Sanjay Singh's close associate Ajit Tyagi and other contractors and businessmen who allegedly benefited from the policy. In its nearly 270-page supplementary chargesheet, the ED has called Mr Sisodia a key conspirator in the case. The Delhi liquor scam or the excise policy case pertains to allegations that the Arvind Kejriwal-led Delhi government's excise policy for 2021-22 allowed cartelisation and favoured certain dealers who had allegedly paid bribes for it, a charge that has been strongly refuted by the AAP. ED has so far filed five chargesheets in the case, including against Mr Sisodia. The ED on Wednesday evening arrested Sanjay Singh after a day-long questioning by the ED officials at his Delhi residence. New Delhi(KCN): Seven people were arrested for allegedly stealing valuables from passengers' bags at the IGI Airport in Delhi and recovered several items, including luxury watches, police said on Saturday. The accused have been identified as Manoj Kumar, Hari Darshan, Balwinder, Praveen Kumar, Sanjeev Kumar, Subodh and Satish Kumar Verma, they said. Gold jewellery, currency of five countries, two Apple AirPods, a pair of Ray-Ban sunglasses and two luxury watches -- a Rado and a De Grisogono -- were recovered from the accused. The case stems from a complaint registered at IGI Airport police station by Punjab native Paramjeet Kaur. Paramjeet Kaur said she arrived in Delhi from Melbourne on September 16 and was to take a connecting flight to Amritsar, a senior police officer said. Before boarding her flight to Amritsar, when her baggage was found to be overweight, she opened her bags and adjusted the articles. However, when she reached home, she found the gold items in her bags missing. Deputy Commissioner of Police (IGI Airport) Devesh Kumar Mahla said. During investigation, the police scanned footage from CCTV cameras and interrogated the loaders working that shift. A video sent by Hari Darshan was found in Manoj Kumar's mobile phone in which he can be heard saying "this jewellery is fake, nobody will get anything for this", Devesh Mahla said. Following this development, Manoj Kumar and Hari Darshan admitted to stealing the gold jewellery and selling it to a jeweller. They also admitted to stealing several items from the bags of other passengers. They claimed that staff of different airlines helped them steal the articles. Later, the police arrested five more people in this connection, the officer said. The police have found that the airlines are not following the periodic guidelines issued by the Bureau of Civil Aviation Security and letters from the Delhi Police, he said. Investigations revealed that some higher officials of the airline concerned connived with the accused and their roles are also under the scanner. Officials of the airline are also being interrogated, the police said. The accused managed the airline's security officer to give them a wide berth while they loaded and unloaded baggage from aircraft, the police said. They roped in the duty officer, whose job was to assign duties to the loaders, to deploy the accused only in the holding area, they said. Investigation is underway to get a clearer picture about their complete involvement. As a result, no one from the airline has been arrested yet, the police said. Manoj Kumar, the kingpin of the gang, specialised in identifying bags that might contain valuables. Hari Darshan and Balwinder were loaders and they used to dispose of the jewellery. Praveen Kumar, another loader, diverted the attention of officials during search-and-frisk, the police said. Sanjeev Kumar and Subodh, both loaders, handed the baggage over slowly for loading and unloading. Satish Kumar Verma is the jeweller who purchased the stolen jewellery from the accused, they said.

Air Quality Concerns As Punjab Stubble-Burning Returns Ahead Of Winter

New Delhi(KCN): The fields of Punjab are again black with burnt stubble ahead of winter. The air is smoky, likely toxic. The Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) government in Delhi had blamed Punjab's farm fires for air pollution in the National Capital Region (NCR) in 2021. A year later, the AAP came to power in Punjab, and had promised it would control stubble burning. Now, two years later, stubble-burning in the border state is back again. Sources said the AAP has not done any effective work to ensure the deadly farm fires do not return. Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann, calling himself the "son of a farmer", had met farmer leaders to persuade them not to burn crop stubble. He had claimed many panchayats in Punjab even passed resolutions against burning of crop residue. His Delhi counterpart and AAP chief Arvind Kejriwal last year said, "I expect that from next year, stubble burning incidents will come down. We will take steps to ensure this.

Both our governments are responsible for stubble-burning in Punjab." This year, Mr Kejriwal said case of stubble-burning have fallen significantly. But Punjab farmers are back to burning crop residue at the onset of the harvesting season. Many farmers have complained that access to crushing machines like bailers and seeders are still unfulfilled goals. Mr Mann's call for crop diversification, too, has not been helpful as alternative crops are still expensive for farmers to afford. The farmers say they are not behind air pollution, but are also the victims of this menace. Though farm fire cases have reduced in the past two years, over 30,000 acres were still set on fire last year. The number of farm fire cases reported in the past two years till now was: 2021 (320), 2022 (630) and 2023 (845). The number of stubble-burning cases reported between September and October this year is as high as 845, up from less than 600 last year. Delhi's air quality has fallen from "poor" to

"very poor" category, and the particulate matter PM2.5 levels are 60 times more than the World Health Organisation's safe limit. The graded action response plan (GARP) level 1 has kicked in and the impact in Delhi is clearly visible. The first stage of the emergency pollution plan has led to a blanket ban on coal and firewood and restriction on truck traffic in Delhi. The Air Quality Index (AQI) in Delhi was recorded at 231 at 9 am. An AQI between zero and 50 is considered 'good', 51 and 100 'satisfactory', 101 and 200 'moderate', 201 and 300 'poor', 301 and 400 'very poor', and 401 and 500 'severe'.

Swadesh Darshan 2.0 boost to Koraput tourism

BHUBANESWAR (KCN) : Work on various components of tourism development in Koraput under the Swadesh Darshan 2.0 scheme will begin within the next three to six months. The Ministry of Tourism, which is implementing the scheme, is in the final stage of signing an agreement with Odisha Tourism and the project development and management consultant, informed the regional director (East) at the Ministry of Tourism Sagnik Chowdhury. The district, replete with tourism products including Deomali, Kolab, Machkund, and Jolaput, is the only destination in Odisha to have been selected under the Central scheme this year. The proposal to include the district in the scheme was sent by Odisha Tourism. Chowdhury said under the project, work will be carried out to highlight both tangible and intangible heritage of Koraput, apart from its tourism prospects. "Under the physical components, tourism amenities like tourist interpretation centres, accommodation units, public amenities, gazebos, solar lighting, among other things, will come up at all tourist places," he said. Koraput despite being popular for its beautiful hills, waterfalls and other sites, does not have sufficient infrastructure for visitors. Sources said during tourist season, the district gets around three lakh domestic visitors and around 1,500 foreign tourists. Similarly, under the software component of the scheme, tourism stakeholders will be imparted training on marketing and communication. SHGs and communities will also be trained on ways to manage tourism products and generate revenue. Chowdhury said the comprehensive development plan of Koraput is centred around Deomali Hill - the highest mountain peak of Odisha. The Centre had launched the Swadesh Darshan scheme in 2014-15. While Swadesh Darshan 1.0 focused on the development of circuit-based tourism across the country, version 2 of the scheme focuses on the development of destinations.

Under Swadesh Darshan 1.0, Odisha was given Rs 67.28 crore for the development of a coastal circuit comprising Gopalpur-Tampara-Barkul-Satapada in 2016-17. As per reports, the state has so far utilised Rs 63.25 crore so far and the project is 94.7 per cent completed. Meanwhile, sources said Odisha Tourism officials are also considering the inclusion of another district in the Swadesh Darshan 2.0 scheme. The ministry had asked every state to name two districts under the scheme.

Support For Senior Citizens

Bhubaneswar(KCN): With an aim to support senior citizen associations to earn their livelihood, the State Government has decided to distribute one time assistance of Rs 50,000 at each district under Abadana scheme. According to official sources, the self help groups (SHGs) registered with District Social Security Offices along with Vridha Sanghas and senior citizen associations would also be provided with one time aid of Rs 50,000 for initial activity support and start-up capital. Senior citizens in difficult situations often fail to raise their voice and earn their livelihood at individual capacities and are forced to live in acute problems. Such situations at times become fatal for them. Senior citizens can address their problems and day to day needs through organized efforts and sharing of responsibilities among them. So, the support is provided to senior citizen associations and Self Help Groups of senior citizens at different levels for mobilization of the senior citizens, articulate their interests, promote and undertake programmes and activities for their well being, the source said. It has been decided to make registered senior citizen Self-Help Groups / Associations functional and self-sufficient at each district level across the State. Therefore, the Department of Social Security and Empowerment of Persons with Disability (SSEPD) has asked all districts to submit a detailed report of every registered senior citizen Self-Help Groups / Associations and their expertise in various non-laborious / unchallenging skills. The State Government had launched the Abadana scheme in 2017 to improve the quality of life of the older persons by providing basic amenities like shelter, food, medical care and entertainment opportunities. Under the scheme, the State undertakes outreach activities for welfare of senior citizens and creates facilities for providing comprehensive rehabilitation services to the vulnerable elderly. Through this scheme, the Government also encourages voluntary action and participation of all stakeholders to ensure effective implementation of the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007 and both national and state policies for senior citizens.

Tata Steel Empowers Tulasi

Joda(KCN): In the mining-rich Joda region, the Tata Steel Foundation (TSF) has been actively fostering transformation and inclusive growth. The story of Tulasi Lohar, an 18-year-old from Guali village in Joda block, exemplifies this commitment. Tulasi, one of six siblings in a mining family, aspired to higher education and the prospect of a stable career. The family faced financial challenges, and skill education opportunities were scarce in their village, Guali. Undeterred, Tulasi convinced her father to enrol her in +2 Arts at Joda Women's College. An important moment arrived when Tata Steel Foundation (TSF) and NIIT launched a nearby skill development centre. Tulasi, recommended by the NIIT team, eagerly enrolled in English foundation and Basic IT courses. Despite a daily long trek to attend classes, Tulasi displayed unwavering dedication, mastering computer skills, MS Office, internet usage, data entry, bill payments, online ordering, and job interview preparation. She also gained confidence in English communication. Tulasi's commitment extended to inspiring others through the Change Maker Life skill sessions, promoting the importance of IT skills in surrounding communities. An opportunity arose when a job vacancy for Gramma Panchayat Community Member (GPCM) emerged at the Aspire Company, an NGO partner of TSF. Despite ongoing studies, Tulasi applied with guidance from the centre team and secured the position through her interview success.

Tulasi, accompanied by her grateful father, visited the centre to express their appreciation to the Tata Steel Foundation and the NIIT Skill Development Centre. Tulasi's words reflect her gratitude: "I am thankful to the Tata Steel Foundation (TSF), the NIIT Skill Development Centre, and the team. They made my life better and gave me the power to do more." Tata Steel Foundation remains steadfast in its mission to empower individuals like Tulasi, contributing to the growth and prosperity of Joda's communities.

Emcure launches EmVocal campaign to raise awareness on Anaemia

Pune: To raise awareness on important women's health issues around Anaemia, Breastfeeding and Menstruation, pharma major Emcure Pharmaceuticals has launched the EmVocal initiative. It is an awareness campaign that has been launched in association with the Federation of Obstetrics and Gynaecologists of India (FOGSI). Policybazaar findings indicate a higher propensity to purchase insurance in tier-2 & 3 cities after the Covid outbreak Bhubaneswar: Policybazaar, one of India's largest online insurance marketplaces, conducted an online survey to understand the changing consumer sentiment towards insurance purchase, household finances and investments over the last two years of the pandemic. Policybazaar surveyed 5000 consumers to closely understand the behavioral shift in insurance buying trends. Interestingly, the findings revealed a growing level of propensity to buy insurance, especially in tier-2 and 3 cities of India. At 89%, the highest number of respondents willing to renew their health cover belong to tier-2 cities, as compared to 77% from tier-1. Similar trends were observed in term insurance, where 59% of respondents who want to increase their coverage belong to tier-3 cities, as compared to 26% from tier-1 cities. The survey results clearly point towards the sense of urgency spurred by the pandemic with respect to insurance awareness across the country. The pandemic has definitely given the cognitive push when it comes to health insurance purchase. Out of the respondents who had contracted Covid, 25%*were hospitalized. We found out that 18% of them ended up spending over Rs 15 lakhs, and 22% were not adequately covered by their existing policy. Also, it is disquieting to see that 13% of those who got Covid did not have health insurance in place. These figures clearly demonstrate that one should opt for at least Rs 15-20 lakhs coverage for each family member. However, health insurance purchase trends definitely drive positive optimism. As many as 62% of the total respondents had an active policy and didn't just depend on their corporate cover. The figures also vouched for the fact that Covid had acted as a catalyst in health insurance purchase. While 50% of these policies were bought after Covid first wave, 41% were purchased after the Delta wave. Also, 80% of these policies were family floater plans, thereby revealing a higher inclination towards ensuring sufficient coverage for the entire family.

Dravid bats for ODI cricket, hopes to see format thrive

New Delhi: Vast swathes of empty saffron seats marked the opening game of the ominously numbered 13th men's ODI World Cup in Ahmedabad on Thursday, setting off among other topics, a fresh round of debate about the impending slow death of the 50-over format. While proclamations about the format being on ventilator support may be premature at this juncture, there was an acknowledgement from India head coach Rahul Dravid that the sport wouldn't go back to playing as many games in this 'middle' format as they once did.

Dravid, who played as many as 344 ODIs in a 15-year career, hopes the format will continue to be played and valued considering how it still packs in a lot of nuanse in its 100-overs of run time.

The statistics lay bare the trend. Since the 2019 World Cup, the full members played a total of 250 ODIs before the England - New Zealand opener on Thursday. The corresponding number in the previous World Cup cycle (2015 - 2019) was 429. In fact, with a total of 367 T20Is in the recent four-year stretch, for the first time there were more T20Is played than ODIs, a significant metric of the changing times.

India's numbers too conform to this trend. They played the most number of ODIs heading to the marquee event at home -- 66 -- but even that is still 20 short of the number they played between the World Cups in Australia and England. There is a caveat to the 66 games India have played in that there have been occasions when they've sent out a second squad concurrently or played a second-string side amid commitments in the other two formats which have had two world events each in the interim.

"I mean we haven't played a lot of 50-overs cricket over the last couple of years, that's one of the things that I have kind of noticed over the couple of years that I have been the coach of the team. Because there were two T20 World Cups that happened and there is always the World Test Championship at the back of every team that you are doing, it's a cycle that goes on," Dravid observed, two days out from the start of India's World Cup campaign.

"Sometimes, this format over the last couple of years, maybe it's because of Covid, I can't exactly say, but it's just felt like we haven't played a lot of ODI cricket and even when we played it, except over the last few months, we are probably prioritising other things and having to protect our players and manage our players maybe in this format.

"Going forward, I think it's still an important format, it's a fantastic format to play. Obviously how much of it is played will be decided by a variety of factors... Obviously with more and more T20 cricket being added on to the calendar, it will make it difficult to potentially have the same number of one-day games that you probably are used to seeing between the 2015 and 2019 calendar. I don't think we will ever go back to those days but I sincerely hope that we still keep valuing and playing this format..." Dravid cited the example of Mohammed Siraj's seven-over spell in the recent Asia Cup Final as well as the Devon Conway - Rachin Ravindra partnership in Ahmedabad to illustrate the fine distinction of the format. "I mean that was really top-class bowling of six [7] overs. In a T20 game you never see that, you would have bowled one or two overs or maybe three overs on a good day.

"But here you got to see a full gamut of his skills and his abilities which I think one-day cricket allows you to do that, allows you to see great spells, it still allows you to see good innings like that we saw from both those left-handers [Conway and Ravindra], it allows to you see a lot of good spin, rotation of strike and a lot of creativity. As a coach and as someone who loves the game of cricket, I want to see this format thrive and do well."

Games at this year's World Cup in India could add to Dravid's 'full gamut of skill' assertion with different venues across the length and breadth of the country potentially offering varied challenges. Dravid said it was difficult to put down a number and that adapting to different conditions will be more crucial than reading the pitches right themselves.

"That's going to be the beauty of this World Cup. So many venues that these matches are going to be played in. So many different wickets on those venues, to be honest some of the squares, you have red soil, black soil, you have a mix of red and black. Each one is going to be unique. I don't think you can go and say that this is going to be a safe total, that's not going to be a safe total. You've got to just have to adapt and react based on those conditions.

"Ground sizes will be different. We'll probably play on a relatively bigger ground here in Chennai compared to say when we go to Bangalore or when we go to Delhi. Each venue will be different, we'll just have to assess and see what it's like.

"I don't think that this World Cup is going to be decided by whether you read the pitch correctly, it's going to be decided on the way you play on those pitches, on the variety of conditions that you are going to get. I think adaptability is going to be a huge challenge in this World Cup and how teams adapt to various venues, conditions and pitches and various bowling that they will have to face. And I think [that] will probably decide how successful teams are."

India celebrate their gold-medal win

Indian Cricket Team Wins Gold In Asian Games 2023 Despite Final Against Afghanistan Being Called Off Due To Rain

New Delhi: In a dramatic turn of events, the Indian men's cricket team clinched the gold medal at the Asian Games 2023, despite the much-anticipated final against Afghanistan being called off due to persistent rain in Hangzhou. While cricket enthusiasts were left disappointed by the rain interruption, India's superior ranking in the tournament secured them the top spot on the podium.

The much-awaited final was set to be a thrilling encounter between India and Afghanistan at the Pingfeng Campus Cricket Field in Hangzhou. The toss favoured India, who opted to bowl, hoping to exploit the overcast conditions. However, as the match progressed, rain clouds gathered, casting a shadow of uncertainty over the proceedings.

Afghanistan, batting first, managed to post a total of 112 runs for the loss of 5 wickets in 18.2 overs. Shahidullah Kamal played a crucial knock of 49 not out from 43 balls, steering Afghanistan's innings with three fours and two sixes. However, the rain disrupted their momentum, leaving them with an unfinished innings.

The Indian bowlers, led by Arshdeep Singh and Shivam Dube, showcased their skill in the challenging conditions. Arshdeep Singh claimed one wicket for 17 runs, while Shivam Dube contributed with a wicket for just four runs. Despite their efforts, the rain forced an early end to the game.

As the rain continued to pour, the umpires had no choice but to declare the match as

"no result" due to the unplayable conditions. This decision disappointed fans from both sides who were eager to witness a thrilling contest between two cricketing powerhouses.

While the rain may have washed away the chance for a nail-biting finish, it couldn't dampen India's spirits. The Indian cricket team was declared the winner and awarded the gold medal due to their higher ranking in the tournament. This victory added another accolade to India's rich cricketing history.

The Indian cricket team's gold medal win at the Asian Games 2023 will go down in history as a triumph despite the disappointment of a rain-affected final. India's superior performance throughout the tournament deservedly earned them the top spot on the podium.

Hathurusinghe laments the absence of key players

New Delhi: Bangladesh head coach Chandika Hathurusingha admitted that they are missing the experience of two seasoned campaigners- Tamim Iqbal and Liton Kumar Das- at the top in the ongoing Asia Cup and stated that replacing them is a big challenge for any team.

Bangladesh's veteran left-handed opener Tamim missed the tournament due to back issues while Liton was replaced by Anamul Haque as he failed to recover from his fever in time.

The experience of the duo- Tamim (241 ODIs) and Liton (72 ODIs) was something the tourists missed badly in their opening game against Sri Lanka as the co-hosts humbled them by five wickets, courtesy a batting debacle for the Tigers.

Bangladesh opted to open with young Mohammad Naim and uncapped Tanzid Tamim but they failed to fill the vacuum created at the top, making 16 and 0 respectively with the latter hardly looking comfortable during his brief stay at the wicket. However, Hathurusingha chose not to grumble at the current scenario and backed his young side to ride the challenges at hand.

"Losing that much of experience at the top of the order, it's a big challenge for any team," Hathurusingha told reporters ahead of their do-or-die game against Afghanistan.

"We can't do anything when both of them one is sick and the other is injured. We can't do anything about it. But we back player we have over here. Certainly, they are talented, that's why they are picked," he said adding that if the wicket and condition are different they might go for different options that suggest changes might come at the top of the order if team management feels it that way.

"We haven't seen the wicket yet. If the wicket condition is different, then we will think about different combination," he said.

Hathurusingha added that they are well aware that they will be challenged by the Afghan bowlers whom he considered one of the best in the business but added that his charges are well aware what to expect from their opponent as they are familiar with them due to playing each other quite regularly.

"Afghanistan have one of the best bowling attacks in world cricket especially in limited over cricket. They have two really world class spinners and decent seamers," said Hathurusingha.

"So it's definitely a challenge, but we have played them recently and our players had some success. It all depends on how you perform on the day. We are very much aware of the challenge," he said.

"We are well aware of their threat and we played them recently in ODI and T20I as well," he said adding that he is confident to make a comeback in their do-or-die game.

"This game (against Afghanistan) is very important because of what happened in the last game against Sri Lanka. We know that it is a must-win game. We certainly didn't play to our potential in the last game and we didn't represent ourselves well enough. But we are confident we will bring our 'A game' against Afghanistan," he concluded.

Meanwhile, Afghanistan skipper Hasmatullah Shahidi urged the middle-order batters to come good in the Asia Cup as feels they are not delivering consistently and felt that it is hampering their progress as a batting unit.

"We have a very good batting lineup. In some of the recent series, our middle-order was not up to the mark like the way our team management, coach, me wanted. We talked about that in the team meetings and worked on that as well," said Shahidi.

"I don't think so (that bowling is our major strength). Our bowling is our strength but our batting has also improved. As I have mentioned before, some of the youngsters that come to the team like Ibrahim, Gurbaz and Rahmat. So our batting is also strong," he said.

"But what happened in the last two series, we collapsed in two games and we have talked about it in the team meetings. We will try not to do it again," he said adding that familiar condition will help their cause in Lahore.

"I believe that our middle order will do well and also in Lahore it is more similar like Afghanistan pitches like we play domestic cricket in the same kind of pitches. So that will help us. This is also an extra advantage with our team," he concluded.
